NIBS PRICE QUITS JOB

Coach of Bears Resigns Post

Possible Dissension Prompts Football and Basketball Mentor to Drop Out

Arlett, Militant Student Editor, Reinstated by Executive Committee

BERKELEY (Cal.) Nov. 24. (AP)—C. M. (Nibs) Price resigned as head football and basketball coach of the University of California tonight. The student executive committee accepted his resignation "with regrets."

Price explained his resignation as the "only way to prevent the dissension that was bound to follow the present unsuccessful football season."

The executive committee simultaneously announced it reinstated Arthur Arlett, militant student editor whose comments on the football situation recently threw California football circles into a turmoil.

The committee, whose action is final, voted to pay Price his salary for next year, which would have been the final year under his contract.

EARNS HONORS

The athletic committee was directed to obtain new coaches and expected to try to retain Price as basketball coach, in which position he had built up a name for himself in Pacific Coast collegiate circles.

"My resignation was due to my belief that it was the only way to prevent the dissension that was bound to follow the present unsuccessful football season," Price said. "The way is more open for discussion free from embarrassment, due to personalities. No coach can hope for success without the support of public opinion as represented by the student body.

"Since it has been made apparent that their support is lacking in my case, no other course consistent with the good of the university was open to me than to resign.

"I desire to express my sincere appreciation for the loyalty of my staff and of the boys whom I have had the privilege of coaching. To my successor, I wish the utmost success."

COACH SINCE 1926

Price had been football coach since 1926, prior to which he was line coach under Andy Smith, builder of California's "wonder teams" and head football coach.

During the present season his team was defeated four times, by Washington State, Washington, Southern California and Stanford.

The executive committee passed two resolutions in accepting the coach's resignation, as follows:

"The committee accepts

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 24. [To the Editor of The Times:] Everybody is saying that the trouble with the country is that people are saving instead of spending. Well, if that's a vice, then I am Einstein. Since when did saving become a national calamity? Well, I know it's terrible for a nonauthority like me to tell you to go contrary to expert advice, but I am telling you if you got a dollar, soak it away, put it in a savings bank, bury it, do anything but spend it. Spending when we didn't have it put us where we are today. Saving when we have got it will get us back to where we was before we went cuckoo.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

TAX DISPUTE SETTLED

Government Will Lose Millions

Community Property Ruling Allows Separate Returns by Husband and Wife

Arizona, Louisiana, Texas and Washington Affected by High Court's Findings

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A controversy rooted in ancient Spanish law was settled by the Supreme Court today with a consequent loss to the government of more than $100,000,000 in taxes.

The highest tribunal ruled income from community property in Arizona, Louisiana, Texas and Washington may be reported for Federal taxation by the husband and wife separately.

This is a sweeping defeat for the government, which had contended such income must be reported in a single return by the husband alone.

It had pointed out that with the tax rate increasing in proportion to the amount of income, its revenue would be much greater under the single return.

If it had won, government attorneys said, the Treasury would be more than $100,000,000 richer through the collection of back tax-

ELEMENTS IN COMBAT

Snow Fights Fire in Midwest

Indiana Forests Burn as Winter Blankets North Central States

Colorado Motorist Freezes and Blizzard Rages in Nebraska

BY JOHN P. CALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Winter reached out a frigid hand over the Middle West and plains States today, bringing below-freezing temperatures, high winds and gales and snowstorms that by tonight had covered the North Central States with a blanket of snow. In some place the snowstorms assumed near-blizzard proportions.

The official weather forecast for the Middle West tonight was "snow over the North Central States east of the Mississippi and in Michigan and Eastern Indiana."

FOREST FIRES

Indiana suffered not only from storms, but from forest fires as well, which partly destroyed some valuable orchard lands. A rather heavy snow fell throughout the State during the day, but it had no effect on the blazing fires, which in less than twenty-four hours consumed 2000 acres of forest. The Morgan-Monroe State Park was menaced tonight by two big fires, which, driven by high winds, were spreading in both Brown and Morgan counties. Other fires were at Paragon, Morgantown, Hindustan and Waverly. The land burned contained many fruit orchards which have suffered a loss estimated tonight at $150,000.

At Pana, Ill., today the mercury dropped 30 deg. as frigid gales turned a heavy rainstorm into snow, which fell all day. That section of Illinois is wrapped in real winter blasts tonight. Over an inch of snow fell at Quincy, where temperatures tonight are below the freezing point.

MOTORIST FOUND DEAD

Farther west in the region from O'Neil, Neb., west to Kilgore, according to reports received here late today, snowstorms approaching blizzard intensity raged during the day. Other reports stated that motorists were stalled at O'Neil in deep snow and were unable to proceed toward Norfolk. A high northwest wind was drifting it badly, reports said, and trains were running considerably behind schedule as a result.

A motorist identified as a Mr. Pennock of Kearney, Neb., was found frozen to death in his automobile stalled in the snow near Hugo, Colo., and a relief party started out from Hugo late today to aid forty other automobiles stalled on the highways.

WIRES CRIPPLED

Reports from South Dakota said wire communication was crippled and that Aberdeen was without telephone service and had only one telegraph line working.

Snow and some sleet fell in the Chicago area. Temperatures sank below the freezing point in mid-afternoon and continued to fall steadily during the evening. There was one death directly attributable to the cold.

Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota reported snowstorms and low temperatures and high winds, but no serious damage was mentioned.

Northwest storm warnings were displayed on Lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron and shippers were warned to protect against minimum temperatures to the northeast of 12 deg., west and north 15 deg. and east and south, 22 deg.

VETERANS' CASH PLAN PONDERED

House Committee's Head Studies Possible Effect on Widows and Orphans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Proposals to pay in cash adjusted compensation certificates of World War veterans, requiring an outlay of $3,500,000,000, are being studied by Chairman Johnson of the House Veterans' Committee.

About $700,000,000 has been appropriated for retirement of the certificates as they come due.

Referring to suggestions the large amount of money put in circulation through payment of the certificates would help relieve the business depression, Johnson said "there is some question whether the money should not be retained to benefit widows and orphans, but on the other hand some veterans are in such physical condition that cash payments in this emergency might do them and their families more good."

CANADIAN LOST PLANE WRECKED

Long-Missing Machine of Capt. Burke Sighted From Air by Searcher

JUNEAU (Alaska) Nov. 24. (AP)—Reports here today from White Horse, Yukon, said Pilot E. L. Wasson had discovered the wrecked plane of Capt. E. J. A. Burke and two companions missing since October 11, last, in the headwaters of the Liard River in Yukon Territory.

The reports, which arrived here via Skagway, Alaska, said Wasson returned to White Horse, his headquarters, without further investigation because of shortage of gasoline. He reported the wreckage indicated Burke and his companions were forced down.

Wasson said he would return as soon as possible to within about fifteen miles of the wreckage and make his way to the plane by foot. Roughness of the country would prevent his landing near the plane, he said.

Litvinoff and Grandi Confer

MILAN (Italy) Nov. 24. (AP)—Maxim Litvinoff, Russian Foreign Minister, who left Geneva yesterday, where he had been attending the disarmament conference, held an unofficial conference here today with Dino Grandi, Italian Foreign Minister.

Their conversation, according to official sources, concerned "their ideas regarding political and economical questions interesting to the two countries and development of relations between their countries."

Chicago Police Fight Radicals

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Fifty radicals clashed with police today when they sought to invade the City Council meeting. Several women fainted as police forced them along the corridor and out the entrance.

Shouts of "We want work! We want bread!" resounded in the halls.

Home Cooking by Warmth of Sun Forecast

TORONTO, Nov. 24. (AP)—The bright day may come when Mrs. Housewife won't have to bend over a hot fire to cook that steak for supper. She'll just hitch her oven to the sun and let it go at that.

That, with a little stretch of the imagination, was the hope held out by Dr. C. G. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, in an address before the Royal Canadian Institute.

Cooking has been carried on with great success by use of solar heat, he said, adding that there is great hope that engines driven by power from the sun may be a practical outcome.

Fifteen Injured in Peru Rioting

LIMA, Nov. 24. (AP)—Fifteen persons were wounded this afternoon in rioting among Communist and other groups, principally the Civil party, as an outgrowth of last week's Cabinet shake-up.

The fight began as 400 members of the Civil party convened in San Martin Square to express their loyalty to Provisional President Cerro, but at the same time to protest his choice of a Cabinet. The Communists were there at the same time and sought to hold a meeting of their own. In the resultant fighting stones, clubs and revolvers were used.

Ford Flyers Die in Crash

DETROIT, Nov. 24. (AP)—Two employees of the Ford Motor Company were killed when their trimotored experimental plane crashed in flames on the Ford airport at Dearborn today.

The dead are Myron E. Zeller, 24 years of age, of Dearborn, the pilot, and Carl Wenzel, 30, of River Rouge, mechanic.

Zeller managed to bring the plane to the earth nearly at the center of the field after their flaming descent had been witnessed by hundreds of persons.

SPAIN HUNTS FOR FRANCO

Ocean Flyer Jailed for Criticising Government in Writings Flees After Breaking Promise

MADRID, Nov. 24. (AP)—Civil guards along all the roads leading out of Madrid were peering into every automobile and poking bayonets into every load of hay, for Maj. Ramon Franco, the idol of Spain, who escaped from his cell in an old prison on the outskirts of Madrid.

Ramon Franco is Spain's best aviator. He flew to Brazil in 1926 and last year he tried it again, came down in the ocean and was lost for a week off the Azores.

A few weeks ago they threw him in jail because he had written for the newspapers certain political articles of which the government did not approve. Even from his cell, it was charged, he continued his objectionable writings, and on Friday was sentenced to serve eight months in prison for asserted seditious utterances.

It was not a regular jail they put him in. It was an old convent. Franco, like most of the other prisoners there, was on his honor not to attempt an escape, and the government seemed more disappointed today he had broken that pledge than over his escape.

Apparently it was some time between midnight and 3 a.m. Franco pried open a window and dropped to freedom, taking with him Eduardo Reyes, another aviator imprisoned for certain irregularities in his accounts.

While police were watching the homes of his relatives and friends and guarding all airports to prevent Franco's escape from the coun-

RAIL UNIONS URGE SHORT WORK WEEK

Shop Crafts in Favor of Five-Day Program to Cut Unemployment

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP)—The executive council of six railway shop crafts unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor tonight adopted a program seeking a five-day week with no reduction in pay as a means of alleviating unemployment.

Five operating brotherhoods last week suggested a six-hour day with no reduction in pay.

The two groups, which represent the majority of the twenty-one railroad unions, are autonomous and have no agreement as to action taken, shop-craft officials said.

In a statement issued by B. M. Jewell, president of the shop-craft group, the five-day week and another program were indorsed. The second urged all character of transportation be operated by one group of corporations regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as railroads now are, and all Federal and State laws now applying to railroads should apply to all carriers.

The five-day week proposal will be submitted to railroad executives, Jewell said, and lacking action there will go through arbitration, as prescribed by law.

MUSSOLINI'S SUCCESSOR INDICATED

Reports of Plans to Pick Elder Ciano as Aide Seen as Hint in This Direction

LUGANO (Switzerland) Nov. 24. (AP)—Reports reaching Italian political circles here say Premier Mussolini is momentarily expected to nominate Count Costanzo Ciano, Minister of Communications, as Vice-Premier, thus indicating his successor in the event he should pass from the political scene.

Simultaneously, it is said, Count Ciano will assume the portfolios of War and Navy, thus combining under himself more power than any other Minister except Mussolini.

Count Ciano is the father of Count Galeazzo Ciano, new Italian Consul-General at Shanghai, who married the Premier's daughter Edda.

It is recalled that Mussolini, on the occasion of the last attempt made against his life, told the Chamber of Deputies all such attempts to subvert the regime would be useless since he already had arranged for succession in his office in case an attempt against him should succeed.

Two Actors Die of Gas Fumes

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—Harry Balcom, 82 years of age, and William Elliott, 65, had been friends and fellow-actors for many years. They lived together in a room on West Forty-first street. Both were found dead today in their adjacent beds, asphyxiated by gas which Balcom had accidentally left flowing from the jet in their kitchen.

Balcom played with Frank Bacon in "Lightnin," associates said, and had a part in the drama "On Trial."

CORPORATION ORDERED TO REDUCE GAS RATES HERE

Rail Board Commands 9 Per Cent Slash or 7 Per Cent 'Experiment' to Be Effective on January 1

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—A 9 per cent reduction in the gas rates of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, amounting to $1,350,000 a year, but with an option to the company to accept a 7 per cent cut for 1931 as an experiment, was ordered by the State Railroad Commission today in a four-to-one decision, Commissioner Decoto dissenting. The new rates become effective January 1, 1931. The same order gives notification that the $750,000 reduction in electric rates of the same company, put into effect on a trial basis in December, 1929, will be permanent.

Commissioner Decoto agreed with the majority in disallowing an annual fee of $80,000 to Pacific Lighting Corporation, owner of all of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation's common stock, but he disagreed on all other points, maintaining there should be no reduction.

CONDITIONS SET UP

The option given the company to accept a 7 per cent slice on a trial basis for a year is surrounded with conditions designed to promote the establishment of a "temperature reserve" so the company can be protected against violent fluctuations in earnings because of warm or cold winters, with corresponding decreased or increased use of gas. Such a reserve, according to the decision, would be advantageous not only to the company, but to consumers "and would make the work of the commission easier because it would do away with the urge, ever present when winter rates are being fixed, to guard against hardship or embarrassment to the company by fixing rates on the basis of a warm year, with its lesser sales and revenues."

The new rates are applicable both to domestic and commercial consumption.

No change is made in the price to be paid for the first 300 cubic feet, which is 80 cents.

RATES FIGURED

For the next 3700 cubic feet the present commercial rate of 72½ cents per 1000 cubic feet is cut to 69 cents on the 9 per cent reduction set-up and 70 cents on the 7 per cent optional plan, and the present domestic rate of 77 cents is cut to 73 cents or, on the optional plan, to 74 cents.

The present commercial rate of 72½ cents per 1000 cubic feet on all consumption over 3700 cubic feet is cut to 59 cents or 62 cents on the optional plan, and the present domestic rate of 77 cents is sliced to 63 cents, or 66 cents on the optional plan.

The opinion goes exhaustively into the past and present earning position of the company, pointing out that on the basis usually employed by the commission in fixing rates the company actually earned on the average during the period from 1916 to 1929, inclusive, 7.65 per cent in its gas operations, 9.44 per cent in its electric operations, and 8.26 per cent in its combined operations.

EARNINGS HIGHER

During the last three years, however, with its statements adjusted to reflect present rates and normal temperatures, and with a slightly lower depreciation expense which was found adequate, average earnings in gas department were more than 9½ per cent, which "represents an earning level higher than heretofore deemed reasonable in respect to this or other comparable utilities."

The reduction, the decision says, will leave the company in an earning position "consonant with that allowed other comparable utilities" which "has proven sufficiently liberal to attract large amounts of capital into the field of utility investment."

The effect of economic depression is considered at length and it is asserted that under the company's regular report of operations for the year ending August 31, last, which was influenced by ten months of business depression and by the warm winter of 1929-30, it still would have earned more than 10 per cent on its combined common stock and surplus, even had the 9 per cent reduced rates been in effect during that entire period.

RATE BASE FOUND

Valuation claims are considered thoroughly also and a historical rate base for 1930 of $60,700,000 is found. Items heretofore charged to operating expense, which the company claimed should be added to capital, are disallowed. The effect of price

FILMS LOSE LONG FIGHT

Supreme Court Says "Guilty"

Contract and Credit Plans Both Voided by Ruling as Inimical to Public

Ten Large Companies Held to Have Broken Sherman Antitrust Statute

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Ten of the largest motion-picture distributors and thirty-two film boards of trade which distribute 98 per cent of the country's motion-picture film were held by the Supreme Court today guilty of violation of the Sherman antitrust law.

In two cases attacking the uniform contract and credit system enforced by them the court, in opinions by Justice McReynolds, to which no dissent was announced, said corporations which normally should be competitors had entered into unlawful agreement to act jointly in dealing with exhibitors.

The Federal District Court at New York had held the uniform contract, which all exhibitors were required to sign to obtain films, was in violation of the Sherman antitrust law, but found that the credit agreement enforced by the distributors and the film boards of trade was a valid exercise of precaution necessary to break up a practice, which the distributors asserted existed among the exhibitors, of breaking contracts by changes of ownership of theaters.

AGREEMENTS MADE

The distributors and film boards of trade insisted it was necessary to compel exhibitors to sign contracts binding them to a year's supply of film and agreeing to submit all differences to arbitration.

They also declared the practice of breaking leased contracts by sales of motion-picture theaters required the credit agreement under which the new owners were required to take over the unexpired contracts made by their predecessors.

"The Sherman Act seeks to protect the public against evil commonly incident to the unreasonable destruction of competition," Justice McReynolds declared, "and no length of discussions or experimentation amongst parties to a combination which produces the inhibited result can give validity to their action. Congress has so legislated 'as to prevent resort to practices which unduly restrain competition or unduly obstruct the free flow of such commerce, and private choice of means must yield to the national authority thus asserted.'

REASONING EXPLAINED

"It may be that arbitration is well adapted to the needs of the motion-picture industry; but when, under the guise of arbitration, parties enter into unusual agreements which unreasonably suppress normal competition, their action becomes illegal.

"In order to establish violation of the Sherman Act it is not necessary to show that the challenged agreement suppresses all competition between the parties or that the parties themselves are discontented with the agreement. The interest of the public in the preservation of competition is a primary consideration. The prohibitions of the

GALES STILL SWEEP EUROPE

Driving Rains Add Terror, With Many Countries Swamped by Record-Breaking Floods

LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A gale still howled across Europe tonight and driving rains pelted a region already stricken by floods and hurricanes which had taken at least thirty-five lives, injured hundreds, made thousands homeless and wrought enormous property damage.

Thirty-one men were lost when the steamer Louise Leonhardt went down in the Elbe estuary in Germany. Three were killed as a hurricane swept through Vienna. One person drowned as the rivers of France poured over the countryside.

In France, a desperate populace called it the worst flood since the disastrous one of November, 1910.

In Belgium 500,000 acres of farmland were under water.

In Germany the Rhine and Moselle had driven thousands from their homes.

In Holland the dikes were crumbling along the River Scheldt.

In Austria towns and villages suffered heavily from wind and water.

In England—or off its coast—vessels scurried to the assistance of two Greek steamers driven inshore by the gales, but both ships, the Triton and the Taxiarchis, worked themselves out of danger under their own power.

In Spain the storm was less severe, but bad weather held the German seaplane, DO-X, at anchor, preventing a flight to Lisbon.

Railroad trains were halted in Bavaria and many other regions because trees and telephone poles were flung across the tracks. Telegraph wires were down in several places. Crops were ruined and cat-

POLICE HUNTING BOMB SHIPPER

Trunk Linked to M. O'Malley of Bay City

San Francisco Bank Guard Held as Suspect

Infernal Machine Sent to Spokane Press Office

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—With Henry A. Ilse, night watchman for a San Francisco bank, under arrest suspected of implication in the plot to blow up the Spokane Spokesman-Review and Chronicle buildings last Saturday, police of the north Pacific Coast tonight are seeking a man known as M. O'Malley who shipped the trunk containing the huge dynamite bomb from Seattle to the Associated Press offices, situated between the two newspaper buildings at Spokane.

Ilse's arrest today was the result of numbers on the radio battery which was used in construction of the bomb. Ilse, former Spokane fireman, who was acquitted in September, 1927, on a charge of placing a bomb in the Spokesman-Review Building, is said to have admitted that he purchased the battery, but declared he had thrown it away more than a month ago. Ilse declared that on both this and the previous attempt to blow up the newspaper office he had been "framed" by enemies.

The trunk containing the bomb, police declare, originated here, and was shipped to Portland, then to Seattle, from where it was forwarded to Spokane. O'Malley's connection with the plot was learned through a tag on the outside of the trunk.

Aid for Strikers Asked by Green

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today appealed for aid for the striking textile workers at Danville, Va.

"Hunger and suffering exists among the textile workers and their families at Danville," he said. "Men, women and children are without food, adequate clothing or shelter.

"This is the sacrifice they are making for the cause of trade unionism, for decent wages, the exercise of an American right to join a union and to bargain collectively.

"Shall they be starved into submission?"

The ninety-mile gale was bitter cold and the homeless suffered also from lack of food. The Red Cross was in the field early starting its relief campaign.

Paris put its emergency pumps to work early as the Seine crept closer to the tops of the flood walls which run the length of the city. Tugboats and barges in the Seine piled one upon another as the torrent swept under and past them.

The gale swept through the Loire Valley, uprooting trees and unroofing houses, injuring many.

FRANCE IN FEAR AS HEAVY RAIN CONTINUES

PARIS, Nov. 24. (AP)—Paris went to bed tonight under a pelting rain in alarm and anxiety, menaced with a flood as disastrous as that of 1910, which was the worst in centuries.

The muddy waters of the River Seine, flowing swiftly, had reached a level of sixteen feet above normal tonight, with quays and docks on both sides inundated. Powerful pumps throbbed busily to keep the flood from invading the sewers and causing them to overflow the streets by bursting, which was the primary cause of the 1910 disaster.

The chief inspector of waterways was quoted tonight as saying the situation is as bad now, from the standpoint of water pressure, as twenty years ago, although the river level is not so high.

The first building in the main part of the city invaded by waters tonight was the prefecture of police on Ile de L'Isle, an island in the Seine which also contains the Cathedral of Notre Dame and the Palais de Justice. Water began filtering in the cellars at 7:45 p.m. and pumps were put to work immediately.

Trouble Laid to Debt Collection

OTTAWA (Ont.) Nov. 24. (AP)—America's refusal to cancel World War debts was linked with present business depression in the United States as one of its contributing causes in an address today by Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war-time Prime Minister.

Admitting the right of the United States to insist on repayment, Sir Robert said he did, however, question its wisdom.

Fuel Shortage Forces Landing

NEEDLES, Nov. 24. (AP)—William M. Keenan, official of Transcontinental and Western Air, was forced down by fuel shortage on a sandbar of the Colorado River near here tonight, wrecking his small plane. He was not injured.

Keenan left Los Angeles for Pueblo, Colo., at 1 p.m. The accident occurred at 6:30 p.m.

changes on the cost of the structural property is considered and the conclusion reached that had the current prices prevailed during the life of the company the rate base would have increased less than $5,000,000. As to the rates being fixed on such a base it is said:

"If the company is to derive the advantage due to economic changes which raise the value of its property over its actual cost, it should at the same time in fairness expect to suffer any detriment due to economic changes which may lessen the cost, or earning ability of money."

CONTRACTING COSTS

While price levels are higher the cost or value of money, it is found, is lower. Claims of value advanced by the company aggregating more than $30,000,000, are disallowed. Revenue and operating expense figures presented by the company are followed generally.

An adequate supply of natural gas is held to exist, as claimed by the city of Los Angeles, but the record is said not to justify at the present time the writing out from capital of all of the artificial gas plants. The proper treatment of these plants is said to "present a serious question" and it is pointed out that their somewhat "doubtful need does have an appreciable adverse bearing upon their value." If rates are fixed upon their historical valuation basis, the plants when retired, it is held, should be amortized over a period of years, but if rates are fixed on the basis urged by the company their value should be eliminated without provision for amortizing their cost.

WHAT DECOTO SAYS

Commissioner Decoto, in his dissenting opinion, declared a reduction in rates is questionable. He held that the purpose of regulation is to procure consumers reasonable rates and service, and at the same time secure to the utility adequate return upon the value of its property, such value being determined in accordance with the many decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

Among other exceptions to the majority, he said: "During the last two years this commission has shown a tendency to cut the rate of return upon a historical rate base from between 8 and 8½ per cent to 7 per cent, which reduced the rate of return upon a fair value basis to 6.12½ per cent to 6.3 per cent.

"This is confiscation and not regulation. It cannot be expected that our public utilities will long content themselves with such a return. The result will be an appeal to the courts for proper redress This is in effect a shirking of its responsibility by the commission, and will lead to an era of regulation by the courts."

STATEMENT MADE

Referring to testimony as to going concern value, which he asserts was unchallenged and undisputed anywhere in the record and which placed that element of value at between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000, Commissioner Decoto made the following statement:

"To adopt, in the face of such undisputed testimony, as the majority opinion has done, a going concern value of $422,866 is an absolute disregard of all testimony and all law. In fixing the going value at 10 per cent of the physical property I feel that I have been conservative indeed, and probably would have been justified in using $10,000,000.

"The majority opinion fixes the return to the company at 6.8 per cent on historical value, with going value included and 6.3 per cent upon fair value fixed in accordance with the decisions of the courts. This is less than the cost of money to the company and is clearly confiscation. If the commission still persists in adhering to the historical cost-rate basis, it should adhere to its past practice and allow a return of between 8 and 8.5 per cent."

The case, sharply contested, was instituted by the commission on its own motion and the hearings, protracted and exhaustive, were presided over by Commissioner Carr. He and Commissioners Seavey, Louttit and Whitsell concurred in preparing the majority opinion.

DISMEMBERED MAN NEW YORK MYSTERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—The dismembered legs and the torso of a man who probably was slain early yesterday were found today in widely separated parts of the city, providing police with a grewsome murder mystery. The torso, severed from the head, was found in a trunk floating in the Hudson River at the foot of West Fifty-eighth street. The legs were found in a battered suit case in front of a vacant store on the lower East Side, a short block from the East River.

HIGH COURT DODGES ARKANSAS VOTE ROW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to entertain the appeal of J. M. Robinson and others challenging a rule of the Arkansas State Democratic Committee prohibiting Negroes from voting in Democratic primaries. The court gave no explanation of its reasons other than to say it had no jurisdiction, indicating the controversy failed to present a constitutional question.

Now he throws all that away by breaking his word of honor not to escape. I'm awfully sorry he was so foolish, but now, of course, it is our duty to recapture him."

It was indicated the authorities had intended to include the flyer in the list of Christmas pardons.

TAX FIGHT LOST BY GOVERNMENT

es, filed in previous years by husband and wife separately.

The court ruled in an opinion by Justice Roberts, his first since his appointment to the bench, that in community property States whose laws give the wife a vested interest in the income from this source, she is entitled to make out her own income tax return.

It makes no difference, Roberts said, that the husband has management of the property.

FORMER DECISION CITED

He referred to a former decision in which the Community Tax Law of California was construed to permit the government to impose a tax on the total income reported only by the husband.

Such a conclusion was necessary in that State, Justice Roberts explained, because in California the wife's interest in community property was merely expectant and not vested.

Today's decision may affect income tax returns from Idaho, Nevada and New Mexico. The question was brought up in four cases, in which the interested litigants were H. G. Seabord of Washington, I. B. Koch of Arizona, William Pfaff of Louisiana and C. W. Bacon of Texas.

CALIFORNIA CASE

Another community property case from California, similar to those settled today from Arizona, Louisiana, Texas and Washington State, was advanced for hearing on January 12, next. The case involves taxes imposed on Robert K. Malcolm. The Federal District Court for Northern California held that husband and wife in California are entitled to make separate Federal tax returns on their respective shares of income from community property.

The community property laws, prevalent over much of the Southwest, were derived from old Spanish statutes once in force there.

ATTORNEYS EXPECT LIKE DECISION FOR CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Chamber of Commerce attorneys said today the decision of the United States Supreme Court in community tax cases appealed from Louisiana, Texas, Arizona and Washington has a distinct bearing on California's case, to be argued before the high tribunal January 12, 1931.

California taxpayers who have $75,000,000 interest at stake, the attorneys say, won a test case last September when Federal Judge Kerrigan decided in favor of the defendant in the case of the United States against Robert K. Malcolm. The case was appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

The attorneys assert the court's decision can be construed as an eventual victory for California.

YOUTHS BEGIN FLIGHT TO SOUTH AMERICA

CALDWELL (N. J.) Nov. 24. (AP) Two youths in a two-cylinder monoplane, Edward Wingerter of Newark and Joseph L. Jones of Riverside, Ct., set out today on a flight to South America. They plan to follow the Atlantic seaboard, hop over to Havana and then jump from Cuba to British Guiana. They expect to stop at almost every airport along the way, for their monoplane carries only eight gallons of gasoline and has a cruising speed of sixty-five miles an hour.

statute cannot be evaded by good motives. The law is its own measure of right and wrong, of what it permits or forbids, and the judgment of the court cannot be set up against it in a supposed accommodation of its policy with the good intention of parties and, it may be, of some good result."

CREDIT SYSTEM

Referring to the credit system, the court said "The obvious purpose of the agreement is to restrict the liberty of those who have representatives on the film board and secure their concerted action for the purpose of coercing certain purchasers of theaters."

The distributors involved in the litigation included First National Pictures, Inc., Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer · Distributing Corporation, Universal Film Exchange, Inc., United Artists Corporation, Fox Film Corporation, Pathe Exchange, Inc., F. COURT ACTIONS DEMAND $5,130,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—Actions for sums aggregating $5,130,000 were filed today in Federal District Court against the Paramount-Publix Corporation, the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., the Netco Corporation, Adolph Zukor, Sidney R. Kent and Sam Katz.

Edward Quittner, a producer and manager of Middletown, N. Y., and the Middletown Combined Buildings Company, Inc., brought the actions contending a chain of theaters owned and operated by them has been damaged to the extent of one-third of the amount asked, by acts of the defendants in restraint of trade and violation of the antitrust laws.

Zukor, Kent and Katz are officers of Paramount-Publix, of which Netco is a theater-owning subsidiary.

YOUNG PILOT FORCED DOWN IN ARIZONA

TUCSON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Gerald Nettleton, 20-year-old aviator seeking to set a new junior transcontinental flight record, was marking time in Tucson tonight while waiting for spare parts of his plane forced down today at Benson, Ariz. The youthful flyer said he believes a rocker arm of his motor had been broken. Nettleton landed his plane without difficulty and walked into the town of Benson.

E. T. SETON, LECTURER, SEEKING CITIZENSHIP

DENVER, Nov. 24. (AP)—A preliminary application for citizenship has been filed by Ernest Thompson Seton, writer, artist and lecturer, with the United States Naturalization Bureau here. The application originally was filed with the Santa Fe (N. M.) office and then forwarded to headquarters in Denver. A hearing on Seton's application probably will be held in Santa Fe next month.

"I have always been susceptible to throat irritations, having had to travel a great deal in all kinds of weather. The medical attention which I required was not always available and it was not until a friend told me of Kentos that I found a throat astringent I could carry in my grip with me and always be assured I would get relief. One morning during my travels I arose with such a sore throat I couldn't swallow — a gargle with Kentos entirely removed the soreness.

"My wife used Kentos and was given relief from a severe case of trench mouth. We could not be without this wonderful medicine in our medicine chest."

The above statement was made by Stuart S. McNair, well-known geologist, with offices at 1132 Subway Terminal Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

INFANT PLAGUE BATTLE GAINING

New York Experts Develop Improved Serum

Cures in Fifty-seven Cases Reported From Use

Remedy Declared Absolute Preventive of Disease

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—A new serum, five times as strong as any heretofore available for infantile paralysis, and its efficacious use in more than fifty-seven cases were reported to the New York County Medical Society tonight.

The serum is produced in horses and was developed by Drs. M. Neustadter of the Neurological Hospital at Welfare Island, and E. J. Banzhaf, an assistant director of the New York Bureau of Laboratories.

Dr. Neustadter announced it had been proved definitely that horse serum has neutralizing value for infantile paralysis.

SUPERIOR REMEDY

"It is as harmless as any other antitoxin," he added, "and is superior to human convalescent serum because it can be standardized, obtained in large quantities and is always available."

Human serum is obtained from persons who have recovered from the disease.

Dr. William H. Park, head of the New York Bureau of Laboratories, indicated the serum had been used with success as an immunizing agent in children exposed to infantile paralysis. These cases were too few to give much information, he said, although none of them developed the disease.

POTENCY INCREASED

It was further announced by Dr. Park that he now is producing in three horses serum equal in strength to the best human serum and that Dr. Banzhaf is concentrating the product to a potency five times greater. Another worker contributing research on the subject was Dr. A. Weyer of the same laboratories.

Both Drs. Park and Banzhaf doubted the value of the serum in cases which have already developed paralysis, and it was pointed out a difficulty in the way of successful treatment of the disease is the inability to make clinical diagnosis before paralysis occurs.

USED ABROAD

Some of the fifty-seven cases reported by Dr. Neustadter were treated by Dr. A. Pettit in France, using the Banzhaf-Neustadter method. Dr. Neustadter also reported cases of his own in which he said cures were effected by the serum.

Current research on the disease, it was revealed, has been made possible by a grant from Jeremiah Milbank, New York banker.

Cheyenne (Wyo.)—authorities learned today a young woman answering her description registered at a hotel there last Monday evening about twenty-four hours after Miss Marriott was seen last at Wiggins.

Chief of Police N. E. Tuck said the young woman and a young man registered at the Cheyenne Hotel as from Lockwood, O. Tuck said he believes they left Cheyenne Thursday.

FILM SHOW BOMBS BURN POLICEMEN

Arkansas Theater Owner Hints of Union Trouble; Men and Girls Arrested

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Bombs made of phosphorous exploded in two theaters here last night burning two policemen, and today authorities are holding two men and two girls for questioning. The audience in each theater left in an orderly manner and none was injured except the officers.

In one showhouse the bomb was found before it exploded and was being examined by Patrolman John Haynes when it burst in his hands, burning him on the face and body. Patrolman Charles Robbins was burned in trying to extinguish the flames.

Two men who police said gave their names as Cecil Williams, 21 years of age, and Smyer Pyner, 25, both motion-picture machine projectionists, were arrested on suspicion. Two girls, Christine Halsell and Christine Myers, both 18, also were held.

Authorities said Sidney M. Nutt, owner of both theaters, adopted open-shop policies in employing projectionists after a disagreement with union employees several months ago.

AIR PERMIT FOR HAMON GIRL DENIED

Daughter of Oklahoma Oil Man Wished to Fly From London to Africa

LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A young lady from America tapped an impatient foot today while she pleaded in vain with British officialdom for permission to fly from London to Capetown, South Africa. She said she is Miss Loma Worth, 21 years of age, a musician, with 160 hours of solo flying experience.

"After flying all over the United States," she said to newspaper men, "they tell me I am crazy. I flew from Chicago to New York, via Washington, on the 10th inst., when mail planes didn't get through. I can't imagine why they won't let me."

Miss Loma Worth, reported to have been denied permission at London to fly from there to Capetown, South Africa, is a vaudeville entertainer, whose real name is Miss Olive Belle Hamon, daughter of the late Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma oil man and Republican National Committeeman from that State. Hamon was slain by Clara Smith Hamon, who was acquitted after a sensational trial.

The term of Viscount Willingdon as Governor-General expires August 5, next. The Earl of Athlone is the brother of Queen Mary.

NEW YORK BRIBE PRACTICE TOLD

Court Attendant Confesses to $20,000 Graft

Opposed Attorneys Paid Him to "Lie Down" on Case

Names and Dates Supplied by Nonchalant Clerk

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (Exclusive) In eight years in the Woman's Court John C. Weston, who acted as deputy assistant District Attorney, although he actually was only a a process server, took about $20,000 in bribes from lawyers representing persons he was sworn to prosecute he testified today at the first open session of the Appellate Division investigation of conditions and practices in the Magistrates' courts.

Weston said that he got bribes in about 600 cases, all but about thirty of them from lawyers, he specified, and said that the usual bribe was $25. For it he "went easy"—failed to ask questions which would have brought about the truth.

He named six lawyers as those from whom he most frequently took bribes. They are Alexander Lang, now dead; Abraham Karr, Emanuel Busch, Mark Alter, Philip Rusco and Joseph Aronstein, the last two being partners.

Weston said he took his first bribe from Lang five weeks after he was assigned to that court.

Weston also testified that he received money occasionally from James J. Quinliven and William M. O'Connor, members of the vice squad. He said that Quinliven once gave him $50 and once $25 for "lying down" on prosecutions.

In each Quinliven was ostensibly the chief witness against the woman.

To Alter, Weston attributed the cryptic remark: "Any time you get hold of a good case, we'll put it over for Jesse," meaning Magistrate Jesse Silberman, who presides at Woman's Court. Weston said Alter and Silberman were very friendly, often ate together and swapped tips on the stock market.

Magistrate Silberman was the first witness of the hearing, but Isador J. Kresel, special counsel, had a hard time getting the magistrate to be definite about a number of things.

STATE NEAR TOP IN NEW BUILDING

Ranks Second in Nation and Next to New York

Los Angeles Fourth City, Says Report on October

Construction Permits Here $5,309,171 for Month

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (AP)—California again stood in second place in value of new building in October, the S. W. Straus monthly national building survey released today showed. California's $15,775,174 in building permits was second only to New York's total of $37,274,325. Following came Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania fairly evenly spaced at intervals of two to three million.

Coast cities in the first twenty-five in national ranking were Los Angeles, San Francisco, Long Beach and Seattle, in fourth, eleventh, fourteenth and seventeenth positions. The building permit totals were Los Angeles $5,309,171, San Francisco $2,292,210, Long Beach $1,964,630 and Seattle $1,553,340.

The survey calls attention to the decline in commercial paper rates for four to six months, now below the 1924 low which was followed by a gain in building. The United States Bureau of Labor statistics index of prices of building materials kept on the decline, being about 15 per cent lower than last year.

The value of major building awards in Pacific Coast States the last week is set at $2,770,000 compared with $2,235,000 in the previous week, according to the Western Building Forum. Planned projects also increased to $1,430,000 compared with $1,360,000 a week earlier.

UNIONISTS BREW FIGHT FOR BEER

Bewhiskered Wet Proposals Become Topics Again

A. F. of L. Plans Campaign to Change Dry Law

Supreme Court Refuses to Decide Jury-Trial Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Two old-timers—proposals for beer and juryless trials—claimed the prohibition spotlight today for return engagements.

Both were broached at the last session of Congress.

They came back in three proposals to amend the Volstead Act, and a Supreme Court refusal to pass on the constitutionality of trials without jury.

Two of the moves to permit the manufacture of beer were brewing within the ranks of union labor. One will be sponsored by the American Federation of Labor itself, while a second will come from representatives of affiliated organizations, to be known as the national labor legislative committee for modification of the Volstead Act.

BINGHAM PROPOSAL

The third proposal came from Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut. He said he will demand a show-down at the coming session on various prohibition modification measures and at the same time will sponsor a measure to permit the manufacture of 4 per cent beer.

The refusal of the Supreme Court to pass on the broad question of the constitutional right of petty offenders to a trial by jury came in a decision sustaining a ruling by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals that William H. Colts, a Washington resident, had been illegally deprived of a jury trial in a case of reckless driving. Colts had been sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve thirty days in jail.

JURYLESS TRIALS

The trial of minor liquor offenses by United States commissioners without benefit of jury was suggested by the Law-Enforcement Commission as a means of alleviating court congestion. It was passed by the House along with certain companion measures proposed by the commission and is pending now in the Senate.

At almost the same time the court was handing down its decision the Wickersham commission was listening to Richard H. Templeton, District Attorney at Buffalo. Having figured in several large conspiracy cases involving prohibition during his five years at that border post, Templeton was considered able to paint a complete picture of enforcement conditions.

Only one of the eleven members was absent as the commission convened after a ten-day recess. They adjourned, after hearing Templeton, to study the briefs prepared during the recess.

'CORPSE CANDLES' GLIMMER

San Francisco Seamen, Recalling "Warning" in April, 1906, Warn of New Calamity

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (AP)—"Corpse candles" burn nightly with a weird purple light atop the masts and spars of ships in the bay here, presaging some calamity to come, according to the old-time mariners along the waterfront.

A "corpse candle," so-called because of the superstition attached to its appearance, is a peculiar electrical display common in the tropics but extremely unusual in these latitudes. Scientifically it is a "potential difference between the spars of vessels and the surrounding atmosphere and the electric fluid stored in the mast in making its escape becomes visible in a faint or sometimes startlingly brilliant purplish glow."

But the old salts, who are muttering in their beards—so to speak—are not so interested in the scientific explanation as in the legendary superstition.

They declare the last time "corpse candles" burned in the bay was in April, 1906, shortly before the disaster that laid San Francisco waste.

This display was faintly visible Tuesday night atop the radio spars of the palatial yacht Janidore owned by Isidore Zellerbach. Since then it has appeared at the mast-tops of many craft in the bay, increasing in brilliance until last night when shimmering purple glows were plainly evident on the masts of six different vessels at once.

The hydrographic office and the weather bureau today agreed the phenomenon is due to extreme and unwonted dryness of the air strata.

But the ancient men of the sea watch with an uneasy dread these nightly portents of death and disaster.

INDIA ROUND TABLE HAS NEW PHASE

Translation of Country's Hopes Into Realities Will Be Work of Parley

LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—After a week of speeches the Indian round table conference today began the task of translating into the realities of a Federal India the hopes and aspirations voiced by all shades of Indian opinion represented.

The Federal relations committee, on which the brunt of the work falls, met today for the first time and its first decision was that the thirty-two members originally named were insufficient. The membership was increased to forty-nine, including all members of the British government delegation.

It was pointed out that all the British members of the original committee were from the House of Lords and, since legislation resulting from the conference must be approved by the House of Commons, it was decided Prime Minister MacDonald's Conservative and Liberal colleagues at the round table should sit at all sessions of the committee.

Southwestern Railroads Lose in Court Fight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Southwestern railroads failed in the Supreme Court today in their attack on an Interstate Commerce Commission order making a division of freight rates on traffic passing between them and carriers of the western trunk line territory.

The order, which increased the share of the western trunk lines in rates on such traffic was sustained as valid in a decision by Justice Butler.

CIVIL AIRPLANES DISTURB PARLEY

Preparatory Arms Group in Clash on War Value

France Thrusts at Germany for Strength in Air

Annual Report Plan Finally Receives Approval

GENEVA, Nov. 24. (AP)—A discussion of the war-time potentialities of peace-time commercial aircraft, with pointed reference by France to German prowess in the air, disturbed the calm of the preparatory disarmament commission today.

The discussion arose over a proposal to insert in the draft convention a provision for an annual report by the contracting governments on the number of commercial planes and dirigibles in their territory. The proposal was finally adopted without a negative vote, the United States and Germany abstaining.

HUGE PLANE MENTIONED

Rene Massigli, French delegate, announced his country considers civil aviation as a most important factor in offensive power, asserting civil aviation has been developing decidedly in an offensive direction and military aviation in a defensive direction.

He made reference to a huge German airplane which recently has been visiting European cities and quoted a statement given a newspaper man the plane is capable of carrying heavy armament and of dropping bombs on London, Paris, Brussels and other European capitals.

It was generally understood at first Massigli had reference to the giant German flying boat DO-X, but it later was explained he probably meant the large German plane G-38 which recently completed a tour of principal European cities.

GIBSON TELLS STAND

Ambassador Gibson, speaking for the United States, announced his government prefers to regulate this problem out of the bounds of the contemplated disarmament convention, but if the majority of the commission prefers to deal with it at that time he will agree.

Count von Bernstorff, German representative on the disarmament commission, deprecated the idea civil craft might be transformed into fighting ships for military purposes. Germany, he said, strongly favors the fullest publicity on commercial airships, but he quoted a French air service official as asserting converted civil craft stand a feeble chance in combat with planes built for military service.

Viscount Cecil of Chelwood also emphasized what he regards as the great war potentialities of civil airships, and he offered an amendment to the draft treaty which would require an additional annual statement of expenditures by governments and local authorities on commercial flying machines. N. Sato, speaking for Japan, said his government favors publicity of civil craft.

He Tells Thousands ✣ How to Keep Healthy and Well ✣ By Eating Yeast

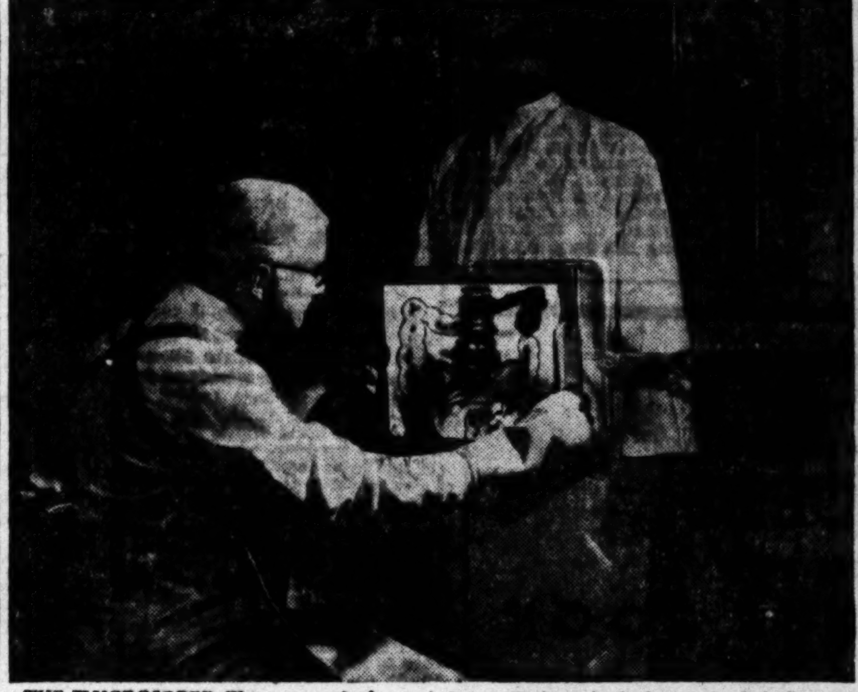
EUROPEAN SPECIALISTS have been active in developing treatments for Intestinal Fatigue.



THE FLUOROSCOPE (X-ray camera) shows vital region where the body gets its fuel. Intestines must be kept clean and healthy, or waste matter gathers and dangerous poisons breed.

FRESH YEAST cleans and tones up the intestinal tract by natural means. Eat 3 cakes daily

Look at Yourself through the Fluoroscope

Here's where 90% of our commonest ailments begin... read why!

LET'S TALK a moment about your health. Your body. The way you feel.

Wouldn't you like to look at yourself through a fluoroscope, which shows what goes on in the human body?

Begin by studying the picture in the center, above. It's a fluoroscope in actual operation and it shows the intestinal tract, slightly retouched to make the photograph clearer.

Notice, in the picture, the shape of the intestines. All the food you eat must pass through this tube. You can imagine how easy it is for particles to become clogged. Instead of fresh, new food, the intestines have only waste matter from which to absorb nourishment. Fermentation sets in. And then, instead of nutritive elements, poisons are fed through the system.

You lose color. Your skin grows sallow and blemished. Reserve strength disappears, and you grow susceptible to colds and headaches. Appetite grows dull. You realize elimination is irregular, and vainly turn to cathartics and laxatives to correct an evil condition.

Doctors have long devoted study to this problem. And now they bring the welcome word that an old, old remedy... a remedy first scientifically tried 75 years ago... may be counted on to correct this evil.

This remedy is fresh yeast, the yeast in the familiar foil package with the Fleischmann label. Eaten as a food, three times a day, yeast accomplishes gently what cathartics and laxatives attempt violently. It moistens and softens waste masses. It stimulates intestinal action. It helps clean the intestinal tract by natural means. And vitality increases, normal strength grows, energy returns.

You know glowing, abundant health once more! A clear skin, clear eyes, happiness, renewed vigor!

Eat Fleischmann's Yeast any way you like... so long as you eat it... 3 cakes a day. Begin it today and see how much improvement a few months will make. You can get it at grocers', restaurants, soda fountains. Directions on label.

(Contains three vitamins—B, G and D.)

Not a "Cure-all"... Fleischmann's Yeast is a health food thousands eat three times a day

HOUSE LEADER WANTS HOLIDAY

Snell Would Compromise to Avoid Extra Session

Vote on Muscle Shoals and Other Bills Agreeable

Threat of Insurgents to Aid Democrats Recalled

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Another conciliatory move was made today with the object of avoiding a special session of the new Congress after March 4, next.

Representative Snell of New York, chairman of the most powerful agency in the House, the Rules Committee, and one of three "rulers" of the lower chamber, declared himself in favor of permitting votes on the extensive and troublesome program of legislation sponsored by the insurgent Republicans.

Snell's position, if approved by Speaker Longworth and Republican Floor Leader Tilson, as is expected, may remove what is perhaps the most serious threat to completion of work awaiting the nearing short session.

LEADERS APPROVE

What is in effect a compromise on the part of Snell met with hearty approval of Senate Republican leaders, Senator Watson showing particular pleasure.

"I think we ought to clear up all of this controversial legislation in the coming short session," Mr. Snell declared, adding that "settlement now will minimize the pressure for an extra session."

Snell favors a vote on the extremely controversial Muscle Shoals government operation bill fathered by Senator Norris, insurgent leader, and perhaps the outstanding source of potential obstruction in the preliminary maneuverings to the session starting next Monday.

WILLING FOR VOTE

He also is disposed to get rid of the Norris "lame duck" amendment to the Constitution, a conciliatory attitude especially pleasing to the Senate insurgents who have blamed the Longworth-Snell-Tilson combination of power in the House for inaction upon the proposal for five successive Congresses. But Snell does not stop there. He is willing for a vote on any or all parts of the progressive program.

"There is no doubt," he said, "that the country wants a vote in Congress on a lot of things. So far as I am concerned I am going to do nothing to prevent the House voting on all pending controversial legislation.

"As to Muscle Shoals, I am satisfied there is a large element in the country that wants to try government operation. If we are going to try it out, there is no better place than in the Muscle Shoals project, where we own the property, and it would not cost much money to operate.

ACTION SOUGHT

"I am willing to compromise on Muscle Shoals in order to get something going there instead of letting the plant lie idle. We have tried unsuccessfully to get business men to operate it. Personally I think that if we are going to try government operation and ownership in this country, Muscle Shoals is the place to make the experiment and we might as well settle the question this session, so that we will not have to take it up in a special session of Congress."

Snell said he is just as much opposed to government operation now as before election, but added that if a majority of the House is in favor of the plan "we should try it out."

On the Senate side Watson not only commended Mr. Snell's attitude, but said that the Senate should vote on the anti-injunction bill so earnestly sought by the insurgents and which has been shuffled back and forth getting nowhere for the past two years.

POLICY TWOFOLD

Snell's capitulation to insurgent demands goes a bit farther in design than mere avoidance of an extra session, however much that is desired. As construed here it is a direct as well as peaceful answer to another threat of insurgents—that they would vote with the Democrats to organize the next House.

LEGISLATIVE REMEDY FOR BUSINESS SCORED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—An attempt to remedy the present business situation through the passage of radical legislation in the coming session of Congress will add to the difficulties confronting the country and retard business recovery, Merle Thorpe, editor of Nation's Business, declared tonight in a nation-wide radio talk.

Speaking over a network of the National Broadcasting Company in one of his weekly talks on "How's Business," Mr. Thorpe asserted that "economic currents, no less than the tides of nature, are not to be checked by legislative hocus pocus."

DEMOCRAT SAYS HE'LL CO-OPERATE

BOSTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Senator-elect Coolidge of Fitchburg came out for co-operation in constructive legislation with the Republican administration, for modification of the anti-trust laws and for the Swedish liquor-control system, in a speech at a Jefferson Society dinner tonight.

It was his first political speech since his election.

Senate to Get Report on Funds Investigation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Expenditures of the Anti-Saloon League and the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment in the Senate campaign this year will come under the scrutiny of the Senate campaign funds investigating committee next week.

The committee decided today to hear officers of the Anti-Saloon League here next Tuesday and those of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment in New York a week from Thursday.

The committee is preparing a preliminary report to submit to the Senate next week detailing expenditures of Senators who will take office immediately. Chairman Nye announced no protest against seating the six new Senators who take oath next week will be made. No other contests are in prospect.

CONVICT GOODS BAN IN EFFECT

Treasury Issues Regulations on All Imports

Shipments Must Carry Bond Against Prison Origin

Escaped Russian Tells of Life at Red Camps

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The Treasury promulgated regulations against importation of convict-made goods today while a witness was telling the House Communist investigating committee how prisoners fare in soviet camps.

The regulations require importers and shippers to show importations from all countries are not produced by convict labor.

PRISONER TALKS

Russian goods have figured in several recent hearings at which the Treasury was asked to bar certain products, but in announcing the regulations Assistant Secretary Lowman said they were "not directed against Russia but against everybody." They were issued under a law which requires importers to post bond and submit a certificate of origin showing unpaid convicts did not manufacture the articles.

Speaking in broken English, Alexander Grube, who served two years in a soviet prison camp and escaped nine months ago, said 20,000 political prisoners perished in penal colonies during his incarceration. Overwork, insufficient food and ill treatment were blamed by him for the heavy death toll.

From long before dawn until hours after night had fallen he said, the convicts worked without compensation in the hope of cutting three cubic meters of lumber so they might receive an extra half loaf of black bread. Those who refused to work, he said, were executed.

RED ARMY TRAINED

Grube, who has taken out American citizenship papers, was followed by Prof. Thomas McWilliams of Eastern Reserve University.

McWilliams said the "Red army of 375,000 men was the finest trained in Europe," and it was being increased as fast as revenues would permit.

On his recent tour of Russia, the professor said he frequently was asked when the "revolution would break out in America."

"Communism," he continued, "is the religion of the Communists; Karl Marx, their bible and Lenin their god."

Representatives of the Baltimore and Philadelphia police are among the witnesses scheduled for Tuesday's hearings.

DIPLOMAT'S MISSION TO CURB REDS' ACTIVITIES

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24. (AP)—Ulysses Grant Smith, United States Minister to Uruguay until his retirement a year ago, arrived this afternoon by airplane on a mission understood to be in connection with Communistic activities as related to the United States.

It is reported here Mexican police expressed willingness to cooperate with American authorities in the curtailment of Communistic activities affecting both countries and that Mr. Smith volunteered to aid the Congressional committee of Representative Hamilton Fish, by looking over matters which Mexican police consider of interest to both countries. The mission is said to be unofficial, however.

Informers for Customs Busy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Informers on persons trying to smuggle diamonds and other goods into the United States are having one of their most successful business years.

The Customs Bureau of the Treasury expects before the end of 1930 informers will have received $300,000 for their work in tipping off the government.

In 1929 the informers received $150,000 and the government recovered $600,000 through their information.

HOOVER MEETS WITH SOCIAL LIFE BOARD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Men investigating the changes in social life talked their work over today with President Hoover.

The committee was named by the President last year. The chairman, Prof. Wesley C. Mitchell of Columbia University, reported progress. The survey will not be completed for two or three years.

Her Nine Years Of Indigestion Quickly Ended

"It's Amazing What Sargon Did for Me," Says Mrs. Clendenen

"I was a victim of stomach trouble for 9 years and before I started Sargon I had gotten to where I'd be in misery with indigestion from one meal to another. My weight dropped off and I became so weak and rundown that even a little housework would almost put me in bed. My nerves were at the breaking point and I hardly ever enjoyed a night of sound sleep. It's amazing what Sargon did for me! I enjoy hearty meals without the least trouble with my stomach; I've gained weight and am so much stronger my housework doesn't bother me in the least. My nervousness is over and I sleep like I did when I was a child.

"Sargon Pills gave me lasting relief from constipation which had bothered me ever since my troubles began. I hope my statement helps others find relief through this remarkable Sargon treatment."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Fred Clendenen, 8632 S. Menlo street, Los Angeles.

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

Days of "Soft" Money Versus "Hard" Retold

Bryan Gains Following as Silver Swamps Nation

Bimetallism and Populists' Fallacies Related

The following is the second of four articles discussing the so-called "hard and soft money" controversy which has arisen again as a result of the present worldwide depression.

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by The North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (Exclusive) The scene described in my first article in this series then changed. The "soft money" advocates turned to silver. They joined hands with the silver-mine owners of the West and demanded that the government of the United States, through Congress, declare for the free and unlimited coinage of silver on the basis of sixteen ounces of silver to one of gold.

In 1877 such a bill passed the House of Representatives by five to one majority. It provided for unlimited quantities of silver at the rate of sixteen to one.

The Senate amended this to provide for the purchase by the government and the coinage of not less than $2,000,000 and not more than $4,000,000 worth of silver each month. President Hayes vetoed the measure, but Congress passed it over his veto and it became a law in 1878.

FLOOD OF SILVER

In the next twelve years 378,000,000 silver dollars were coined, while the purchase price to the United States government (by government notes) of the silver coined was $308,000,000. Banks would not take this overvalued currency and people disliked to carry heavy dollars. Gradually, the pile of silver coins began to displace gold in the United States Treasury vaults.

In 1880, Secretary of the Treasury Sherman recorded that in spite of all his efforts he had difficulty in maintaining in circulation more than 35 per cent of the amount coined. He urged that the coinage of silver be reduced considerably.

Four years later Secretary of the Treasury McCulloch announced that unless coinage of silver was stopped there was danger the Treasury would be forced to suspend gold payments and go on a silver basis. The cheap money, silver, was driving the good money, gold, out of the country. Foreign investors became alarmed. They saw they might be paid off with silver dollars worth 80 cents in gold. Stock prices broke and another depression arrived.

WORSE CONFOUNDED

But the advocacy of free and unlimited coinage of silver continued. More silver and still more silver should be bought by the government and coined. The Sherman Act of 1890, which provided for the compulsory purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver a month at the market price as long as the bullion value of the silver dollar was less than that of the gold dollar, was the plan provided.

All right—with what did the government buy the silver? With the United States Treasury notes of full legal tender. This gave silver a boost, but it did not provide unlimited coinage. The result was the same, however. The Treasury, in the next three years issued $156,000,000 in notes for the silver taken in. All this time the gold supply was decreasing rapidly. Between 1890 and 1894 the net gold reserve in the Treasury dropped from $190,000,000 to $65,000,000.

TREASURY DRAINED

In the first six months of 1891 more than $70,000,000 in gold left the United States for England. The amount of paper legal tender taken to the Treasury to be exchanged for gold jumped from $6,000,000 in 1891 to $102,000,000 in 1893. Anyone could see what was coming. The West was burning up with political agitation against eastern capitalists. Times were hard enough.

Then came the rise of the Populist party of the West, which denounced the single gold standard "as a vast conspiracy against mankind." The Democratic party followed suit by demanding that the 10 per cent tax on note circulation in State banks be removed.

Grover Cleveland was elected President. Silver purchases continued. The President added to his troubles by insisting that the Treasury notes issued against silver be redeemed in gold rather than in silver. Confusion worse confounded!

Those who understood the question doubted the ability of the government to maintain gold payments in the face of all the difficulties confronting it. Their doubts were confirmed. The stock markets became flooded with American securities dumped overboard by scared European investors. So the great panic of 1893 arrived.

President Cleveland called a special session of Congress and asked for the repeal of the Sherman Act. Congress agreed but Mr. Cleveland had another hurdle to take. He began to negotiate with bankers for a large bond issue to buy gold. But other bankers immediately presented paper legal tender to the Treasury and demanded payment in gold. It was a vicious circle.

The Populists were furious. They saw the difficulties under which Cleveland worked in getting gold for the Treasury. They demanded that the public have an opportunity to subscribe to the government bonds. They took up the fight and insisted once more upon free and unlimited coinage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1. They blamed the low prices of cotton and wheat and other farm products on the scarcity of money.

"CROSS OF GOLD"

Then came the silver-tongued orator, William Jennings Bryan, in his Cross of Gold speech before the Democratic national convention in 1896, in which he said: "You shall not press down upon the brow of Labor this crown of thorns; you shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

The Democrats, fired by the eloquence of Bryan, then only 36 years of age, nominated him for the Presidency. The Republicans nominated William McKinley, former Governor of Ohio.

The political campaign of 1896 was the most bitter in American history. Money was spent like water. It was a campaign of education. People were becoming interested in the mechanics of money. Everywhere they were discussing the money issue. Instead of a single standard of gold, Bryan demanded a money standard of gold and silver on the basis of 16 ounces of gold to one of silver.

But Bryan lost out and McKinley was elected. Upon his re-election in 1900, the Gold Standard Act was passed by Congress and signed by the President. So the battle for gold, after more than a century of struggle was finally won. The gold standard as a basis for currency issue had become the law of the land.

PITTMAN SEEKS SILVER TONICS

Nevada Senator Speaks Over National Broadcast

International Boosting of Price Advocated

British Government Scored for India Action

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—An international agreement to abandon the practice of selling silver among governments was advocated tonight by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, as a means of stabilizing the silver market.

Speaking over the National Broadcasting Company chain, Pittman also urged an international agreement to stabilize the use of silver for monetary purposes

The Nevadan, chairman of a Senate subcommittee appointed to investigate the depressed conditions of silver, criticised the action of the British government of India in substituting paper for silver money.

STABILIZED PRICE

"The abandonment of the policy of the British government in India will immediately permit silver to go back to its normal price of around 60 cents an ounce. The ultimate stabilization of silver will undoubtedly be above the price of 60 cents an ounce," he said.

"When the dumping of silver has ceased, the United States, Great Britain, France, Japan and other countries enjoying great commercial benefits in China, may lend to the national government of China financial and expert aid for the pacification of China and the revivification of that great country. All China needs is friendly co-operation and financial aid.

"If a silver fund could be provided by interested governments for use in China, to be advanced as and when needed for purposes to be approved by a commission of the powers participating in such advance, then, according to all of the evidence, war in China would cease and the soldiers who are working in armies for food would engage in peaceful occupations for the national government.

CHINA RESTORED

"If such result were consummated, we are advised by witnesses who should know, the commerce of China would increase tenfold in a few weeks. This is not surprising when we realize that China has about one-fourth of the population of the world and a rich territory approximately as large as the United States and Mexico combined. It is possessed of a peaceful, industrious and friendly people. It is the next door neighbor of the United States across the Pacific and today we are connected in our commerce by a great Pacific fleet.

"The United States government has in its Treasury between 400,000,000 and 500,000,000 standard silver dollars that constitute a dead, frozen asset, earning no interest whatever. This silver has in the past been used to meet world emergencies and it can, under proper conditions and inducements, probably be used again as part of a fund for the revivification of China."

CAPONE NO OGRE TO YOUTH

Runaway Cleveland Lad, Broke, Seeks Gangster's Home to Ask Financial Aid

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (NANA)—It may be that "Scarface Al" Capone is gangster king and killer to the law enforcers, but not to Harold Green, 15-year-old Cleveland boy.

Thirsting for adventure in this prosaic world, Harold stepped up to the Capone Chicago residence at 7244 Prairie avenue today, where preparations are going forward for the wedding of Al's sister, Mafalda.

"I want to see Al," said Harold as Matthew, a younger brother of Al, answered the ring. "I'm from Cleveland and going to California, but I haven't got any more money. Al's a good sport and I know he'll give me a lift."

"Sure, Al's a good sport," said Matthew. "Come in and make yourself at home."

Harold stepped inside. Matthew, however, secretly telegraphed the boy's parents. Whatever consternation gripped the boy's folks when they read that their child was at the Capone home sent them hurrying to the Cleveland police for advice. The Cleveland police wired the Chicago police, and the Chicago police sent Juvenile Officer Smith to the Capone residence in a hurry.

Harold was taken to the detective bureau and his parents informed that their boy was safe and sound.

ACTION DELAYED FOR LABORITES

Conservatives Waste Time Like Filibuster

MacDonald Balked Through Trivial Argument

New Tactics Watched Keenly in Parliament

LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Obstructive tactics not unlike the filibuster which sometimes blocks progress at Washington are to be employed by the Conservative party in the House of Commons, it appeared today.

Prime Minister MacDonald announced a vote would be taken Thursday on a Conservative motion of censure for the government in regard to its imperial conference policy, but before that the game of the blocking had begun.

TIME WASTED

The obstructionists succeeded in wasting a lot of time in technical argument with the speaker on trivial matters. There was a long debate on a government measure which would give the chairman of the small committee on government agricultural land the same right to ignore amendments as now is enjoyed only by the Speaker and the chairman of the committee of the whole.

The Conservatives took full advantage of the debatable precedents involved with a view to preventing the government from proceeding with its school age bill and other measures MacDonald is anxious to push through.

KEENLY WATCHED

Political observers watched the new tactics with keen interest and some predicted striking developments would result.

The government knew it was facing another strong Conservative attack this week, and hostile motions from the opposition were expected. The government's position appeared to be further weakened by continuing troubles with the left wing Laborites, although in some quarters it was asserted these difficulties are not so serious as the opposition would have the country believe.

Cup to Lipton to Be of Gold

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—Nothing less than gold will do for the cup to be presented to Sir Thomas Lipton, symbolizing the esteem in which Americans hold the British sportsman.

So much money poured into Mayor Walker's office when an appeal for contributions was made by Will Rogers that it was decided to have the cup made of gold, instead of silver as intended.

Presentation will be made December 4. The ceremony will be broadcast.

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 24. Miss Nichols landed at Port Columbus at 11:55 a.m. from Roosevelt Field, New York, and postponed the flight to St. Louis and Wichita after the airport weather bureau advised there was danger of ice forming on the wings of her monoplane, the New Cincinnati.

BREWERIES IN ONTARIO SUSPENDED

Closing of Two Liquor Plants Follows Conviction on Smuggling Charges

WINDSOR (Ont.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Two breweries, one of them the Walkerville Brewery, largest in the Province, have been suspended by the liquor control board from the sale of their product. Whether the suspension is to be permanent has yet to be decided. The Walkerville Brewery was convicted of illegal sales of beer. The Hoefer Brewery, a comparatively small concern, was convicted of the same charge.

The Walkerville concern was fined $5000, a new record penalty, last week for violation of the Liquor-Law Act after a truck had been seized with a load of the company's product near the river front.

An ensuing raid by Provincial police revealed a large cache of beer in an outbuilding asserted to have been kept there for sale to persons who would have smuggled it into the United States.

The Hoefer company was fined $2000 recently after a large quantity of beer was seized near its premises and traced to the brewery.

Shouse Favors Short Week for Federal Aides

NEWARK (N. J.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive Committee, tonight advocated a five-day week for all government employees as the party's first move in a campaign to obtain a five-day week for all workers.

He said the Democrats stood firmly behind such a plan in place of any proposal to cut wages.

Shouse addressed the Democratic Women's Luncheon Club of New Jersey. He said public service would be the "goal and watchword" of the Democrats during the next two years.

Party on Trial, Says Democrat

NEWARK (N. J.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Looking toward the 1932 Presidential election, Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive Committee, asserted tonight the "goal and watchword" of the Democrats for the next two years will be public service.

Addressing the Democratic Women's Luncheon Club of New Jersey, Shouse said "Just as the election of 1930 was the judgment of the country on the failure of the Hoover administration to rise to its opportunity, so must the election of 1932 be the verdict of the nation on the performance of the Democrats chosen in the present year."

AUTOMOBILE AGENCY MAN'S HOME BOMBED

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP) — The home of Carl Wildey, officer of an automobile agency at Hegewisch, a suburb, was bombed tonight, and his baby daughter injured. Damage was estimated by police, at $1000, who said they believed a discharged employee might have been responsible.

WHEAT FARMER TONICS OFFERED

Senate Committee Listens to Legge and Hyde

Board's Head Wants to Cut Acreage 20 Per Cent

McNary Backs Government Entrance in Market

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A 20 per cent reduction in wheat acreage and more elastic control by the government over grain exchange rules were held up to the Senate Agricultural Committee today as additional tonics for the farmers' ills.

Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board proposed the acreage curtailment in the belief it would give the wheat farmer the benefit of the 42 cents a bushel tariff, but Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, a member of the committee, said such a plan would amount to a "national calamity" in event of a crop shortage.

Secretary Hyde discussed recommendations for more definite Federal control over exchanges, but no conclusions were reached by the committee.

Chairman McNary said after an all-day sitting with the government officials and farm organization chiefs he believes his committee unanimously approves the entering of the wheat market by the Farm Board and is inclined to give future support to the board in its efforts to find a solution to the surplus problem.

Hyde and Legge took the position short selling is detrimental to the farmer, regardless of who does the selling. Hyde, when taken to task by Senators Wheeler, Montana, and Thomas, Oklahoma, Democrats, for his criticism of short selling in the Chicago market by agents of the soviet government, replied, it is said, his statements had been taken too seriously. He added, however, more "elastic" or "veto" control over grain exchange rules should be vested in the government.

CAMPBELL LAUDS FARM BOARD'S ACTION

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—Thomas D. Campbell, Hardin (Mont.) farm operator, said today that it is obvious wheat in Chicago would have declined 10 cents a bushel more, as it did in Winnipeg, had it not been for the Federal Farm Board.

"The action of and the good results accomplished by the Federal Farm Board during the past week," he said, "must vindicate it in the eyes of its most severe critics."

"It is doubtful," he said, "if the United States has been at any time within the last twenty-five years as near a domestic basis as it is today, owing to the necessity of using wheat for feed.

"It is evident that the wheat situation in the United States is 'bullish.' A great trouble is that the trade looks at the grain situation from the world's point of view, but even the world situation is not as 'bearish' as we are led to believe."

RUSSIAN WHEAT EXPORTS COME TO END

BERLIN, Nov. 24. (AP)—The soviet trade delegation at Hamburg explained to the Wolff Bureau today Russian wheat exports have ceased for the present as home stocks are exhausted.

The delegation repeated official denials of trouble in Russia. It was indicated the Russians, who have caused a flurry on the grain market with cheap offers of wheat, are confining themselves to trading with wheat cargoes in foreign ports or afloat.

HIGH COURT TO RULE ON OBJECTORS

Rights of Aliens Refusing to Take Oath on Bearing of Arms to Be Decided

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Whether alien conscientious objectors who refuse to take the oath to take up arms in defense of the country are entitled to citizenship is to be settled by the Supreme Court.

The controversies arose when Dr. Douglas Clyde MacIntosh, a Baptist preacher, and a member of the faculty of Yale, and Marie Averil Bland, a nurse, both Canadians, applied in New York City for naturalization.

Both had seen service in the World War but both declined to bind themselves to take up arms in defense of the country.

The Circuit Court of Appeals in each case granted naturalization and the government appealed to the Supreme Court.

Parents Slain by Mad Youth

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Dennis O'Meara, Jr., 18 years of age, killed his father and mother with a knife and hammer, apparently in a fit of insanity, and then hanged himself in the family home, police learned here today.

JAPANESE WELCOME BRITISH WOMAN FLYER

TOKIO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Honorable Mrs. Victor Bruce, escorted by several Japanese airplanes, landed today at Taohikwa Airdrome from Osaka, ending a flight from England to Tokio. A large crowd gave her an enthusiastic welcome. Matajiro Koizumi, Minister of Communications, whose daughter presented the flyer a bouquet, represented the government. Mrs. Bruce left England in September.

MacNIDER AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Hanford MacNinder, American Minister to Canada, was an overnight guest at the White House last night. He said he discussed with the President plans for the new American Legation in Ottawa.

ACADEMY JUNKS ITS TRADITION

Public Welcomed Free at New York Design Display, First Time in 100 Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—The National Academy of Design has departed from a tradition of 100 years for its special winter exhibition which opened tonight to hang up a "Welcome—No Charge" sign for the public.

The innovation is accompanied by two others, one limiting exhibitors to members of the academy, the other permitting them to exhibit their best works instead of their latest. Past exhibits were about 60 per cent the work of outsiders.

Modernistic canvases are conspicuously absent and many pictures painted before that school began are on display. Among the new paintings is one by Charles Dana Gibson, who seldom departs from pen and ink. It is called "Speaking of Prohibition." It depicts four men in a clubhouse whose expressions speak plainly their thoughts on the subject.

HOOVERS TO RECEIVE IGNACE PADEREWSKI

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Ignace Paderewski, who comes to Washington tomorrow for a concert Wednesday night, will be the guest of the President and Mrs. Hoover. A special concert piano has been placed in the rose suite at the White House for his stay. Mr. Hoover has known the pianist since the early days of the World War.

MOSCOW TRIAL ROMAN HOLIDAY

Eight Schemers Virtually Doomed Before Hearing

Proceedings at Court Will Be Broadcast Over Nation

Workers and Others Flock to Witness Show

MOSCOW, Nov. 24. (AP) — Eight men accused of plotting with "capitalist" powers to overthrow the soviet government are to face trial in the House of Columns tomorrow, but they have been virtually convicted already and hundreds of resolutions demanding the death sentence have been forwarded to the court from all sections of the republic.

The proceedings are to be broadcast. Accommodations have been provided in the courtroom for staffs of foreign correspondents and thousands of one-day tickets have been issued so workers might alternate in hearing the trial.

Peter Ivanov, a factory hand from Leningrad, will sit with three Supreme Court judges at this trial, but he will not vote unless one of the others is absent at any session.

Counsel for the defendants has been appointed and the proceeding is regarded in neutral circles as a demonstration by which the soviet government hopes to solidify the Russian people in the face of "impending foreign intervention."

In detailed charges against the eight men the soviet Supreme Court and the Commissar of Police have named Pioncare and Briand of France, England's "Lawrence of Arabia" and the outstanding statesmen and financiers of half a dozen nations as parties to the anti-soviet "plot."

MILLIONS SAVED BY HOOVER PLAN

Benefit of Waste Program Disclosed by Lamont

Fight Begun When President Was in Cabinet

Program Maintained by 120 Branches of Industry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The program projected by Herbert Hoover while head of the Commerce Department to eliminate waste in industry was reported today by Secretary Lamont to have resulted in a total saving of $250,000,000 to those who have adopted it.

Addressing a large group of business men assembled at the Commerce Department to discuss the progress of simplified industrial practices in the reduction of distribution wastes and said there is a potential saving of $10,000,000 annually to department-stores through use of uniform wrapping and packing supplies.

Better understanding of waste-elimination principles in industry, he asserted, should contribute substantially toward alleviating many business difficulties.

*THE JUDKINS TWO-WINDOW

Its economy is evident . . . throughout all the years you drive a Lincoln

FEW Lincoln owners would be willing to name one quality of their motor car's performance which appeals to them more especially than another. Swift, safe, powerful, with a sure beauty of its own, the Lincoln is a notable example of well-balanced excellence. Yet it is not too much to say that the economy of buying a Lincoln, coupled with the continued economy of driving it, contributes greatly to the loyalty of those who know it best.

A Lincoln may be bought for as little as $4200, f.o.b. Detroit. That price, possible only because the entire resources of the Ford organization are behind each Lincoln, brings you as nearly perfect a motor car as can be produced. Built in one of the famous precision plants of the world, tested with unique thoroughness on more than 29,000 separate occasions, the Lincoln is so accurately made it needs no breaking in. You can drive it at normal speed the very first day you own it!

And as varying conditions of travel, through many years, test the full measure of its excellence, the Lincoln will reveal itself as an economical car to drive. Simply because it has been made with such painstaking care, of the finest materials, this motor car is maintained at a genuinely negligible cost. All parts respond unfailingly, continually, with their own particular functions . . . through each of as many years as you care to drive your Lincoln. And perhaps quite as important, the Lincoln retains its style, its comfort and steadfast character indefinitely.

A beauty of design that stands symbol for strength within . . . an exhilarating responsiveness to every command . . . a mechanical perfection that results in true economy of ownership . . . these belong especially to the Lincoln.

The Judkins Two-window Berline. The low roof line, high belt and wide windows accentuate the length and smartness of this motor car. On the interior, the upholstery is deep and luxurious. A desirable feature of the Judkins Berline is its adaptability to both owner and chauffeur driving. Among other formal types are the Willoughby Limousine, the Brunn Cabriolet, the Brunn Brougham, and the LeBaron Cabriolet. Several open types also are available, including the Sport Phaeton, the Locke Sport Roadster and the Dietrich Convertible Coupe.*

OHIO LEGION DECRIES ACT OF BOMBERS

Armistice Day Tear Gas Attack Brings Censure From Service Men

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 24. (AP)—The executive committee of the American Legion of Ohio is on record today in criticism of the tear gas bombing of a grocery store at St. Clairsville, O., last Armistice Day. The store was invaded and bombed by Legionnaires after its manager failed to close the place for the holiday.

In a resolution, adopted at a meeting here yesterday, the committee said the attack was "an uncalled-for demonstration which reflected on the spirit and principles of the Legion." Declaring the Legion would not condone such acts, the committee voted to ask the departmental commander to formally censure the St. Clairsville Post which was held responsible because the demonstrators were identified as Legionnaires. It was emphasized, however, the disturbance was not an official act of the local organization.

A proposal to suspend the post's charter was rejected when investigators reported the bombing caused no property damage.

Death Takes Bout Decision

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Henry Lubinski and Atwood Jahnnicke were bosom friends. Often they met in friendly wrestling bouts.

They tumbled about the floor of Jahnnicke's room last night, striving for a fall. They rose, locked arms, and suddenly lurched through a window and plunged three stories to the street.

They were still locked in a wrestler's embrace when friends reached them. Lubinski was dead and Jahnnicke injured, probably fatally.

ARCHDUKE WINS ONE ACQUITTAL

Napoleon Necklace Larceny Charge Still Faced

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—A jury tonight acquitted Archduke Leopold of Austria of a charge he aided in a grand larceny through unauthorized sale of a Napoleon necklace, the property of his great-aunt, the Archduchess Marie Theresa.

The Archduke was accused of having abetted the sale of the relic for $60,000. The gems assertedly were disposed of to a Fifth-avenue jeweler for far less than their sentimental value.

Judge Bertini ordered bail continued for the Archduke on another indictment charging the actual grand larceny of the necklace.

FLYER DIES IN CRASH OF SHIPS

Chute Fails to Open Until He Strikes Water

John P. Burkhart's Death Laid to Drowning

Lieut. Carl J. Pfingstag "Bails Out" Unhurt

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 24.—Reserve Ensign John P. Burkhart, North Island aviator, was killed, and Carl J. Pfingstag, navy pilot, narrowly escaped death, today when two navy fighting planes collided offshore from Point Loma. Attempts to revive Burkhart with a pulmotor, after he had leaped from his plane close to the water's surface, were unavailing. The flyer's parachute opened just as he touched the water, and his death is attributed to drowning. His body was recovered by a plane from V-T-7 squadron and taken to North Island. Pfingstag, lieutenant, junior grade, the second pilot, escaped uninjured, when he "bailed out." He made a successful parachute landing at sea, and was rescued by a plane from V-J-1 squadron.

The collision occurred when Burkhart and Pfingstag were returning to North Island from gunnery exercises, which were held this morning offshore from La Jolla. When word of the accident was learned here both the North Island navy crash boat and the naval tug Koka put out to the scene of the crash.

Burkhart was married, according to report at fleet air headquarters, and lived in Coronado. Pfingstag is married also and resides at 929 D avenue Coronado. The flyers are attached to V-F-5 squadron of the battle fleet air force.

The second unit will be a group of mission-type bungalows built around a court and patio, and the third unit will be the hotel proper, to contain 100 guest rooms.

Each bungalow will contain eight guest rooms and a separate apartment. The hotel is being built by the Blythe-Monterey Hotel Syndicate.

Edward Galle of Hollywood is in charge of arrangements and James Lynch of Hollywood is superintendent of construction. Milton R. Sutton is architect.

The property is located just at the edge of town on the Sunkist Trail. On official dedication and corner-stone laying is promised by December 1.

IRRIGATION IN VALLEY GROWS

Imperial County Projects Nearly Double in Ten Years, Census Shows

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Irrigable acreage in Imperial Valley enterprises increased 91 per cent in the decade closing with the last census, according to figures issued by the Director of the Census. Although the 1930 figures are preliminary and subject to correction, they are believed to very closely approximate the astonishing growth made in irrigable acreage in enterprises in Imperial Valley during the ten-year period. The total now is well over the million mark.

According to the report, irrigable acreage in enterprises in 1920 was 530,855, while the 1930 total was 1,014,420, or an increase of 483,565 acres.

Acreage irrigated in 1919, according to the report, was 415,304, while in 1929 there were 432,100 irrigated, an increase of 4 per cent.

Acreage enterprises in 1920 were capable of irrigating only 457,815 acres, as compared with 529,420 in 1930, or an increase of 16.6 per cent.

CONFERENCE FINDS FEW NEED JOBS

Unemployment Situation in Inglewood Not Grave; Groups to Provide Work

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 24.—A recent conference called to discuss the unemployment situation in this city has determined that unemployment here is not widespread and that there is no great distress apparent in the community. The group called together by Mayor Hugh B. Lawrence, after considerable discussion agreed that there is no need for a survey to determine the situation.

It was decided, however, to ask that the three employment groups now operating here be asked to coordinate under one head, and that a general appeal be issued that residents who have odd jobs to be done communicate with the co-ordinating committee and have the work done at once.

The three agencies designated include the city building inspector's office in the City Hall, the Chamber of Commerce in the postoffice building, and the All-Veterans' Employment Council, at 441 East Redondo Boulevard, conducted exclusively for the benefit of ex-service men.

Two local business firms have recently on their own initiative done their bit to relieve unemployment or the ensuing resultant distress. George C. Malloy and Clinton H. Spaulding of Malloy's Pharmacy announced free meals will be served there every afternoon to Centinela Valley residents who are penniless, and the response was said to be very light, less than half a dozen individuals taking advantage of this generosity.

Leo Calkins of the Inglewood Mercantile Company instituted a careful survey of all the houses and buildings in the community to ascertain the need of painting or repair, and then urged the respective owners to give employment at once to persons needing work by having the necessary repairs made.

REDONDO BEACH WILL REGISTER UNEMPLOYED

REDONDO BEACH, Nov. 24.—Registrations of all American citizen residents of this place who are unemployed has been asked by the City Council as the first step toward furnishing employment to all who are critically in need of it. The play announced yesterday follows the consideration by the Council of a project whereby the Sepulveda Boulevard improvement here can be started immediately, and if necessary all city work placed on a double-shift schedule.

MYSTERY SHOT EXPLAINED

Wounded Huntington Park Man's Wife Under Arrest on Charge of Assault With Deadly Weapon

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 24.—The mysterious shooting here Thursday midnight in which Fred Freck, alias Clark, was wounded in the neck while in his second-story apartment, a bullet being fired through the window near which he was seated, is seemingly cleared with the arrest of Mrs. Fred Freck this morning at the Mission Hospital by Lieut. Harold Atkinson and Detective Sergeant Leo Bailey, of the local police department.

Mrs. Freck called at the hospital where her husband was confined and shortly afterward was arrested and taken to the County Jail. A charge of assault with a deadly weapon was placed against her, police state.

Freck and Mrs. Frankie Crane were before City Judge Carson Hubbard late this afternoon, where each was charged with a statutory offense. They were arraigned and each placed under bail of $1000 to await preliminary hearing.

Following arrest of Mrs. Freck police state she informed them that she had fired the shot through the window at Freck in an effort to frighten the man when a woman was in his apartment said to be preparing a cup of coffee for him near the midnight hour.

According to her story Freck left her in Toledo, O., in 1927, coming to Los Angeles. About a year ago she learned of his whereabouts through a piece of mail which had been sent his relatives in the eastern city, so she came to Los Angeles. Later she learned he was residing in Huntington Park. Last Thursday she met him in front of a local store. They went to a park, where an effort was made at reconciliation, it is said.

Freck, on leaving, is said to have promised his wife he would meet her next day. He left his dog in her car. The animal early Thursday evening is said to have led the woman to the house in which his apartment is located. Shortly befor the midnight hour Freck was shot in the neck. Saturday afternoon two girls found a revolver in a lot near the Freck apartment, one bullet from the chamber being missing. This was turned over to police.

Freck has been employed at a local factory, working from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 11 at night.

FIVE TRAPPED IN BURNING HOME

All Seared, Two Seriously, Before Leaping Out

Simi Blaze Spreads to Three Other Small Houses

One Mexican So Badly Hurt He Cannot Give Name

SIMI, Nov. 24.—Five persons were burned, two of them seriously, and four homes were damaged at 1 o'clock this morning here when fire of an unknown origin broke out in a two-story house and spread rapidly despite the efforts of the townspeople to stop it.

The five were trapped on the second floor and had to leap from windows to escape death. Four at the County Hospital here are: Mrs. Maxina Lopez, 40 years of age, first and second-degree burns; Elijo Gomez, 45, slight burns; Joe Alcado, 23, burns and lacerations, and P. Mendoza, burns and lacerations.

At St. John's Hospital in Oxnard is an unidentified elderly Mexican man, so badly burned that he cannot tell his name.

The blaze started on the first floor and blocked the stairway, according to reports. It spread to three small homes near by, doing damage to each. Townspeople fought the flames with hose from a nearby Shell Oil Company plant.

The fire was extinguished finally with the aid of the county fire department. Damage was estimated at $1500.

Nine fire calls were answered by the county fire department during the week-end. Except for destruction of the Harry Youngken home three miles west of Fillmore, they were not important blazes.

City Hears of Playground and Park Projects

TORRANCE, Nov. 24.—A plan to purchase and improve a forty-five-acre park here and the acquisition of several small playgrounds in various sections of the city has been advanced by the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor John Dennis. The move is designed to provide this community with an adequate park system, at the same time furnishing employment to many local citizens.

As advanced by the chamber the playgrounds can be acquired from the general fund of the organization and will not conflict with the park program as sponsored by Mayor Dennis, since the former move is to give play space to very small children in the vicinity of their homes. Mayor Dennis's project would require a bond issue, petitions for which have been asked. They are expected to be ready for presentation to the City Council at its next meeting on December 2.

Option upon one location for the playgrounds, at Madrid and Sonoma avenues, has already been secured by the chamber at a price of $2470, and several other sites are in view for the same purpose. The tract already owned, which adjoins the American Legion Hall, has been tentatively accepted by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors as a district health center site, and will not be improved as a playground at this time.

FOUR HURT IN MISHAP NEAR INDIO

J. C. Brown, Son of Oil Company Official, Among Injured in Head-on Crash

INDIO, Nov. 14.—Four persons are in the Coachella Valley hospital in a serious condition as a result of an automobile collision on the State highway last night about six miles west of here. According to police reports, James C. Brown of 919 West Adams street, Los Angeles, son of Chester Brown, vice-president of the Union Oil Company, with Herbert Cook of Merced, was driving to this city to look after a date garden his father had recently purchased, when his steering gear is said to have broken and he ran head on into a light car going west, completely demolishing both vehicles. The light car was driven by Carl M. Lich of the U.S.S. Tennessee, who had with him as a passenger Miss Elsie Freeman of 807 Lucile avenue, Los Angeles.

The victims were all rendered unconscious by the impact and lay on the road until Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Johnston of Indio, on their way to Los Angeles, found them. They gave what aid they could and hurried back to this city for an ambulance.

At the hospital it was found that Brown was suffering from shock and many cuts and bruises as well as having most of his teeth knocked loose. Cook has a severe scalp wound, Lich a broken femur and Miss Freeman a gash in her head and a possible concussion of the brain.

MAN ESCAPES LIGHTLY IN SPECTACULAR CRASH

POMONA, Nov. 24.—In a spectacular crash at the intersection of Towne and San Francisco avenues today in which his car was overturned when struck by another driven by Mrs. E. C. Basten of Spadra, W. F. Robertson, 956 Jefferson street, received only a bad cut on the back of his head which will not prove serious. The small extent of his hurts was reported at the Pomona Community Hospital where he was taken immediately for medical attention.

Robertson was going south on Towne avenue and attempted to stop his car when he saw a crash with Mrs. Basten's machine going west on San Francisco, was imminent, but the skidding of his wheels only served to complicate the crash and his car overturned, he said.

EL CENTRO, Nov. 24.—Boy! Page Eve and the fig leaf!

Strange as it may seem, one head of California head lettuce contains enough leaves to clothe madam modestly from neck to skirt hem. And, believe it or not, the Golden State last year produced sufficient heads of the green table delicacy to make a dress for every woman in the civilized world outside of China.

All of which is according to F. E. Scott, freight traffic manager for Southern Pacific, who says that this year's winter lettuce from the Imperial Valley will start shipment by Thanksgiving Day.

From a start of 1070 carloads in the 1918-19 season, Imperial Valley's lettuce shipments reached a peak of 13,000 carloads last year. The coming winter crop will, it is anticipated, make up by its unusually fine quality for any falling off in volume.

Oh yes, the lady in the picture? She's Billie Stockton, Hollywood dancer, who proved to her own satisfaction that one head of Imperial Valley lettuce provides ample coverage for her, provided rabbits can be kept at a distance.

MOULTON IN INSANITY PLEA

San Diego County Assessor Pleads Not Guilty When Arraigned on Four Counts of Indictment

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 24.—After pleading "not guilty by reason of insanity" to each of the four counts in the indictment against him today, George W. Moulton, County Assessor, charged with diverting nearly $30,000 of the public funds for his own use, was taken back to jail in lieu of $50,000 bonds. Several of Moulton's friends are said to be trying to raise a $100,000 property bond to secure the accused official's release pending trial.

Counsel for Moulton have arranged with the District Attorney to make copies of the grand jury's testimony transcript, with a view to studying all aspects of the evidence presented before preparing their case. They have given no indication what line their defense will take.

Following the entering of pleas Superior Judge Clarence Harden declined to set a date for hearing when attorneys indicated that a continuance would be sought and ordered the case transferred to Department 4, Judge C. N. Andrews's court. Judge Andrews set a tentative date of hearing for December 22.

The court then provided that two alienists, one of whom must be in the employ of a State institution for the insane, be appointed to examine Moulton. The court further stated that both prosecution and defense may select other alienists to examine the assessor if they so desire.

Christmas Seal Drive for Crippled Children Stops

Method Held Too Similar to Antituberculosis Plan

PASADENA, Nov. 24.—Two arrests were made here late today in connection with the asserted solicitation of funds for the Christmas seal campaign to raise funds for crippled children in the Los Angeles County General Hospital. E. E. Rinehart of 1335 North Hobart Boulevard, Los Angeles, and Harry A. Scott, Negro, of 919 West Second street, that city, are held in the City Jail on the charge of soliciting funds by phone without a license.

The arrests were made at the instance of William Dunkerly, secretary of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, after several persons, becoming suspicious in regard to the manner of solicitation, asked him to have an investigation made.

The Christmas Seal campaign, directed by Rev. E. E. Haring, Los Angeles General Hospital chaplain, for the purpose of filling the stockings of crippled children in the hospital, was halted following charges that the campaign threatened success of the annual sale of seals sponsored by the Tuberculosis Association.

Promoters of the hospital seal campaign declined to comment fully on reports that, after promotion charges, sales and printing costs were paid, the children would get no more than 25 per cent of the proceeds.

Mr. Haring declared that the campaign, consisting of mailing hundreds of letters containing seals to residents of this city and outlying communities, had been postponed indefinitely when it was learned that the orthodox tuberculosis Christmas seals had not been mailed. The General Hospital chaplain referred the reporter for additional information to a Mr. Banks, asserted to be one of the campaign managers.

Interrogated regarding the charge that the hospital children would get the benefit of only 25 per cent of the funds secured by raising the seals, Banks, reached by telephone, declared that at the present time "I have no idea how much the children will get, as we haven't received all our bills for printing and mailing yet." After giving this information, he requested the reporter not to quote him in the matter, and declined to definitely deny the assertion that only a small part of the proceeds would reach the children. He admitted, however, that one of the reasons for halting the campaign was the fact that persons who have been in the habit of purchasing antituberculosis seals appeared to confuse these seals with those whose sale was solicited under the letterhead of the Los Angeles County General Hospital.

The Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association and Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer, are asserted to have expressed sympathy for the plan to provide funds for the crippled children's Christmas fund, but to have opposed actively the attempt to start a rival Christmas-seal campaign, which threatened to diminish proceeds from the time-honored sale of antituberculosis seals.

STABBING FOLLOWED BY ARREST

Jesus Zuniga Jailed After Contrario Castiano Is Found Knifed at Oxnard

OXNARD, Nov. 24.—Contrario Castiana of Saticoy is in a serious condition today at St. John's Hospital here with a knife wound in his body and a deep slash across his chest, asserted to have been inflicted by Jesus Zuniga Saturday night in a quarrel over Zuniga's cousin, Georgia Lucano. Castiana is not expected to survive. The asserted stabbing occurred in this city.

Zuniga is held at the County Jail pending the outcome of Castiana's injuries. Jesus Flores of this city is held for questioning in connection with the stabbing.

According to Castiana's story, told to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Don Holt as he lay at death's door in the hospital, he had gone to the home of Zuniga to urge Georgia Lucano to return to his home. He found Zuniga mending the electric wiring on a washing machine with his penknife. He called through the door to him and Zuniga rushed out, waving the penknife, Castiana said.

After Castiana became unconscious his asserted attacker dragged him between two buildings, officers said. He was found two hours later by the Lucano woman and rushed to the hospital, where his condition was found to be serious.

The officers made a search of Oxnard for Zuniga and finally learned that Flores had taken him to the home of an uncle, Tomas Zuniga, on the Mathieson ranch in the Triunfo district. Officers assert they found him in bed, fully dressed and with a mattress covering him. They further assert that he made no resistance and admitted that he had had a fight with Castiana, and that his silk shirt was spattered with blood, as were a package of cigarettes and matches in his pocket. In this pocket officers declare they found a blood-stained penknife.

HUNTING ACCIDENT FATAL TO YOUTH

Charles E. Dabbs

SAN CLEMENTS, Nov. 24.—Charles E. Dabbs, 17 years of age, lost his life yesterday when he bled to death as the result of a gun-shot wound. The trigger of the 10-gauge shotgun he was pulling out of the car accidentally discharged when it struck the door of the machine. This was the decision reached by Coroner Charles D. Brown's jurors at the inquest held in the Divel mortuary here this morning.

Young Dabbs, accompanied by three other youths, Frank Daley, 18; Lawrence Waters, 19; Eugene Albrect, 17, and the mother of one of the youths were on a three-day hunting trip. At the time of the accident, the party was thirty miles east of Oceanside near Pala. The boys telephoned to Long Beach for an ambulance but it was 5 o'clock in the afternoon before the victim reached the hospital and clinic here for medical treatment. Dr. Garnet B. Grant, surgeon at the hospital, did everything that he could in an effort to save the youth's life, but in vain, for he died two hours later. The bullet had severed the axillary vein under the right arm.

Dabbs graduated with the class of 1930 from the Woodrow Wilson High School in Long Beach. He was student body president and president of the senior class; he was a member of the Order of De Molay and the Hi-Y Club. He played on the varsity football team. He was ready to enter Oregon State College next semester.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Dabbs of 2050 Cherry avenue, Long Beach, prominent residents for many years, and a brother, William, of this city.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at the Patterson & McQuillan funeral home, in Long Beach.

October Operating Costs Cut by 15 Per Cent

Income Increases $309,083 in Ten Months' Period

Indications of a continuance of policies designed to increase operating efficiency to better the ratio of net earnings to gross revenues were reflected in the October statement of the Southern California Edison Company, issued yesterday by R. H. Ballard, president.

While October gross revenues declined approximately $4000 from October, 1929, net operating income increased $183,232.22, or 8 per cent, from $2,439,081.25 in October last year to $2,622,313.47 last month.

EXPENSES CUT

Gross revenues totaled $3,622,524.42, against $3,626,474.17 a year ago, a decrease of $3949.75, while operating expense, including taxes, amounted to $1,000,210.95, as compared with $1,187,392.92 last year, representing a decrease of $187,181.97, or 15 per cent.

Net earnings remaining for dividends and depreciation after all prior fixed charges were $2,034,109.07, as against $1,866,657.68 in October, 1929, an increase of $167,451.39.

GROSS HIGHER

Gross earnings of the company for ten months ended October 31 aggregated $34,444,140.20, as compared with $33,600,833.80 for the corresponding period last year, an increase of $843,306.40, or 3 per cent. This increase was made in the face of a voluntary reduction of rates that was effected late in December last year.

Operating expenses, including taxes for this period, amounted to $11,142,245.18, representing an increase of $197,011.57, or 1.8 per cent over that for the same months last year. The balance as net operating income totaled $23,301,894.02. This compares with net operating income of $22,655,800.19 reported for the same period last year and represents an increase of $646,293.83, or 3 per cent.

The balance available for dividends and depreciation after all other fixed charges totaled $17,428,962.56, against $17,119,879.40 last year, an increase of $309,083.16.

Aviation Unit Offers to Buy Stout Air Line

BUFFALO, Nov. 24.—North American Aviation, Inc., has offered to purchase all the assets of the Stout D. & C. Air Lines, Inc., for 46,500 shares of its capital stock, which is a ratio of 37-100th of a share of North American for one share of Stout.

School Thrift Depositors in Sharp Upturn

In many of the Los Angeles schools more school savings accounts were opened the first two months of this semester than in all of the preceding year, Frank R. Alvord, vice-president and cashier of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank and president of the Los Angeles Banks School Savings Association, stated yesterday.

"School children are solving their own problem in the present economic situation," said Mr. Alvord. "This is shown by the fact that there were 3987 new school savings bank accounts opened during October. Since July 1, last, there have been 6097 accounts opened.

"It is a tribute to the more than 73,000 students in the Los Angeles school district who are now possessors of school savings accounts that they have to their credit approximately $1,600,000."

NINE MONTHS' RECORD TOLD

Utilities Write Best History in Depression Period; Amusement Units Also Prosper

BY EARLE E. CROWE

For investors in common stocks interested in knowing which industries perform best in periods of depression, a comparative study of nine months' earnings reports will serve as a helpful yardstick in making future commitments. The public utility shares, as in past depressions, seem to have written the most creditable records in this business cycle.

Ninety-five utility companies included in a compilation of corporation profits made by Ernst & Ernst reported an increase of 4.40 per cent in net earnings for the first eight months of this year compared with the same period of 1929. To investors this should mean that public utility shareholders have been better protected against dividend decreases than stockholders in any other line.

TOLL SEVERE

How sweeping the effects of depression have been is told by the record of 640 corporations for the first nine months. Net profits were 24.42 per cent under the same period of 1929.

Telephone companies, according to this compilation, have a record nearly approaching the utilities with net income for the first eight months 1.68 per cent less than the same period of last year.

Again conforming to history, the industrial companies registered the greatest percentage decline in the nine months' period. A total of 271 industrials dropped 36.28 per cent in net income. Not far behind came the railroads with a decrease of 31.51 per cent.

From the standpoint of safety of income, the industrial and rail stocks are not choicest of investments to hold during periods of depressed business. This is a generalization, however, subject to a good many exceptions upon analysis of the various subdivisions in the industrial and rail group.

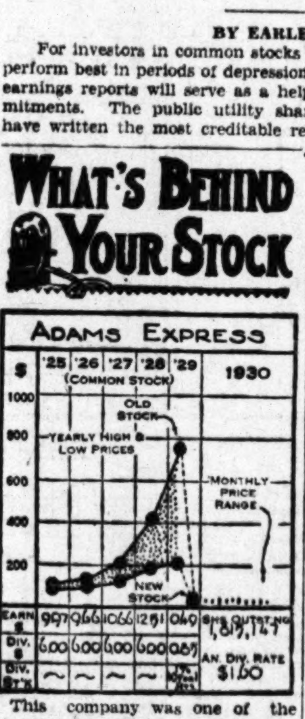
AMUSEMENT PAYS

The amusement industry, for illustration, has withstood the shock of depression in admirable fashion, showing a gain of 27.96 per cent in net profits for the first nine months. This performance is corroboration of the axiom that the public will spend money for amusement no matter what the condition of business is.

People also eat, depression or no depression. The testimony comes from an increase in restaurant chain net profits of 5.91 per cent in the first nine months.

The craving for sweets and the yearning for soft drinks, tea and coffee are not allowed to remain unsatisfied just because business is bad. The evidence: a gain of 5.15 per cent in the net income of beverage and confectionary companies.

On the other side of the industrial ledger, the divisions not able to hold up in depression include mining and smelting, a drop of 72.23 per cent in net income; electrical household equipment, 63.90 per cent; aeronautics, 62.23 per cent; textiles, 61.76 per cent; coal mining, 60.26 per cent; automobiles, 51.98 per cent; iron and steel, 45.96 per cent; oils, 33.66 per cent.



This company was one of the pioneers in the express business, its record extending back three-quarters of a century, but in 1918 sold its physical assets to the American Railway Express Company, receiving in return a large block of that company's capital stock. Since 1918 Adams Express has operated as a management investment trust, the dominant interest being the banking firm of Hayden, Stone & Co.

In November, 1929, large blocks of stock were issued in connection with the acquisition of the assets of the Haygart Corporation, an investment trust, and the Railway & Express Company, thus making last year's per share earnings of little value in measuring real earning power, since dividends on its holdings are the greatest source of income. Although current earnings reports are not made available to the public, it is reported that gross profit will approximate $5,500,000 in the 1930 calendar year as against $1,844,002 in 1929.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt	$9,889,500
5% cumulative preferred stock (par $100)	$8,054,870
Common stock (no par)	1,815,147 shares

Current Data: The above estimate of gross profit may be revised upward or downward as it becomes advisable in the remainder of the year to take profits or establish losses for income tax purposes.

Huge American Investment in Foreign Lands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—American corporations now have direct investments abroad with a total value of $7,500,000,000.

The figure was announced today by the Commerce Department after a special study of capital values of branch factories, public utilities, sugar plantations, smelters, mines and miscellaneous establishments under American ownership in foreign countries.

More American capital has gone into this type of investment in Canada than anywhere else, totaling $1,960,000,000. For South American countries, the American corporation holdings were estimated at $1,547,000,000, in Europe $1,352,000,000 and in Cuba and the West Indies $1,053,000,000. American factory branches in Europe are valued at $628,000,000.

Utility System Profits Higher

Profits of American States Public Service Company available for interest, reserves and Federal taxes for the twelve months ended October 31, last, yesterday were reported at $929,439, a gain of 8.54 per cent over profits of $856,303, on the same basis in the preceding year. Gross revenues for the period amounted to $1,767,662, as against $1,706,140 in the preceding year. Operating expenses for 1930 were $838,223, a decrease of $13,613 from the previous year.

The company reported for the month of October profits of $74,530 on the above basis, compared with $69,684 in the 1929 month. October gross revenue totaled $155,095 as against $143,380 in the same month last year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Havana Electric Railway Company omitted today the quarterly dividend of $1.50 on the 6 per cent preferred stock due at this time.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—An early advance, accompanied by reports December notices were being stopped by trade interests, was followed by reactions under comparatively small offerings in cotton here today.

Trade interests were buyers on a scale down, however, and after easing off to 10.73 for the new December and 11.37 for May, or about 3 to 13 points net lower, the market steadied on covering. Trading was quiet during the middle of the afternoon, with active months showing rallies of 4 to 5 points from the lowest.

COMBINE OF FOUR BANKS PROGRESSES

New York Institutions Agree on Tentative Plan for Consolidation

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—With the agreement on a tentative plan and basis of merger, the proposed consolidation of the Manufacturers' Trust Company, the Public National Bank and Trust Company, the Bank of United States and International Trust Company has taken definite form, according to an announcement made today. The merger plan is subject to ratification by the respective boards of directors and stockholders of the institutions.

Upon such ratification becoming effective, J. Herbert Case, now chairman of the board of directors of Federal Reserve Bank of New York, will join the combined institution as its head.

Mortimer N. Buckner, Walter E. Frew and George W. Davison will become members of the board of directors. Nathan S. Jonas and Henry C. Vonelm, now respectively chairman of the board and president of Manufacturers' Trust Company, will remain in important positions. E. Chester Gersten, now president of the Public National Bank and Trust Company, will become president of the new bank.

Application will also be made in the New York Clearing House Association and on the basis of the individual statements of the four institutions, the new bank with deposits of over $700,000,000 and resources of nearly $1,000,000,000 will rank fourth in size among the banks in New York City.

Net Profits of Power Utility Show Decrease

October consolidated net operating income of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation and subsidiaries amounted to $196,769.56, an increase of $2,298.47 over that for October, 1929, while gross revenues declined $12,612.93 to $383,528.48, according to a statement issued yesterday.

Due principally to a decrease of $3200 in nonoperating earnings and a larger depreciation charge-off, the net available for dividends after all charges amounted to $30,555.82, a decrease of $11,062.05, or about 30 per cent.

Gross revenues for twelve months ended October 31 amounted to $5,626,108.62, against $5,623,335.06 a year ago, and net operating income totaled $2,904,321.68, as compared with $2,901,867.68 last year. Net earnings after all charges amounted to $887,759.06, a decrease of $57,289.66.

Dividend Rate Cut in Two by Sinclair Oil

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—The Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation declared a quarterly dividend today of 25 cents on the common stock, as reduced from 50 cents paid previously.

A statement issued by the directors said the corporation this year will do the largest volume of business in its history, but it has been impossible to realize satisfactory profits, owing to general business conditions, oversupply and lower consumption and low prices. The board explained it felt it was in the best interests of the stockholders to maintain the corporation's "exceptionally strong position by a conservative course at this time."

The 25-cent payment was described as a dividend rather than a quarterly dividend, and was not considered as definitely placing the stock on a $1 annual basis.

Heavy Selling Laid to Trusts

BERLIN, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Heavy selling on Berlin Boerse is generally attributed to American investment trusts' liquidation of foreign engagements in banking, shipping, electrical and better-known steel shares. Several million shares have been sold in the past few days for foreign account. German General Electric sold at par for the first time in six years.

German financial circles see the cause of selling in American conditions because German shares have lost more in the past month than effects of trade depression would justify. Leading shares are now yielding 8 per cent to 12 per cent on basis of last dividend declarations, although dividends for 1930 probably will average 2 per cent to 3 per cent under last year's distribution.

Locomotive to Have Subsidiary

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—William H. Woodin, chairman of the American Locomotive Company, stated today that the company has formed Alco Products, Inc., a new subsidiary, which will carry on a business of engineering, designing and construction of process plants and equipment for the oil refinery industry.

The new company has ample working capital supplied by American Locomotive Company, and will be controlled and backed in expansion of its business by large resources of the parent company. Alco Products, Inc., will absorb and carry on the business of Heat Transfer Products, Inc., which was acquired by American Locomotive in December, 1929.

TEXTILE SITUATION STUDIED

Survey of Industry in Far Eastern Countries Uncovers Strong Rival of America

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Charles K. Moser, after eight months study, has just made his report on the cotton textile industry of far eastern countries to the Pepperell Manufacturing Company of Boston. He draws some very startling conclusions regarding the future of the industry, so far as the United States is concerned.

In a word, Mr. Moser, who is chief of the Far East section of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the United States Department of Commerce, has come to the conclusion that American textile manufacturers are throwing good money after bad in attempting to expand their markets in the Far East. He takes 143 printed pages of statistics and data to give his reasons why.

It seems that three great countries—Japan, China and India—are providing for their own needs and the textile needs of the rest of the Far East in increasingly large amount.

"The far eastern markets," says Mr. Moser, "in the future will be more and more dominated by the cotton textile output of far eastern countries. American and European mills are likely to find competition with them even more severe than in the past, excepting, for some years at least, in fine cotton and finished goods and specialties. Here, too, however, Asiatic mills are rapidly improving in efficiency, and production and quality of output."

The textile industry is one of the major ones in the United States. It is more fundamental than either the automobile or radio industries. This report, therefore, of Mr. Moser should be read by textile manufacturers everywhere and particularly by those Americans who are planning an expansion of their factory output in the Far East.

When Sir Henry Thornton installed a two-way commercial telephone service six months ago on the fast passenger trains of the Canadian National Railroad, between Montreal and Toronto, a run of about 335 miles, it constituted something new in railroading.

How is it worked out? Well, some trains have handled as high as thirty-one calls on a single trip, and the total number for the first five months was 791 calls.

According to the American Vice-Consul, Steyne, Montreal, during the first six months of operation, about 60 per cent of the messages handled were "curiosity" calls, and about 20 per cent business conversations. But when the novelty wore off, business calls moved into first place. Now about 65 per cent of the total number are business calls, with social calls about 25 per cent, and "curiosity" messages have dropped to 10 per cent.

The Canadian government has decided to stand back of Western Canada cattle breeders and shippers. Robert Weir, Canadian Minister of Agriculture, has announced a policy of granting free railroad haulage of breeding stock from the stockyards at Winnipeg, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Calgary and Edmonton to the small cities and towns.

The Western Canadian wheat farmer, like his brother farmer in the western part of the United States, must come to diversification. No longer can he rely on the one crop. It is too risky—especially in such times as the present.

So the Canadian government has decided to co-operate in securing for those farmers, who desire them, 3-year-old high-grade heifers, selected by the Canadian government stock-yard agents.

It is more than a step in the right direction—it is a statesmanlike performance.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (P)—Curb stocks fluctuated uncertainly today, and in the main were lower at the close, although the rally on the big board caused some sympathetic recovery in this market. The day's transactions totaled 401,400 shares.

Electric Bond and Share rallied to close at 50¼, a net gain of ½ point, after declining to 48⅛. American Gas and Electric sold off more than 3, and closed off 2, net.

Reduction of the Sinclair quarterly dividend from 50 to 25 cents caused no surprise, and was without visible effect upon the oil shares. Gulf closed up ¾, and Vacuum up ⅜. Cities Service and Indiana closed about steady, off ⅛ and ¼, respectively. Standard of Kentucky lost a point.

The industrials were inclined to work lower, although Niles Bement Pond and Northwestern Engineering gained about a point. Cooper Bessemer lost 2 points. Sidney Blumenthal dropped nearly 3 to a new low.

Goldman-Sachs rallied ½ point to 11. It was helped by news the plan to merge Manufacturers' Trust, in which it has a large interest, with three smaller banks, was about completed.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

PRACTICALLY all stocks of America's leading companies are today selling at prices materially lower than have existed for many years. Many undoubtedly are now "buys" and should go higher, while others may sell still lower. However, to choose the best individual stocks is admittedly a difficult task.

But by purchasing well selected fixed-type investment trusts at their current low prices, investors may take advantage of the low average price of all these "blue-chip" stocks listed on the New York Stock or Curb Exchanges. Even in the event a few stocks should drop to lower levels, the price of a trust share would probably be but little affected.

In our opinion, these fixed-type investment trusts afford investors excellent opportunities to benefit by long term appreciation possibilities, steady cash income, security of principal and ready marketability. In addition, wide geographical, industrial and dollar diversification is obtained . . . all important in the wise selection of any investment.

READ THIS ARTICLE ON THE DEPRESSION OE 1830

and Forecast for 1930

In view of the interesting light thrown on the present business depression, we have reprinted excerpts from an article written 100 years ago by Thomas B. Macaulay, eminent English historian and economist. This article compares the depression of 1830 with the crash of 1720 and predicts the state of affairs in 1930.

Human nature has not changed, and this article is just as applicable to the present situation as it was in 1830. Most of his predictions have come true. Send name and address for a free copy.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Quotations Show Little Change on Local Stock Market as Trading Activity Slackens

Security prices drifted fractionally easier as the week's trading was resumed yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Operations were the lightest for any full-day session for sometime and there were no indications of any definite trend in either direction. No price changes exceed a full point and few were larger than ½ point.

Transamerica and Union Oil issues continued to lead the activity, the former fluctuating all day within 1-4 point and finishing at 15 3-4 after a turnover of 2600 shares to record a net loss of 1-8. Security-First National Bank, on the transfer of fifty shares, yielded ½ to 91. Seaboard National eased 1-8 to 40 and Seaboard National Securities dropped a point to hit a new low at the same price. No other bank stocks were traded and Pacific Finance remained firm at 15 3-8.

The oils recorded no changes of significance. Union dipped 1-4 to 26½ and Union Associates, 1-8 to 25 1-4. Standard of California at 50 1-4 was off 3-8 and Shell down 1-4 at 8 1-4. Richfield preferred eased 3-8 to 12 5-8 and Bolsa Chica the same amount to 13½, both on sales of only 100 shares.

Southern California Edison maintained the ground gained in the recovery movement of last week, closing the session at 49½. Pacific Gas and Electric transferred at 49½, off ½.

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance firmed up 1-4 to 62½ and Claude Neon held to 17. Pickwick fell off 5 cents to another new bottom at 1.10 and Goodyear Tire and Rubber preferred also struck another record at 81, down 1 point.

Sales totaled 9152 shares, valued at $220,415; previous day, 8319 shares, valued at $160,120.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Estimated offerings for Monday's trade included several loads of cattle that had not arrived around 1 o'clock. Trade was fairly active during the morning at fully steady rates on practically all killing classes, with a few sales of steers considered 15@25c higher. The only apparent slowness was on dairy cows, some of which were possibly a trifle lower. Steers were more plentiful than she stock with California, Utah and Idaho the main contributors with a number of loads from New Mexico, Arizona and Texas. Stocker and feeder demand was good and several loads went to this outlet.

A load of good 1228-pound California steers topped at 9.25 with a load of 1013-pound weights at 9.00. Bulk of the medium to low good steers ranging in weight from 893 to 1185 pounds brought 7.85@8.75. Imperial and Arizona Mexican type steers scored 7.10@7.40 with two loads of light Texas steers at 6.50. A load and several bunches of very common steers sold down to 6.25. Light steers and yearlings went to feeders at 7.60@8.00 with small lots down to 6.25.

Several loads of medium to good heifers brought 6.75@7.25 with odd head up to 7.50. Plainer heifers sold down to 5.75. Odd head of cows were good enough to bring 6.50, but only a few lots of low good kinds were available at 6.00@6.25. Bulk of the common to medium cows scored 4.60@5.75 with most low cutters and cutters at 2.75@4.25, some strong weight cutters making 4.50. Medium to good bulls brought 4.25@6.00.

CALVES — A moderately active and steady trade prevailed on calves and vealers. The scattering of medium to good native milk vealers brought 9.50@12.00 with odd head up to 13.50 and 14.00. Southwestern calves to killers made 7.50@9.00 with extreme heavy weights down to 6.00. Stocker buyers took a few loads at 7.75@8.75.

HOGS—Receipts of nine loads included two loads sold to arrive at 10.10. Trade was fairly active on most offerings at prices 10@25c higher. Three loads of 187 to 197-pound Nebraska and New Mexico butchers topped at 10.25 and four loads of 133 to 219-pound weights brought 10.10@10.15. A few packages of local fed hogs brought 9.75@10.00. Packing sows were lacking.

SHEEP—Six decks of medium California lambs and a deck of trucked-in stock were late arriving but sold shortly thereafter at strong prices. Six decks of 83-pound California lambs brought 7.00 with a deck of 31-pound weights sorted out at 5.75. A deck of 86-pound trucked-in lambs made 6.50. Choice light lambs are quoted to 7.75 and medium to choice ewes quoted 3.00@4.00.

...THROUGH LACK OF DIVERSIFICATION

EARLY in 1929, a well-known business man sold a concern that he had developed for $4,000,000. In return, he received stock in the company that bought his business.

Due to changing conditions in that particular industry, coupled with the general business depression, his stock has now declined in value to $400,000. Had he sold this stock and reinvested the proceeds in the 28 diversified common stocks listed at the right which underlie Corporate Trust Shares, his holdings would still be worth over $2,500,000. When you invest in

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A strong resistance is being offered by members of the wool trade against pressure for lower prices on the finer grades of domestic wool. Asking prices are fairly firm on 56s and lower grade domestic wool, although the association of these grades remains somewhat uncertain owing to irregular prices on cross-bred wools in foreign primary markets. Receipts of domestic wool during week ending November 22, amounted to 1,585,100 pounds, as compared with 643,100 pounds during previous week.

$3,000,000
Washington Gas and Electric Company
First Mortgage Gold Bonds
5% Series, Due November 1, 1955
Price 90 and Interest, Yielding over 5.75%

The Company agrees to pay interest without deduction for any normal Federal income tax up to 2% and to reimburse the holders of these bonds, upon application within 60 days after payment for the California Personal Property Tax not exceeding 4 mills per $1.00 per annum.

The following information has been taken from official sources

Washington Gas and Electric Company supplies directly at retail manufactured gas in Tacoma, Everett, Olympia, Aberdeen and other communities in the State of Washington, electric light and power in Longview and Morton, Washington, and adjacent territory and water in Longview. Through subsidiaries electric light and power is supplied in Vernonia, Oregon, in 18 communities in Utah and in 28 communities in the southern part of the Province of Saskatchewan, Canada. The total population served is estimated to exceed 270,000 and the number of gas, electric and water customers is in excess of 32,000.

The First Mortgage Gold Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage on all fixed property now owned by the Company, including that acquired in connection with the present financing. These bonds will be followed, on completion of present financing, by $3,000,000 First Lien and General Mortgage Gold Bonds (collaterally secured by common stocks of subsidiaries), $2,000,000 par value 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 80,000 shares of Common Stock (no par value).

For the 12 months ended August 31, 1930, the consolidated gross earnings of the properties owned by Washington Gas and Electric Company and its subsidiaries, irrespective of dates of acquisition, and including certain earnings of properties acquired in connection with the present financing computed on the basis of present contracts, were (including other income of $19,118) $2,275,677, while net earnings before interest, depreciation and Federal income taxes were $1,050,950 or over 3 times annual interest requirements of $347,780 on the $6,596,000 of First Mortgage Gold Bonds (including this issue). Net earnings, similarly computed, from properties owned by the Company, exclusive of any earnings of or income received from subsidiaries, were $794,319, or more than 2¼ times such interest requirements.

Of the gross earnings, as shown above, over 58% was derived from the sale of electricity, 31% from gas and the balance of less than 11% from water, steam and other sources.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send circulars describing the issue in detail.

x—Includes 7 cars of oranges and 3 of lemons shipped by truck to Los Angeles Harbor November 1 to 15, inclusive.

Florida carlot shipments last week-end were 124 cars of oranges and 73 of grapefruit, reports to the Federal State Market News Service showed.

Good color California oranges of medium to large sizes were slightly higher, while 216s and smaller were slightly lower at eastern and middle western auction centers yesterday. Lemons were steady. Sales jumped to 118 cars of oranges and thirty-two of lemons, due partly to buying for Thanksgiving.

(Exclusive)—Daily Steel Trade today says: Steel operations are declining further at various steel works and in view of the fact that the outlook for business the balance of the year is poor, it is expected that a continued drop in the operating rate will mark the closing months of 1930. The tone of the market, however, is firmer than it has been for some time past.

Wheat Futures Close Strong at Higher Levels

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Word Russian exports of wheat had ceased, as Russian home supplies were exhausted, led to a sharp rally in wheat prices late today. The rally was aided by announcement of 1,058,000 bushels falling-off in the Canadian wheat visible supply total and also by 487,000 bushels decrease of the United States visible. Primary arrivals of domestic wheat today were much smaller, and export purchases of North American wheat aggregated upward of 750,000 bushels.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, ½@1 cent a bushel higher than Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅛@¾ cent advance, oats unchanged to ⅛ cent up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

A development which attracted much comment was a purchase of 1,000,000 bushels of wheat in a single lot for delivery on old May contracts here at 80½ a bushel.

The purchase was said to be for a leading speculator, and the indications were that the wheat came from government-sponsored sources.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat, weather conditions over the corn belt being unfavorable for crop movement. Primary receipts of corn today were 842,000 bushels, compared with 1,423,000 bushels a year ago.

Provisions were responsive to upturns in hog values, and to a sale of 50,000 pounds of lard to Germany, the first in some time.

LONG BEACH TO FINISH PROJECT

Outer Harbor Terminal Set for Completion

Plans for $2,000,000 Job in Hands of Bidders

Offers of Contractors to Be Opened December 4

BY WALDO DRAKE

Plans for completion of Long Beach's $2,000,000 outer harbor terminal were released to prospective bidders yesterday by Maj. Roy G. McGlone, general manager of the Harbor Department. Bids will be opened on December 4.

The work to be completed is expected to cost approximately $350,000, exclusive of the modern fireproof transit sheds to be built on the fill. As outlined in plans submitted yesterday the work includes 500,000 yards of dredging and filling and construction of wharves and piers, this last phase of the job to cost about $200,000.

Merritt, Chapman & Scott Corporation yesterday began its $49,000 contract for repair of the outer harbor terminal fill, occasioned by several landslides last summer.

For further improvement of Long Beach's new outer harbor, bids are expected to be opened this week by Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States District Engineer, for repairs to the Long Beach breakwater as result of damage inflicted by southerly storms last winter. Pending a Federal appropriation for this project, the city of Long Beach has loaned the War Department $75,000 that the work might be completed before the seasonal storms.

SILK SHIPMENT IN ON NEW NIPPON LINER

Two thousand, six hundred and thirty-eight bales of raw silk, worth $2,110,400, came in from Yokohama yesterday afternoon aboard the brand-new Japanese motorship Sanyo Maru, fourth to enter service of Osaka Shosen Kaisha's six new eighteen-knot express freighters.

The silk was loaded aboard a special train of Santa Fe express cars at the Williams-Dimond terminals and last night was en route across the continent to New York. The Sanyo Maru also brought for local consignees 1600 tons of general cargo, including 700 cases of tea.

Hamburg-American Line's motorship Seattle last night opened the California-European cotton season when she departed the port with 2626 bales loaded here for Hamburg. For Antwerp, London and Bremen she also loaded here 100 tons of borax, fifty tons of infusorial earth and a quantity of general freight.

Five of her forty-five cabin passengers embarked here. She is in command of Capt. Ernst Schoening.

Harold G. De Golia, district passenger agent for the French Line, yesterday afternoon entertained the line's agents throughout Southern California at a smoker at the Biltmore Hotel. Feature of the entertainment was a motion-picture travelogue of North America and the Sahara Desert.

The French Line's turbined Wisconsin will sail for Le Havre, via La Libertad and the Canal, on Thanksgiving Day with full freight and passenger lists. Among her local passengers will be Miss L. McDermott and Mrs. George Hill of Beverly Hills, with her two children.

The new Norwegian motor tanker G. C. Broevig, here from Farsund on her maiden voyage, will tomorrow complete a fuel-oil cargo at the Western Oil and Refining Company terminal and sail Thursday for the Ross Sea, where she will deliver her oil to the whaling fleet and approximately 100 bags of mail to the Norwegian whaling colony in the Antarctic.

The new harbor rate committee, called by the Harbor Commission to seek greater revenues for the Harbor Department, held its initial meeting at the Texas Oil Company offices in Los Angeles. Difficulty was expressed in considering the issue without more information and requests were to be made likewise for particulars on why the department cannot get along with revenues from present rates.

It is understood if the committee cannot reach a solution, the Harbor Commission will take the matter in its own hands and adjust the rates at its own discretion.

Both petroleum and lumber interests, it is said, already have indicated their opposition to a rate raise, oil officials saying they cannot stand even one-half cent a barrel, and lumber men opposing even a half-cent raise per 1000 feet.

Representatives attended from the Los Angeles Steamship Association, fish canners, stevedoring interests, oil companies, wholesale lumber firms, Los Angeles Traffic Managers' Association and truck interests.

RELIANCE RATE CUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Reliance Manufacturing Company today voted a quarterly divided of 50 cents a share, which is half the usual rate. Directors voted to set aside $160,000 as a reserve fund from which dividends at the annual rate of $2 can be paid in 1931.

Catalyzers in OUR business!

MAYBE YOU'VE FORGOTTEN YOUR CHEMISTRY . . that a catalyzer is something which unites two opposite things . . to make a successful third combination . . as uranium joins hydrogen and nitrogen into ammonia . . or the humble soil is the catalytic agency . . which draws from the little acorn the mighty oak.

Down in Pomona Valley the humble MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA has been the catalyzer through which three State thrift records have come to our 6% saving clientage. With $3,400,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve, and $16,000,000 resources.

THE CHEMISTRY OF HUMAN FRIENDSHIPS . . between two human souls who have found the right catalyzer . . to bring them together in mutual admiration and respect . . and friendship is the reason why any man is where he IS today . . as it is the reason for the position of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

We want your respect. We have that of our friends and neighbors in Pomona Valley. The basis of any true friendship is respect. We've prospered through four depressions in 37½ years because our clients respect the ability, conservatism and economy of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

You'll see the right catalytic agency for safety and 6%, perhaps, if you visit us in our economical 10th floor offices in Los Angeles.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth, between Broadway and Hill—"Monte Carlo." A delight with Jack Buchanan and Jeanette MacDonald.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Playboy of Paris." An indifferent film despite Maurice Chevalier's appearance.

California, Main and Eighth—"Dona Mentiras" and "Una Cana al Aire." A fine performance by Carmen Larrabeiti makes the former film worthy. And Charley Chase does the same for the second.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Min and Bill." A drama of the water front which runs from slapstick to tragedy. Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Morocco." Opens tonight.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Billy the Kid." An exciting series of escapes intensified by the large film. John Mack Brown.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"The Tiger of Berlin." A mystery in German, which should be interesting to the understanding.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"All Quiet on the Western Front." A gripping account of war admirably acted by Lew Ayres.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Remote Control." William Haines's wisecracks raise this to the level of mediocrity.

Majestic, Broadway at Ninth—"The Big Fight." A few moments of excitement in the ring. Lola Lane.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Playboy of Paris."

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Laughter." A picture to see and enjoy. Fredric March and Nancy Carroll.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Sea Legs." cracks raise the level of this to mediocrity. Jack Oakie chatters and capers and some of it is quite funny.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"So This is London." Will Rogers in a comedy to please his fans.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"The Silver Horde." Rex Beach's melodrama of the North has several powerful moments and a good performance by Evelyn Brent.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"A Lady Surrenders." Splendid work by Genevieve Tobin and Rose Hobart.

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Feet First." Laughable and thrilling is this new Harold Lloyd comedy.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Sunny." Marilyn Miller in a musical comedy enhanced by Joe Donahue.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Sunny."

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard—"The Virtuous Sin." Not so good. Walter Huston and Kay Francis.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"The Bird of Flame." The exotic tropics and that charming vampire, Dorothy Burgess.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Michael and Mary." A delicately told tale of romance, drawn with spell by Dale Winter and Henry Duffy.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Mister Antonio." The favorite Leo Carrillo returns in an ancient vehicle that creaks.

Music Box, Hollywood Blvd., nr. Gower—"The Infinite Shoeblack." Reviewed in today's Times.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"The Green Bottle." Clutching hands and other things that go into a mystery play formula are here in profusion. Oscar Apfel is the featured player.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

Navy Lacks Jobs for Graduates

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 24. (AP)—With an unusually large class scheduled to graduate from the Naval Academy in June and an insufficient number of posts to accommodate them, a large percentage of the graduates will not receive commissions, Commander Donald Beary, aide to the superintendent, said today.

Those members of the graduating class who do not receive commissions receive a year's pay and are dropped from the service, Commander Beary said.

ROYALTY GATHERS TO HONOR HAAKON

OSLO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Representatives of the royal houses of Europe gathered here today for the celebration tomorrow of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ascension of King Haakon to the throne of Norway. One train brought Prince George of England, King Christian and Queen Alexandrine of Denmark, and other members of the Danish royal family. Predícese que el Calor Solar Habrá de Servir para Cocinar

TORONTO, Noviembre 24.—Habrá de llegar el fausto día en que la señora ama de casa ya no tendrá que inclinarse sobre el caliente fogón para freír el bisté de la cena. Le bastará poner su horno en conexión con el sol, y asunto terminado.

Esa es la esperanza que ha hecho brillar ante nosotros, no sin poner en juego algo de imaginación, el doctor C. G. Abbott, secretario del Instituto Smithsoniano, en una alocución que pronunció ante el Real Instituto Canadiense.

Ya se ha guisado con gran éxito haciendo uso del calor solar, dijo el doctor, y añadió que se tienen fundadas esperanzas de que lleguen a dar resultados prácticos las máquinas movidas por la energía solar.

Se Aplaza el Juicio contra las Hermanas Duncan

Las actrices hermanas, Rosetta Duncan y Vivian Duncan obtuvieron ayer del juez superior Bowron que se aplazara la audiencia del juicio por $250,000 de daños que tiene entablado contra ellas el agente teatral G. F. Reid. Ninguna de las hermanas Duncan se hallaba en el juzgado cuando se aplazó la acción hasta el 5 de Febrero de 1931 a solicitud del abogado que las defiende.

Reid alega violación de contrato, pues dice que él y S. S. McClelland firmaron uno de cinco años con las Duncans para tener la exclusiva del trabajo de éstas en el cine. Dice el querellante que él y McClelland debían recibir una comisión de 10 por ciento sobre las ganancias brutas, que, según afirma, sube a $83,000. Las demandadas desmienten todas las aserciones de Reid.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

XIII

No era más afecto al estudio Henry que la mayoría de los muchachos; pero todo lo que se tomaba el trabajo de hacer lo hacía lo mejor que podía, y su madre, por lo tanto, solía recibir de la señora Fellows recaditos como éste: "El niño H. Longfellow es uno de los mejores alumnos que tenemos en la escuela. Deletrea y lee muy bien. Su conducta es muy correcta." (Henry was not more fond of studying than most boys, but he did everything that he did at all as well as he could do it; and so his mother used to get little notes from Ma'am Fellows like this: "Master H. Longfellow is one of the best boys in school. He spells and reads very well. His conduct is very correct.")

Cuando contaba nueve años, la maestro encargó a la clase de composición que escribiera una disertación sobre un nabo. (When he was 9 years old, the school mistress told the class in composition to write an essay about a turnip).

BABY WINNING BREATH BATTLE

Passes 240th Hour Under Inhalator

Victory in Prospect
Fireman J. T. Kaller and Mrs. Ensley Jeffers working with inhaltor on Baby Anderson.

Two-months-old Bobbie Walter Anderson last night passed his 240th hour of breathing with the aid of an inhalator and this morning is expected to reach the crisis of his ten-day fight against pneumonia. The baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson of 1049 North McFarland avenue, Wilmington, credit firemen of the San Pedro inhalator squad with saving their son's life after physicians had despaired of his recovery.

Fireman J. T. Koller and Mrs. Ensley Jeffers, Long Beach nurse, have been standing the major portion of the day-and-night vigil. Yesterday afternoon Bobbie was able to breath for short intervals without aid of the inhalator. Attending physicians declare that if he survives the crisis today he has an even chance for recovery.

Grand Jury Will Listen to Miss De Voe's Account of Documents' Seizure

The other side of the quarrel between Clara Bow, motion-picture actress, and her former secretary, Miss Daisy De Voe, is scheduled to be told to the county grand jury today when Miss De Voe is called as a witness.

At the last session of the grand jury Miss Bow appeared and was questioned concerning the ownership of documents and personal articles seized from a safety deposit box rented by Miss De Voe.

Since the articles were seized by District Attorney's operatives t. weeks ago, Miss De Voe has file suit against them demanding the return of certain articles which she asserts belong to her. The suit also asks damages for the asserted illegal seizure.

After hearing Miss Bow's testimony, members of the grand jury announced that they would take no action before hearing Miss De Voe's side of the story.

Recall Election Date Decided

The recall election against Councilman Holland in the Fourteenth District will be conducted January 13. The City Council yesterday instructed the City Attorney and City Clerk to bring in the necessary ordinances. The special election will cost the city between $5000 and $6000. The motion to call the election was made by Councilman Holland himself.

CLEAN-UP IN CHEST DRIVE UNDER WAY

Workers Devote Holiday Week to Calling on All Who Have Not Given

With a determination that augurs well for the success of the Los Angeles Community Chest campaign, 15,000 volunteer workers are devoting their time and effort during Thanksgiving week to calling on all persons of the city who thus far have failed to subscribe to the Chest fund. Team workers who have heretofore been restricted to the solicitation of designated prospective donors have been advised that they may consider the entire city as open territory for solicitation, according to a statement issued by Campaign Chairman J. A. H. Kerr.

Chairman Kerr emphasizes the statement that the campaign goal of $3,200,000, is the minimum amount that must be subscribed if the 124 welfare and relief agencies are to be given the necessary means to carry on during the year. There remains $674,288 of this amount unsubscribed, or 21 per cent.

Vice-chairmen of the Central Division, composed of leading business and financial men, and district chairmen are being urged to renew their efforts and bring in the largest report possible at the meeting of team workers at the Biltmore tomorrow.

Chairman Kerr requests that any individuals, or concerns, who have not been solicited up to this time, telephone campaign headquarters, WEstmore 7351, or call at Chest headquarters, Room 216, Chamber of Commerce Building, not later than this afternoon.

UNITED ARTISTS' CHAIN LAUNCHED

Schenck Will Build National Film Theater String

Twenty-Fve Houses Will Be Opened in State

Program of Twenty Pictures for Year Announced

Joseph M. Schenck, vice-president and chairman of the board of directors of United Artists Corporation, yesterday relinquished his production activities to launch the immediate establishment of a nation-wide theater chain, involving construction of at least twenty-five new houses in California and acquisition of others at a cost of millions of dollars.

Initial steps in creating this new chain will be concentrated in this State, Schenck stated. The first of the new buildings will go up in Pasadena and Santa Ana. Los Angeles will get five new houses, he said. Sites will be chosen and announced later.

Samuel Goldwyn, producer at United Artists, will take over supervision of production for the Art Cinema Corporation in Schenck's place as well as supervising the making of his own pictures.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

At the same time Schenck and Goldwyn revealed the 1930-31 production program of the company that calls for twenty big pictures to be made on a budget estimated over $15,000,000. This program will get under way around the first of the year.

The theater plans, Schenck declared, are in line with United Artists' aggressive policy of expansion and its determination to be free of certain asserted theater monopolies.

"I intend to spend most of the next year in California in connection with the expansion and distribution program," Schenck said yesterday. "For that reason I have prevailed upon Mr. Goldwyn to take over all production activities of the Art Cinema Corporation. This will be in addition to Mr. Goldwyn's activities as a producer for United Artists. His success as a producer assures the public and exhibitors of a high quality of entertainment."

DESIGN TO BE MODERN

All of the new theaters will be of modernistic design, Schenck stated, with seating capacities of 900. It is estimated that each house will cost between $150,000 and $200,000, not including the cost of leases. Pasadena will get a new theater immediately on the south side of Colorado street, between Madison and El Molino streets. The deal was arranged by James S. McDonnell, representing the Colorado-Madison Syndicate of Pasadena.

The Santa Ana Theater, to be of a similar design as the one in Pasadena, will rise at Fifth street and Broadway. Balch & Stanberry are the architects and engineers and work will be commenced within thirty days.

As soon as Schenck completes his arrangements for the new California chain he will then concentrate his efforts in Oregon and Washington and thence on a concerted drive of theater construction eastward until the country is blanketed.

NO STOCK FOR PUBLIC

This chain, he said, will be in addition to the twenty de luxe houses in key cities of the country in which Unted Artists is interested.

According to Schenck, the chain will be organized as a California corporation, 51 per cent of the stock to be absorbed by the United Artists' Corporation, the balance to be purchased by members of the company, including Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Chaplin, Gloria Swanson, D. W. Griffith, Goldwyn and Schenck. No stock will be offered for sale to the public, he said.

QUEEN OF ROSES TOURNAMENT

High School Girl Wins Signal Honor

Miss Mary Lou Waddell

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 24.—A 16-year-old brunette, Mary Lou Waddell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Waddel of San Marino, was honored today by selection as queen of the 1931 Tournament of Roses. Attired in regal robes, she will ride in the float entered in the annual parade by the Tournament of Roses Association.

Miss Waddell is a Los Angeles high school pupil. She has wavy brown hair, brown eyes, and, unless she grows between now and January 1, her queenly stature will be no more than five feet and four inches.

Thirty-eight major floats have been entered in the 1931 parade, according to William Dunkerly, manager of the tournament association.

All entry classes, Dunkerly reports, are being filled rapidly with the exception of commercial and fraternal classes, in which interest needs stimulation.

The Los Angeles City Council and Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors have entered decorated automobiles.

Board to Study Tract Purchase at Alamitos Bay

Whether the county should purchase approximately 700 feet of bay frontage on Alamitos Bay for $98,850 was considered yesterday by the Board of Supervisors on motion of Supervisor Quinn and later referred to the finance committee.

The land, owned by C. F. Mohler of Long Beach, is needed as a right of way for a proposed new outlet for the San Gabriel River, designed to carry river sediment directly to the ocean.

According to E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the flood-control district, it will be necessary to condemn a portion of the Mohler property for right-of-way purposes should the board decide not to purchase.

As there is no money in the county budget this year for the purchase of property the matter was referred to the finance committee.

NEXT STEP IN AQUEDUCT ROUTE NEAR

Water District Board to Instruct Engineers How to Pick Line From Colorado

Instructions setting forth the ideas of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District as to how its consulting board of engineers should proceed in selecting a route for the Colorado River Aqueduct will be handed the engineers at a meeting with the board this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Chief Engineer Weymouth and his assistants have recommended the Parker route from a group of four general routes selected for special study by the consulting board last spring when it made its initial study. The consulting board consists of Thaddeus Merriman, chief engineer of the water-works system of New York City; A. J. Wiley of Boise City, Idaho; and Richard R. Lyman of Salt Lake City.

The letter of instructions to be handed the engineers this afternoon by President Whitsett is expected to advise as to the scope of the investigation to be made and any particular points which the directors may wish to be stressed.

Wife Acts to Save Cash of Richest Indian

To save valuable property from a forced sale Mrs. Anna Laura Barnett, wife of Jackson Barnett, known as the world's richest Indian, yesterday added her interpleader to the suit filed by her husband's guardian, Leslie E. Hewitt, against Charles L. Ells, Barnett's trustee, for $147,500 cash to make a payment on the property.

The property, worth $400,000, will not bring that much at a forced sale, according to the complaint. It will be worth $750,000 in a few years, it is asserted, but litigation in the United States courts has so tied up Barnett's funds that there is not cash enough available to make the current payments on the property, located in Coldwater Canyon, near Beverly Hills.

Barnett asks that Ells be restrained from placing the property on the market at less than its value and Mrs. Barnett asks that the contract be set aside.

CITRUS LOSSES FEARS SUBSIDE

Survey Shows Little Damage Done by Winds

Droppage Below 2 Per Cent Within County

Avocado Growers Hardest Hit by Recent Gale

Somewhat less than 2 per cent of the citrus crop in Los Angeles county was blown from the trees by recent high winds and possibly 10 per cent of what is left on the trees is more or less scarred, Deputy Wolff of County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan's office estimated yesterday.

"The droppage is not altogether a loss," Wolff said. "Grower experts point out that the trees had very heavy yields on them and elimination of some of the fruit means that what is left probably will be larger, better and command a greater price. Some growers believe the droppage really has worked toward a net advantage.

"The scarred fruit on the trees is not so much of a loss as might be thought. The fruit will be much the same but its appearance will be marred somewhat by the scars and this grade will not bring so much. If we do not have too much damp weather soon no decay to amount to anything will come of the bruises."

LEMONS SUFFER MOST

Wolff said the droppage is allocated as follows: Grapefruit 2 per cent, lemons 3 per cent, navel oranges 2 per cent, Valencia oranges ½ per cent, seedlings or miscellaneous 4 per cent. He said the scarred or bruised percentage is more tentative and less definite.

"We received this information from twenty of our district inspectors who looked over their territory first hand and then talked with growers and packers," Wolff said. "This covers about 97 per cent of the citrus acreage in the county, or 52,571 acres out of 54,156 acres."

The heaviest damage was in foothill orchards.

AVOCADOS HARD HIT

Wolff said that as to avocadoes some foothill groves reported more than 50 per cent droppage and a good many trees blown down. He said that in the Whittier area and south of that city the droppage will probably be around 5 per cent or less. No information was at hand, he said, as to bruises and scars.

Many olives are reported by inspectors to have been knocked off the trees by wind-swaying branches.

From Santa Ana came the report that although the real extent of the damage to Orange county crops will not be determined for several days agricultural experts declare it will not prove to be as much as was anticipated. Orange County Agricultural Commissioner Brock in a preliminary survey after a trip through the worst-damaged sections said:

AVERAGE LOSS

"The heaviest droppage will not amount to more than 10 per cent and for the county as a whole the droppage will not run more than 1 per cent. It is not nearly as bad as I thought it would be. There will be some lowering of grades because of scarred fruit. The humidity was high and this lessened the burning."

Orange County Farm Adviser Wahlberg declared that while there is a lot of fruit on the ground in places the main damage is where trees lost limbs and leaves. He said much scarred fruit will be forced to take a lower grade than its interior quality warrants.

At Redlands he found considerable variation in damage estimates to the $10,000,000 citrus crop thereabouts. President Strait of Mutual Orange Distributors there reported that surveys made by packing houses affiliated with the organization indicate that the damage done by the wind in blowing fruit from the trees and bruising it against the limbs will run as high as 10 per cent.

DAMAGE HIGH

Manager Anderson of Redlands-Highland Fruit Exchange said that reports from his field men indicate that the damage will run about 10 per cent in the Redlands district and more than that over the State.

Deputy Cook of the San Bernardino county horticultural commissioner's office made a survey and is convinced that the damage to the fruit will be well under 5 per cent. Fred Arth of Redlands, a large fruit grower, also believes that 5 per cent will easily cover the damage.

The Lancer

Little Marjorie Elizabeth, who has been adopted by Harold and Mildred Lloyd, hasn't had what I would call a tough break.

She walks into the inheritance of an enormous fortune; and, better than that, into the affections of two of the finest people in Hollywood.

This boy with the horn glasses is one of the few stars I have ever known who has remained simple, ingenuous and unspoiled.

There are no yes-men in his studio. He complains piteously that his gag men always turn down his best ideas. He is the only producer in Hollywood who hears from the hired help a disgusted "It's lousy" when he produces a glowing inspiration.

WHO'S TO BLAME?

The Council of Churches must have a lot of time on its hands—to be debating who was to blame for the World War.

Nobody was to blame for the World War. It was a matter of geography. If anybody was to blame it was the man who invented the steam engine. He multiplied production; compelled nations to reach out for distant markets; and, in so reaching, they found that their paths crossed. And that, of course, meant—as it always has and always will mean—war.

Here is some worth-while information for the afflicted. My clever dentist says that hot applications to aching teeth make for abscesses. In times of throb and panic put on ice.

CHAUFFEURS

The only snobbish thing about that wedding of the Dawes chauffeur was the newspaper account.

Except for a few ex-waitresses getting Hollywood star salaries, there isn't much snobbishness anywhere.

There is something very appealing in the relations between the average rich American family and their servants. I know one where the whole family turns out in three cars on Sunday morning to chauffeur three different servants to three different churches. The average chauffeur is treated like an old friend and has a swell time.

Apropos of a wonderful South Sea travel picture now showing in the Fox theaters, I am compelled to remark that the best actors are not actors. The best actors of the screen are George Bernard Shaw, King Alfonso of Spain and Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

BEACH PROJECT ADVANCED

Supervisors Again Take Up Proposal to Join With State at Santa Monica Canyon

The proposal that the county deed its 1100 feet of beach front at Santa Monica Canyon, valued at $1,000,000, to the State, providing the latter match it with a like amount and acquire more which the county can lease, making 6830 feet of water front for public purposes, was considered yesterday by the Board of Supervisors and later referred to Supervisor Quinn.

H. W. O'Melveny, chairman of the commission appointed by the State Park Board to acquire land for park purposes under the $6,000,000 bond issue voted two years ago, and Attorney A. J. Hill of the law firm of Hill, Morgan & Bledsoe, appeared before the board yesterday urging action in the matter which was presented last July.

The State proposes to purchase 3333 feet of the Gillis property, held in trust by the California Trust Company, valued at $1,000,000 to match the county's frontage. It also would purchase 2397 feet more, which would be leased to the county for the mere payment of taxes. This would make a continuous beach front with the exception of a small part owned by Will Rogers.

While the State would control the property, it would contract with the county for policing and maintenance.

After the passage of the $6,000,000 issue the Attorney-General held that the State could not purchase property in cities. Later, however, a Supreme Court ruling held that it can. Following the court order last summer, efforts were made at once to join with Los Angeles county in obtaining control of the frontage at Santa Monica Canyon.

The State would lease to the county for three-year periods.

O'Melveny declared yesterday that if the board favorably considers the proposition all that is necessary is to start an escrow and execute the deeds. There will be no outlay of money for the county, he said.

The Park Commission has expended approximately $350,000 of the $6,000,000 bond issue. None of the money, however, has been spent in Los Angeles county.

RAIL CHIEF EXPIRES HERE

C. H. Markham, Chairman of Illinois Central Board, Passes After Spectacular Career

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

ALTADENA, Nov. 24.—Charles Henry Markham, chairman of the board of the Illinois Central Railroad, died early today at his home, 2600 North Holliston avenue, following a paralytic stroke. He came here last summer with the hope of regaining his health.

Charles Henry Markham

Mr. Markham, who was 69 years of age, started his railroad career as a section hand for the Santa Fe at Dodge City, Kan., when 29. In 1911 he became president of the Illinois Central, continuing in that capacity until 1926, when he became president of the board.

When the government took over the railroads during the World War Mr. Markham was appointed to direct the railroads of the Southern and Allegheny regions, returning to his Illinois post when the roads were returned to their owners.

His greatest single contribution in his railroad career, possibly, was the electrification of the road's terminals in and about Chicago, which is credited with doubling the road's assets in a fifteen-year period.

At the time he became president the Illinois Central had assets of about $300,000,000, and his friends assert that it was the electrification and his policy of taking the public into his confidence that caused the assets to double in record time.

In 1920 Mr. Markham caused something of a sensation when he said: "The public is going to run the railroads from now on. It is running the Illinois Central now."

When most railroads were trying to economize during the postwar deflation Mr. Markham prevailed upon the Illinois Central to appropriate

ATHLETE TAKES DEATH DIVE

W. Bunker Rossetti, Clad in Swimming Trunks, Plunges to Doom From Jonathan Club Window

Poising himself as he had done many times before while competing in diving meets, W. Bunker Rossetti, former swimmer and football player, executed a swan dive from a window ledge on the sixth floor of the Jonathan Club shortly before noon yesterday to meet instant death on the pavement below.

Rossetti, 28 years of age, who resided at 8443 West Fourth street, a nephew of V. H. Rossetti, Los Angeles banker, made his final dive clad only in swimming trunks, it was reported by Detective Lieutenants Filkas and Baggott.

The only indication of a motive for the tragic ending of a successful career of athletics and business was suggested last night by the uncle, to whom Rossetti addressed one of five sealed letters left in the room at the club where he changed from his street clothes to swimming trunks.

"During his athletic competition at Rutgers College, my nephew received an injury which doctors had told him probably would result in the loss of sight in one eye," the uncle stated.

"There was no explanation contained in the note left me and I am stunned by the tragedy. My nephew had won many medals for diving and swimming and perhaps his fear of becoming handicapped in his sight may have caused him to end his life. There certainly was no other reason that I know."

Rossetti was associated with a local brokerage house. It was stated at the brokerage office that he was one of the outstanding men on the company's staff and that his business affairs were in good shape. The uncle also declared that Rossetti was happily married, residing with his wife, Mrs. Mary A. Rossetti, and 1-year-old son.

He left home yesterday morning, supposedly on his way to the brokerage office, but went to the club, wrote the letters found in the room and plunged to the pavement on

PROBATION FOR BROKERS DENIED

Stephens & Co., Defendants Must Serve Terms

Convicted Promoters Begin Sentences January 5

Men Charged With Using Mails to Defraud

After several attorneys and others made strenuous efforts to obtain probation for G. C. Stephens, formerly head of Stephens & Co., stock and bond brokers with offices in half a dozen cities in California, and two associates, all recently convicted at San Diego on charges of using the mails to defraud, United States District Judge Cosgrave yesterday denied the applications of the three defendants.

By the ruling of the court Stephens and Raymond D. Spicer, each sentenced to three years at McNeil Federal prison and fined $13,000 each, will have to serve their terms. B. M. Wotkyns, also convicted, will have to serve eighteen months at McNeil's and pay a fine of $5000. Three other defendants, G. C. Hallowell, C. L. Wells and F. G. Steward, were convicted and fined only, but did not appear on the probation hearing yesterday.

Stephens headed a large stock and bond house with offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Fresno, San Diego and other cities. It was charged by the government that the defendants acquired control of stocks and bonds of clients, agreeing to give them a standard stock in return, or misrepresenting the value of stocks and bonds exchanged by the defendants.

It was stated by the court that the defendants were intrusted with $300,000 worth of stocks and failed to account to their clients. Among the attorneys appearing was John L. McNab of San Francisco, who said he appeared at his own expense on behalf of Stephens, who he said was out of the company four months before the crash. The mandate of the United States Circuit Court, upholding the District Court action, was spread on the court records. The defendants were given until January 5 to began their sentences.

ASSESSMENT PROTESTERS SUSPECTED

Investigation Started Into Asserted Collections of Antibond Group

An investigation of an association which has been conducting assessment-protest meetings about the city was started yesterday by the City Council by resolution of Councilman Martin, calling upon the City Prosecutor to take action. Councilman Randall suggested that the Federal authorities be called in on the investigation.

The organization is termed the Assessment Relief and Betterment Association of California. In his resolution Martin sets forth that the association is mailing "misleading statements" to property owners, holding meetings, collecting money and declaring the city is planning to bond the property owners for $300,000,000.

G. L. Hampton, member of the association's advisory board, stated yesterday that very little money is being collected and that the association is principally urging property owners to send postal cards to the Legislature in behalf of revisions of the assessment laws.

In a statement concerning the action of the Council released by the association, attention was called to the fact that its aims have been indorsed by title companies, bank presidents, lawyers, real-estate dealers and numerous other citizens of prominence, and mystification was expressed as to the cause of the Council's action "unless it stands for the things that the association is against."

The resolution of the Council was transmitted to the Board of Education, in view of the fact that the association has conducted some of its meetings in public schools, and it was read to the board at last night's meeting. Discussion revealed that the board some time ago had received a complaint concerning the association's use of school buildings. An investigation made at that time revealed that collections had been taken at these meetings and the association was warned that making such collections is a violation of the board's rules. The permits for future meetings were not canceled, however. In view of the Council action, the board last night decided to renew its investigation and cancel the remaining permits if the Council's charges are sustained.

NEWCOMERS SIT WITH BOARD

Supervisors-elect Get Line on Duties

J. Don Mahaffey and Hugh A. Thatcher

WHEN the Board of Supervisors convened in regular meeting yesterday Hugh A. Thatcher and J. Don Mahaffey, the two newly elected members of the body, sat in with the old officials to familiarize themselves with their new duties, which they will begin officially at noon next Monday.

Supervisor-elect Thatcher will relieve Supervisor Beaty of the First Supervisorial District, who was not a candidate for re-election. Thatcher is from Walnut. Beaty was a resident of Montebello when elected four years ago. A year and a half ago he moved to Long Beach and now is moving to Los Angeles. He has not announced as yet what activity he will engage in after leaving office.

Supervisor-elect Mahaffey will relieve Sidney T. Graves, Supervisor from the Third District, whom he defeated in a spirited election. Since the death of Supervisor R. F. McClelland last spring, Graves has been chairman of the board. Mahaffey is a resident of Hollywood.

Both Thatcher and Mahaffey yesterday watched with the keenest interest the handling of the routine business.

$100,000,000 to electrify the road's lines entering Chicago, being the lead in electrification in the nation's railroad center. The success of the Illinois Central's bold step caused other railroads to electrify and is credited with making Chicago a cleaner city in which to live.

During the depression in 1922 strikes occurred and the average railroad increased its freight traffic by less than 10 per cent and passenger traffic decreased. Due, in part, at least, to President Markham's leadership, the Illinois Central reported that year a 21 per cent increase in freight and 10 per cent passenger increase.

Born in Clarksville, Tenn., Mr. Markham attended the common schools in Addison, N. Y., where his parents moved when he was in infancy. He left school at 14. He was married in 1884 to Anna E. Smith of Louisville, Ill., who died in 1922.

The railroad executive's only immediate survivor is Fred S. Markham of 1045 East Mariposa street, who was with his father when death occurred.

The son left Pasadena over the Union Pacific tonight to accompany Mr. Markham's body to Chicago, where funeral and burial services will be conducted Friday.

STATIONED AT FRESNO

During his early years Mr. Markham served as district freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe in Fresno, later serving in the same capacity for the Oregon lines in Portland.

In 1901 he was appointed assistant traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Railroad. In 1904 he became general manager of the Southern Pacific Railroad after resigning from the vice-presidency of the Houston and Central Railroad.

His railroad career was interrupted for only six years, during which period he was associated with Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, in the oil business, as president of the Mellon oil companies in Pennsylvania.

The wind yesterday averaged around about six to eight miles an hour compared to the November normal of about four miles an hour. Yesterday's Los Angeles maximum temperature was 82 deg. against a maximum November average of 72, or in other words it was considerably warmer than normal for this time of the year.

CITY HALL LOBBYISTS ON GRILL

Grand Jury Inquiry Takes New Angle Today in Quiz on Contract Letting

Grand jury investigation into municipal affairs, which has already resulted in six indictments, will take a new turn when the inquisitorial body meets today to commence its second week of the city inquiry, it was learned yesterday.

Activities of City Hall lobbyists in connection with the letting of municipal contracts will be brought under the scrutiny of the jurors.

Four or five witnesses, whose names hitherto have not been mentioned in relation to the present investigation, have been subpoenaed, it is asserted, and will put in an appearance at 10 o'clock this morning at the grand jury rooms.

The sudden switch to the new channel of investigation will probably postpone for several days the grand jury's announced intention of investigating Mayor Porter's campaign expenses. Witnesses due from Culver City on still another angle of the grand jury inquiry will not be called in until tomorrow or later.

While the jurors were considering other angles of municipal conditions the processes of the courts got under way yesterday to bring to trial George Brown, colored politician, and Reuben Scott and Bennie G. Kelso, Negro police officers, indicted last Friday as members of a Central-avenue liquor ring.

The three defendants appeared in Presiding Judge Wood's court yesterday morning for arraignment and their attorneys asked for more time in which to plead. They were given until next Monday at 2 p.m.

GIRNAU DISMISSAL DENIED

When Directed Verdict Motion Fails, Publisher Held for Libel Prepares to Open Defense

Defense testimony in the trial of Fred Girnau, publisher of a political pamphlet, charged with criminal libel will be started this morning before the jury of ten women and two men in the court of Municipal Judge Bogue.

Girnau is accused of publishing false information about Carlin G. Smith, one-time candidate for Mayor, and Charles W. Burke, Sr., former private investigator and close personal friend of Mayor Porter, regarding their operations of a plan for collecting money to provide milk for babies of the poor. The political pamphlet referred to the enterprise as a "racket" and in that connection went into what the article termed political trades and the past life of Burke.

Efforts to secure a dismissal of the complaint and an instructed verdict failed yesterday with a ruling by Judge Bogue on a motion of Paul Hornaday, defense attorney. Hornaday sought the dismissal after the State's testimony as introduced by Deputy City Prosecutor Lindley in behalf of the accusation had been completed. Judge Bogue ruled the entire mater should be placed before the jury for final verdict.

Burke, who with Smith organized the Carlin G. Smith Community and Recreation Corporation, which handled the distribution of some 4500 collection cans throughout the city, was one of the chief witnesses yesterday. He testified as to his employment for ninety days by the city of Pueblo, Colo., as chief of detectives, and also his work as special agent for two railways. The evidence was in answer to a charge in the published article that Burke left Pueblo "between suns" on account of political conditions.

Two bandits, who made an unsuccessful attempt to plunder the Merrill Dollar Store at 4615 South Broadway after tying up three employees on the 17th inst., yesterday raided the same organization's store at 5844 South Vermont avenue, bound and gagged Miss Lois Griffin, clerk, and F. T. Lee, assistant manager, forced Albert Titdwell, manager, to open the office safe and got away with $570 in cash and $400 in checks.

This robbery, occurring about 9:45 a.m., was the eleventh hold-up since 9 p.m. Sunday, and brought the total so far this month to 214, according to Police Statistician Rhoda Cross. At midnight Sunday burglaries had mounted to 453, as compared with 331 for the same time last month. Robberies last month at the end of the same period totaled 98, an exactly parallel figure with the number for the same time last year.

HIDDEN IN STORE

In the robbery of the Merrill Dollar Store the bandits were inside before the employees arrived for work. Lee was the first to appear and then Miss Griffin. Both were bound and gagged with adhesive tape and cord and placed behind counters. As the manager entered the bandits stepped from behind a door and leveled automatic pistols.

"Keep your hands down, act natural and keep your trap shut," warned one of them. "This time we're going to get the dough or you are going to be a dead example for the next one."

At the bandits' further commands Titdwell opened the safe and handed out the cash and checks.

DUEL ENDS IN CAPTURE

A revolver and shotgun duel between police and fugitives in racing automobiles was followed by the arrest of three suspected bandits and automobile thieves yesterday.

V. W. Shanahan, 36 years of age; Leonard Miller, 23, and Frank Atkinson, 28, were in a large coupe that attracted the attention of Officers Speers and Harris as it emerged from an alley near Washington and San Pedro streets. When the officers sought to overtake the trio their car gathered speed, and circled several blocks. One of the suspects fired at the officers, who replied with shotguns.

Subsequently the fleeing car drew to the curb and two of its occupants, Miller and Atkinson, jumped out, seeking to escape on foot. They were quickly captured by Speers and Harris and taken to Georgia-street Station. Officers Harlem and Hagenbaugh later arrested Shanahan. The three prisoners were booked on suspicion of grand theft and automobile robbery. The automobile in which they were riding was reported stolen from M. Winterhalter of 6525 Sunset Boulevard.

A hold-up reported yesterday was that of the Union Oil filling station at 6259 Santa Monica Boulevard. Two bandits, of whom one was cross-eyed, took $18 from Henry Underwood, attendant.

WOMEN KNOCKED DOWN

Given no warning, two women were brutally knocked down by lone bandits and robbed of their purses. Miss Ella Valdez had just turned into the walk of her home at 238 North Norton avenue when a man sprang out upon her from behind a high hedge. Before she could cry out she was knocked down by a blow in the face. As she lay half conscious her assailant grabbed her purse, containing $22, and then ran down the street.

As she was about to enter her home at 1833 South Flower street through the rear yard Mrs. Terry Barry was confronted by a roughly dressed bandit, who, without uttering a word, struck her a blow in the face and knocked her down. He then took her purse, containing $4, leaped a fence and fled. Mrs. Barry was found by neighbors a few moments later in a semihysterical condition.

SWATS BANDIT

Strong-arm tactics met with less success when Robert Smith was held up in the rear of a garage at 517 South Burlington avenue. Smith was repairing his automobile when a bandit, leveling a revolver at his head, demanded that he open the garage.

Smith rose from his task and told the bandit in strong language where he might go. Whereupon the bandit struck him a blow on the head with the revolver barrel. Dazed but still conscious, Smith struck back and knocked the bandit off his feet into the alley. Apparently fearing to shoot, the bandit pocketed his weapon and fled.

A pair of bandits armed with German automatic pistols held up H. R. Holgate in the Stillwell Cafe at 1634 South Main street and robbed him of $90.

WRENCH RUSE WINS

B. Murakami of Montebello handed over $14 to two bandits before he discovered that the revolver they pressed against his side was a monkey wrench. He then made a valiant but unsuccessful effort to recover his money. The hold-up occurred at the rear of 127 South Hewitt street, where Murakami was working on his automobile.

Three taxicab drivers were victims of hold-ups. William J. McSpadden reported losing $9 to two bandits at Seventh street and Burlington avenue, Dan P. Shobert was held up but lost nothing by a bandit at Beverly and Rampart boulevards, and E. R. Schober frustrated a robbery by running from his cab when held up by a bandit at Beverly Boulevard and Burlington avenue.

SCREAM ROUTS ROBBERS

W. M. Wharton reported being held up by two bandits in a service station at 5492 Huntington Drive and robbed of $7.

For the second time within a month a hold-up occurred at the Martel Theater, at 6025 Hollywood Boulevard. This time the screams of Miss Clara Belgay frightened off two bandits after one of them had made an attempt to grab currency from the money trays in the box office.

Dragged into a cellar at 424½ East Fifth street by two men, A. E. Plumlee of 430 East Third street reported being robbed of $7.

MIX LOSES CAR WHEELS

Two silver chromium wire wheels were stolen from the Rolls-Royce of Ton Mix in front of his home at 8152 Sunset Boulevard, the motion-picture star reported to Hollywood police.

Jack Kroger, professional golfer, reported $644 worth of golf clubs taken from his car while it was parked at Eleventh and Oxford streets.

Boring a hole through the wall from an unoccupied store next door, burglars entered the clothing store of Mrs. J. Catch at 1906 Brooklyn avenue and ransacked the place of $3000 in coats and dresses.

LIFE RICH IN REMINISCENCE

Neighbors of Hoovers Pass Milestone

Then and Now

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Harwood today and fifty years ago.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM H. HARWOOD of 825 Crescent Heights Boulevard today will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary and at a reception to their friends they will show among their treasured souvenirs a small book which Mrs. Harwood's mother loaned to President Hoover's mother when the two families lived at Springdale, Iowa.

The tiny volume which has been so carefully preserved was published in 1858. It was entitled "Memoirs of Elizabeth Fry." Jennet Macy, Mrs. Harwood's mother, gave it to Hulda Hoover, wife of Jesse Hoover, to read. It told of a Quaker missionary's welfare work in the prisons of London.

Mrs. Harwood was born in Indiana but her parents moved to Iowa when she was small and settled close to the spot between West Branch and Springdale, which was later Herbert Hoover's birthplace.

Mrs. Hoover, the President's mother, was formerly Hulda Minthorn and she was an intimate friend and chum of Mrs. Harwood's older sister Julia, afterwards Mrs. L. S. Butler, who died last year at Northwood, Iowa.

The Harwoods lived for more than thirty-five years in Des Moines and moved to Los Angeles eight years ago. Mr. Harwood is a past president of the Los Angeles-Des Moines Club and member of the Iowa Association of Southern California and the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Mrs. Harwood is a member of the Hollywood Women's Club and is active in the Hollywood Congregational Church.

The Harwoods have a son, Herbert M. Harwood, living here. A reception in honor of his parents will be given at his home, 832 Crescent Heights Boulevard, this afternoon and evening to which 250 guests have been invited not intend, Schenck stated, to compete with independent exhibitors except in those cities where the asserted theater monopoly exists.

WILL AID INDEPENDENTS

In addition, he asserted, the new company will go to the financial aid of independent exhibitors in so-called closed territory to help them build up their theaters to a high standard.

He also disclosed that a deal is being negotiated which may bring an agreement with Harold B. Franklin, former head of Fox West Coast Theaters, on the latter's proposed new theater chain.

In connection with the production program for the next year, Schenck revealed, the Art Cinema Company will make six pictures. Goldwyn himself will produce four; Miss Pickford, Fairbanks and Chaplin, one each; Gloria Swanson, two or more; Roland West, three, two of which will star Chester Morris, and Howard Hughes, three.

HUGHES DEAL FAILED

While discussing his theater plans yesterday, Schenck also revealed for the first time that his deal with Hughes, young millionaire producer, had fallen through. Hughes was to purchase an interest in the Art Cinema Corporation and become co-producer with Schenck. This purchase of a block of stock by Hughes was not consummated, however, and now Hughes joins United Artists as an independent producer.

Hughes will have his offices at the United Artists studio and will make his pictures on the lot there.

Schenck said Sol Lesser and Lou Anger will be associated with him in selecting sites for the proposed theaters and organizing the new chain.

ATHLETE TAKES DEATH PLUNGE

Besides letters to his uncle and his widow he left notes for his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rossetti, 120 East Thirty-ninth street, New York City; a brother-in-law, N. L. Pearce, 607 Balboa Building, San Francisco, and for a personal friend, C. R. Morrison, 707 North Arden Drive, Beverly Hills.

The former athlete came to Los Angeles about five years ago after receiving a bachelor of science degree from Rutgers. Besides playing football and competing in aquatic sports for his college, he had been a member of the lacrosse team.

Funeral arrangements are expected to be completed today. There will be no inquest, Deputy Coroner MacDonald stated.

SCHOOL PROGRAM VARIED

A diversified program will be presented at Clearwater Junior High School on the evening of December 1 by the Roosevelt Parent-Teacher Association. It will include an address by Lieutenant-Governor-elect Merriam, community singing led by Thomas F. Silvester, readings by Mrs. Robert Dunn, monologue by Harry James, and a cake baking contest by members of the school's domestic science classes.

CHICAGO FAIR ENVOY HERE

Hungerford Seeks Co-operation for Exposition; Tells of Progress on 1933 Event

More than two years before the opening date of its great world's fair of 1933, the city of Chicago has not only virtually completed all plans for the exposition but has the building program well under way, it was stated yesterday by Edward Hungerford, who has come to this city on an unofficial mission to interest Los Angeles business leaders in the exposition.

Beginning his career as a newspaper reporter, Mr. Hungerford later won fame as an author, mainly of books and articles on railroad problems, and is at present a vice-president of the New York Central Railroad. He was director of the successful Fair of the Iron Horse held by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Baltimore in 1927 and therefore was asked to aid in the organization and promotion of the Chicago Fair.

He already has made a trip abroad to interest the nations of Europe in the exposition and expects, he said, to be given a leave from his railroad duties after the first of next year to devote virtually all of his time to fair promotion and organization.

The exposition, which is to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the city, will have the official title of Chicago Century of Progress, but it will not be limited to a glorification of the achievements of that city. The intention is to make it a world's fair in the full sense of those words, Mr. Hungerford said, and co-operation and representation will be sought not only from the other sections of this country but from all the civilized nations of the world.

Whether or not there will be a California building at the fair will be up to the citizens of this State, but the visitor said the plans contemplate at least the erection of a typical California village of the old days. One of the purposes of his present visit here is to win the co-operation of Californians in the realization of this plan.

Not only has the work of clearing the ground and constructing special highways been started, he said, but the Administration Building has been completed and an enormous wing of the Transportation Building will be completed before March 1, 1931. This wing is to be 1000 feet long by 150 feet wide and will be surmounted by a huge dome 300 feet in diameter and 125 feet high. The Radio Building and the Electricity Building are to be started during this winter and the probabilities are that all the main structures will be finished long before the opening date, Mr. Hungerford said.

STREET PROTESTS DENIED

The City Council yesterday denied protests against the improvement of streets in the Moorpark-street and Tyrone-avenue district, against the establishment of setback lines in Brunswick avenue between Los Feliz and Glendale Boulevards and against setback lines in Imogen avenue from Bellevue avenue north.

NEW SUIT FILED BY BANDIT'S SON

Jesse E. James Asks $9400 From Thomson Estate

Asserts Money Owing on Outlaw-Film Deal

Similar Action Against Paramount Quashed

Renewing their legal battle to collect $9400 from the estate of the late Fred C. Thomson, motion-picture producer; Jesse E. James, son of the Missouri outlaw, and his guardian and daughter, Jessie Estelle James, yesterday filed a suit for that amount against David R. Faries, executor of Thomson's will.

Plaintiffs assert they contracted to help the producer in making a motion picture of the life of Jesse James, the bandit, for an agreed compensation of $10,000. Of this amount only $600 has been paid. It is also asserted the plaintiff allowed his name to be used for advertising and exploitation purposes and that costumes and equipment of the days when gunmen were gunmen were used as models in the production.

The plaintiff, James, is admitted to be of unsound mind but "not entirely without understanding, and with a particularly perfect recollection of his father."

The complaint was filed by L. H. Phillips, W. C. Dalzell and C. R. Thompson, plaintiff's attorneys.

A similar previous suit against the Paramount-Famous Players-Lasky motion-picture corporation, and Thomson, was dismissed on motion of Attorney David Faries, who obtained a nonsuit on technical grounds.

SEEKER OF ART MODELS CONVICTED

Actor Who Posed Girls in Nude Declared Vagrant; New Trial to Be Asked

Stafford C. Campbell, actor, 1933 North Bronson street, arrested on September 29 after seven girls complained he molested them when they went to his downtown office seeking work as artist models, was found guilty of vagrancy by Municipal Judge Stafford yesterday. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

Joan Girard, 20 years of age, and Esther Maxine Pilker, 19, testified that Campbell had them disrobe and took their measurements when they sought employment. He was acting as agent for a New York sculptor, he told them, and would employ them at $55 a week if they "met requirements."

In his own defense, Campbell denied making improper advances toward the two girls. He said he was acting for a sculptor named heny, but was unable to give the latter's address in New York. Deputy Public Defender Chatterton, who represented him, gave notice that he will move for a new trial before sentence.

Entry of plea of thirteen Los Angeles business men, accused of using the mails to defraud in connection with the operations of the Finance Corporation, was continued yesterday by United States District Judge James. Argument was made by defense attorneys on demurrer, motions to quash the indictment and a demand for a bill of particulars.

The defendants are accused of mail fraud through radio broadcasting supplemented by mails. The government was given ten days to answer the defendant's argument by filing a brief.

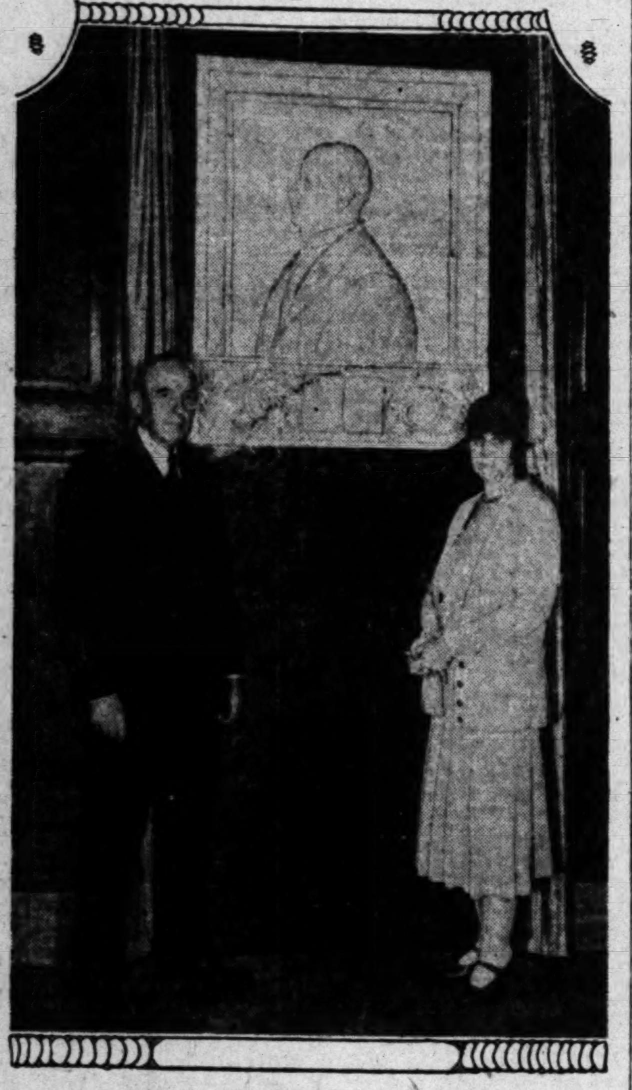
DAUGHTER HONORS HUNTINGTON

Bas-Relief in Marble Given to Library



Gift Accepted by Director of Research

Dr. Max Farrand, director of research of the Huntington Library and Art Gallery, and Mrs. Clara Huntington, daughter of the late Henry E. Huntington, whose bas-relief of her father was unevelled at the Huntington Library yesterday.

CARVED by the hands of his own daughter, a bas-relief in marble of the late Henry E. Huntington, founder of the Huntington Library and Art Gallery, was unveiled at San Marino yesterday by Mrs. Clara Huntington, the artist.

The ceremony was simple and the gift was accepted on behalf of the trustees of the library and art gallery by Dr. Max Farrand, director of research. In accepting the portrait, Dr. Farrand said:

"Many an artist has commemorated a parent through the medium of his particular art. One thinks of Rembrandt's many portraits of both his father and his mother and, in more recent times, of Whistler's famous painting and of Mestrovic's sculpture. But this is the only occasion I know in which the artist has commemorated affection and respect in enduring form and has presented the memorial to the institution founded by the father. This action is indicative of the attitude of the Huntington family toward the library and art gallery. Nothing could be finer."

Mrs. Huntington's first work was exhibited at the display of the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco and obtained honorable mention, which was second only to the scholastic award.

Success prompted her to go to Italy, where Maestro Arturo Dazzi, impressed by her talent, broke his rule of never taking pupils; she met with such success that she exhibited in Rome a marble portrait on an aged Italian which commanded attention.

In the next year, 1928, her work was admitted to the exhibit of the Architectural League in New York and in the same year at the National Sculpture Society's exhibit.

This was followed by placing of her work in the exhibit of the National Society of Women Painters and Sculptors in Brooklyn. Later she was welcomed in the exhibit of the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco.

PICTURE THEFT PLOT CHARGES DROPPED

Charges of conspiracy to steal the script of "The Dawn Patrol," a motion picture, against Joseph Marsh, Forrest J. Easley and Edith Higgins were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Ballard at the request of Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

In requesting dismissal Fitts said that the complaining witnesses do not care to prosecute and that even did they testify there is not sufficient evidence to convict the trio. They were arrested by investigators from the District Attorney's office, who declared that Miss Higgins took the script of the picture from Warner Brothers' studio and delivered it to the two men for a money consideration.

PARK SITE DEAL HITS SNAG

Royal Palms Acreage Leasing by Supervisors May Be Barred by Series of Obstacles

Owing to several outstanding difficulties it may be impossible, according to some authorities, for the county legally to lease the Royal Palms acreage at White's Point for park purposes. This was evidenced yesterday when the Board of Supervisors heard a report from County Counsel Mattoon, who had been ordered by the board to prepare a lease with Roman D. Sepulveda and others, owners of the property, heirs of the Sepulveda estate.

In his report to the Supervisors the County Counsel points out that the water supply for the acreage comes from a well between four and five miles outside the property. There is no information as to where the water line runs or whether the acreage has a clear title to it.

It also is pointed out that the property abuts on only one road, this being at the northeast corner. The only roads entering the acreage never have been dedicated as highways, it is asserted.

Then, too, according to the County Counsel's report, there are several leases on the physical property which should be properly disposed of before the county takes hold of the proposition.

After the reading of the report the matter was referred back to the County Counsel, on motion of Supervisor Quinn, for further time to see if the difficulties can be removed.

The board has until December 5, next, in which to make the lease. The rental would be $60,000 a year for the first eight years of a forty-year lease. For the remaining term of the lease the rental would be $28,000 a year.

Plane Damaged in Night Landing

An attempted night landing at Grand Central Air Terminal shortly after darkness last evening resulted in Charlie Allen, airplane pilot, dropping to the runway suddenly from a height of ten feet and damaging the open biplane he was flying.

Allen, airport attaches said, leveled off for a landing and misjudged his distance. One of the plane's wheels gave way under the strain of the bump and caused the craft to turn over on its back. The ship was reported to belong to Mrs. Florence Lowe Barnes, women's world air speed champion. Allen was not injured.

Final Tribute Paid Pioneer

Friends and relatives paid a last tribute yesterday to Mrs. Mary A. Wiles, California native and pioneer, a niece of President Johnson. Mrs. Wiles died last Wednesday following a brief illness. Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. yesterday in the E. Clair Overholtzer chapel, 1236 South Grand avenue, with Rev. C. U. Cowan officiating. Interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mrs. Wiles was born in Oroville seventy years ago. Her mother was a sister of Andrew Johnson, who became president of the United States following Lincoln's assassination in 1865. Mrs. Wiles leaves two daughters, Mrs. J. Rea Cowan, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Mabel Kutner, San Francisco.

TOO MANY NIGHTS OUT CHARGED TO HUSBAND

Six nights out each week was her husband's average, Mrs. Ethelyn Dunlap yesterday complained in winning a divorce from Scott Dunlap, clerk. She added he neglected her, quarreled with her and told her he had no love for her. They married in Riverside, May 26, 1918, and separated October 16, last. Superior Judge Guerin granted the wife custody of her daughter, Betty Mae, 11 years of age.

WHITAKER FIGHT CONTINUES

Lands Storm Center in Battle of Beverly Hills Pair's Suit and Counter-action for Divorce

Struggle for valuable real property acquired by Francis Whitaker, Beverly Hills millionaire, and his wife, Mrs. Margaret P. Whitaker, yesterday marked the semifinals of the bitter marital contest waged by the two in Superior Judge Guerin's court. Mrs. Whitaker seeks separate maintenance of $6000 a month, accusing her husband of repeated intoxication. Whitaker asks for a divorce, asserting his wife is too friendly with her cousin, Cleon Plato.

Final arguments, begun yesterday by Attorneys Roger Marchetti and William J. Barnhill for the wife, centered exclusively on the title to certain pieces of the real property. The total real property is valued at $684,853 of the Whitakers' wealth, reported as $1,772,330. These figures were submitted to the court in an audit made by A. D. MacLeod, appointed by Judge Guerin.

The auditor reported that the average yearly expenses of the Whitaker household totaled $34,080, based on the years 1928 and 1929. Of this total, the item for liquor is set down at $2593.

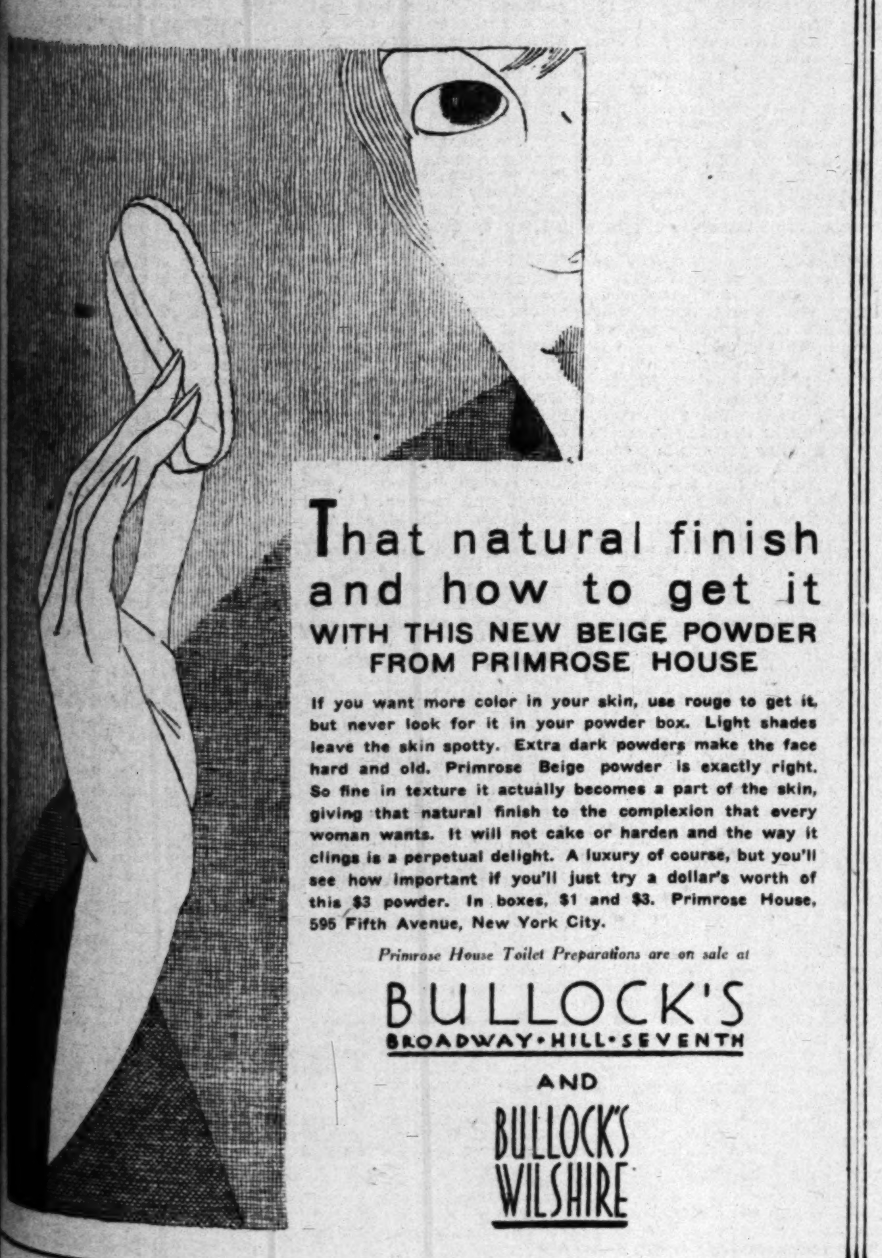
Despite sensational charges and counter-charges which were made during the earlier weeks of the hearing, Attorneys Barnhill and Marchetti avoided reference to them in argument and stressed the wife's contention of her entire title to three pieces of valuable real property and her claim to equal share in three others valued at $35,000 and held in the names of her husband and herself.

Attorneys W. I. Gilbert and George Bouchard will present argument for the husband today when the case is scheduled to go to Judge Guerin.

Sisterhood to Honor President

Members of the P.E.O. Sisterhood in Southern California will tender a luncheon to Dr. Mary Rose Prosser, national president of the organization, tomorrow noon at Masonic Hall, 623½ South Grand avenue, it was announced yesterday.

Dr. Prosser, who is president of Cottey College of Nevada, Mo., is in California as a delegate to the junior college convention just held in Oakland. She will spend two days in Southern California and will be the honored guest at the Wednesday luncheon.



That natural finish and how to get it
WITH THIS NEW BEIGE POWDER FROM PRIMROSE HOUSE

If you want more color in your skin, use rouge to get it, but never look for it in your powder box. Light shades leave the skin spotty. Extra dark powders make the face hard and old. Primrose Beige powder is exactly right. So fine in texture it actually becomes a part of the skin, giving that natural finish to the complexion that every woman wants. It will not cake or harden and the way it clings is a perpetual delight. A luxury of course, but you'll see how important if you'll just try a dollar's worth of this $3 powder. In boxes, $1 and $3. Today's Bible Text

Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that when He shall appear we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is. And every man that hath this hope in Him purifieth Himself, even as He is pure.—I John iii:2, 3.

WHY BRING THAT UP?

Certification of election returns is not pleasant reading to a lot of people.

MODERN COMPLECTIONS

"Make-up of Stars Mystifies," says headline. Where's the mystery? Any high school flapper could reveal the secret these days.

WOOING THE DOVE

If the Macnider bill to conscript wealth passes Congress and the President, it will be one of the surest moves toward peace ever made. But at that a war without profiteers would be unique.

A NEW BLESSING

Bell Telephone Laboratories announce a successful experiment with a device for making telephone conversations unintelligible until it is desired to translate them, to prevent eavesdropping. Now if that could keep the talk scrambled when certain parties call up, the jangle would be more pleasing to the ear.

RELATIVELY SPEAKING

High Chief Foto File of Tin Can Island was so pleased with the success of the solar eclipse expedition that he adopted Commander Keppler as his son. That may sound strange, but then he knows as much about the Einstein theory of relativity as the average man and the expedition was there in an effort to prove Einstein right.

HARD TO BELIEVE

With American capital establishing banks in Liberia, with local banks spending from $100,000 to $300,000 for various new buildings, with property selling at $6000 a front foot in Los Angeles and with local mercantile firms establishing shops in Palm Springs, Pasadena and Santa Barbara, it is hard to believe that everything is going to the bow-wows, financially.

DOG EAT DOG?

No doubt the woman who wore a couple of thousand dollars' worth of diamonds on her fingers felt that she was "putting on a lot of dog," but Toby, the German police dog who swallowed them, became very ill and after their recovery, by means of an operation, the canine is said to be recovering, too. Safe to say this dog will watch his diet hereafter and see that no carats mix with his calories.

AMERICAN ENGLISH

We Americans have had some pretty hard knocks administered to us by British critics of our pronunciation of the King's English, which most of us are said to murder in innumerable ways. But now comes George Arliss of London birth and historic fame who says that in many ways the English of America is a purer tongue than that spoken by the English people themselves.

The occasion of this flattering pronouncement was the presentation to Mr. Arliss by the American Academy of Arts and Letters of a gold medal voted to him in recognition of his good diction on the stage. The actor said that the difference between American and English speech was mainly in the pronunciation of certain words and that occasionally a word will be given a different meaning. "But, as a rule," he added, "it is only the difference between the English of the England of today and that of 150 years ago."

Mr. Arliss said that America has maintained in many respects the purity of the language which in the course of years has become vitiated in England. "We all know," he said, "that many old English words and phrases are now regarded in England as Americanisms." But he observes among the young of our country a decided objection to speaking well—"a feeling that there is something unhealthy in good articulation."

In the opinion of Mr. Arliss the talkies offer an unparalleled opportunity to improve the diction of the people by setting a good example. He might have said the same of radio speech, which Hamlin Garland and others have been endeavoring to improve.

POLICE GET A CHANCE

A belated acknowledgment of the mistakes made by the Police Commission during the past two years, coupled with the promise of a new policy which will put police authority and responsibility where they belong, in the hands of the Chief of Police, has been forced from the city administration by the logic of events. If the pledged reversal of policy is carried out it will be up to the personnel of the police department to function accordingly, and to prove that it can—and it can if it will—reduce crime within reasonable limits and hold it there.

Nobody expects miracles. The demoralization which two years of meddling has produced within the police department cannot be cured overnight. The long lead which the criminals have been given has to be overcome. It will take much hard work. But the men of the department are capable of hard work. Now that they are to be unhindered by snoopers and by inexpert interference, they ought to be able to produce results.

The situation could be further improved by the resignation or removal of the members of the Police Commission responsible for the demoralization, but the police officers will do well not to wait for that. They should assume that the commission's promised reformation is sincere, and that its members, like the general public, are appalled by the increase in crime that has taken place in the last few months and genuinely anxious to put a stop to it. If that is the real attitude of the commission, as it is the expressed attitude, its further activities will soon give the proof.

Nobody believes, of course, that the Los Angeles city administration has intentionally played into the hands of the gangsters. The Police Commission has been inept, silly and blundering, but it probably has learned its lesson. It has been a bitter lesson for the public as well as for the police department personnel, but if it is over it will be forgiven. It is to be hoped it will not be forgotten.

Chicago appears to be mobilizing for a real war on crime, setting an example which Los Angeles must follow, that of co-ordination of crime-suppression agencies with the active aid of the Federal government. In some ways the task is easier here than there, because, with the Los Angeles police department reorganized and functioning, there will be no necessity for a superofficial organization. In Chicago, the normal forces of law and order, so far as they are represented by the Thompson administration, are either passively obstructive or actively hostile. In addition, the Chicago metropolitan area is under so many jurisdictions that a co-ordinating agency would be necessary in any event.

The leadership in Chicago is being taken by determined business men and genuine crime experts, including August Vollmer, former Los Angeles Chief of Police and present head of the criminology department of the University of Chicago. It will be recalled that Vollmer, though hampered by political intrigue, achieved marked success here in the short space of a year in restoring efficiency to the police department.

It is probably not necessary to call in another Vollmer to help Los Angeles out of its hole; it will be enough to follow the advice which Vollmer has given during his incumbency and after—to get a good chief of police, give him real power and authority and keep him on the job. The Sheriff's office and the District Attorney's office are ready to do their part. It is up to Chief Steckel to make good and his men with him. Whether he measures up to the job can now be known, since he has been given a free hand. Some results ought to appear soon.

SPOT ZONING AGAIN

If it is true, as asserted, that the City Planning Commission first denied a permit for the establishment of a dry-cleaning plant at Council street and Westmoreland avenue, and then, without notifying the protestants, granted a rehearing and reversed itself, the City Council is furnished with a good reason not only for refusing the permit, but for demanding an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the reversal. This reason is wholly aside from the merits of the case itself, and these merits seem to be with the protestants.

The region is already zoned for business, it is true, and there is an established laundry not far distant, but in the main it is a residential area and seems most likely, if let alone, to be developed for apartment-houses and professional buildings. To zone it for even light industry is in all probability a mistake. There is no lack of other locations for dry-cleaning plants, which, with their huge tanks of gasoline and odorful processes, do not make good neighbors either for residence or business. Because industrial zoning may possibly make for somewhat quicker development is not a good reason for the rezoning. The feelings of those anxious to get money out of this property quickly may be understood, but they are not entitled to weigh in the scale with the general interests of the community. There seems no doubt that the intrusion of industry would have a depressing effect upon the surrounding property and that is not desirable. The presumption is always against a rezoning of this character.

As for the City Planning Commission, its apparent action in this case seems to call for explanation. No action ought to be taken in any sort of a contested case without fullest notice to both sides.

SHOP EARLY

"Shop Early" is not just a slogan—it is common sense. Christmas is coming and we are headed for a holiday from the blues.

In the first place those who shop early get better prices. Commodities can be had today at a great reduction. Buyers may find rates stiffening with the stiffening cold of the Christmas period.

A second reason for shopping early is that you have a better selection. The displays have not been mauled over. The finest patterns have not all been absorbed. The best is usually on the top and can be had now as cheap as the second-grade later on.

A third reason for shopping early is avoidance of the rush. You will not be hauled and jammed about by the rush and push. You will not have to scale the outside of a car for a ride home. There will be more time for the clerks to show their goods and wares. They may be better natured—and so will you. Not as many mistakes will be made in deliveries. And if packages are missent, there will be time to rectify matters. Also your own faculty of judgment will not be frazzled out.

These may be selfish reasons for shopping early; yet there are others just as commanding. Money will be put into circulation. Nothing polishes up a dollar like rubbing against another coin. Confidence will be restored and trade stimulated.

When your neighbor flourishes, it helps you. When business is brisk in one concern, there will be more ready money for your products. When a dollar gets a-going, it is hard to stop—like other things.

The times may have been out of joint; but there is nothing like Christmas to adjust dislocation. Nothing stimulates success like success.

WOMEN IN CONGRESS

When Congress convenes for the short session there will be nine women in that body, though at the last session there were eight. The increase to nine will be brought about by the election of Mrs. Effie Gene Wingo of Arkansas, whose husband, Congressman Otis Wingo, died not long ago. In accordance with his request Mrs. Wingo was nominated and elected for both the short and long terms.

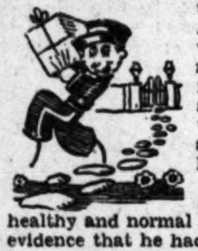
There will be but six women in Congress when the new body assembles in 1931. The reduction of the number is due to the defeat in the recent election of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick of Illinois and Mrs. Katherine Langley of Kentucky and also to the resignation of Mrs. Oldfield of Arkansas, who says her place is in the home and that she will retire after the short session.

The six women who will be in the House during the long session beginning next year are Mrs. Kahn of California, Mrs. Pratt of New York and Mrs. Rogers of Massachusetts, Republicans, and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, Mrs. Wingo of Arkansas and Mrs. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, Democrats.

One wonders with what feelings, sympathetic or otherwise, Mrs. Oldfield's departure to take her place in the home, in her opinion the proper sphere of woman, will be regarded by her Congressional sisters.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

HIS legs were not bowed, they were squared. The knees stuck out so that you could have stood a kite between the legs. And he walked with a peculiar motion, lifting his feet high and stepping only on the toes, as if afraid to let down his heels.



Otherwise, he seemed quite healthy and normal and there was no evidence that he had been misshapen by an automobile accident. So, as he was on Hollywood Boulevard, we thought he must be walking that way to attract attention. It's pretty hard for any ordinary-looking person to attract attention on Hollywood Boulevard.

"Why are you walking kite-legged?" we asked.

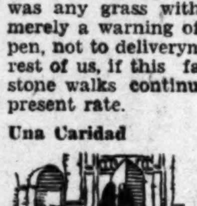
Then we were sorry, for tears sprang into his eyes.

"Mister," he said, I ain't a freak or a comedian. That's my natural walk. I've got in the habit of walking that way because I'm a deliveryman and have to deliver scores of parcels every day to classy houses where they take great care of their lawns and instead of sidewalks through them have nothing but stepping stones. You try walking up a few dozen stepping-stone paths every day, without stepping on the grass and you'll find your legs get this way, too."

Angelenos Twenty Years Hence

Veracity being the dearest virtue of the Lee-Side, we hasten to make it clear that the foregoing is fiction. In fact, it is impossible fiction, for whoever heard of a deliveryman putting a foot on a stepping stone when there was any grass within reach? It is merely a warning of what may happen, not to deliverymen, but to all the rest of us, if this fad for stepping-stone walks continues to grow at its present rate.

Una Caridad



One of the things which disgusts every American who visits in Mexico or Spain is that in front of every historic cathedral he visits are ragged children who try to look as pitiful as possible and hold out imploring hands while they beg for "una caridad," or charity. The visitor's scorn is not for the children, but for the parents who have taught them to beg.

We have just as demoralizing agencies at work here. Within the last couple of weeks a whole string of children have come to our door asking us to subscribe to certain magazines or newspapers "because my father is in the hospital, my mother is out of work and I have to help the family." One little boy about 8 years old came into our office with such a speech which no child of 8 could have thought up—a speech he parroted so that when interrupted he had to go to the beginning and start all over to get it right.

A Schedule Worth Learning

Many people who have been riding to and from Long Beach by trolley for years do not know that there are some cars running between Los Angeles and Long Beach which do not start from the Pacific Electric station. They are marked "Special" and meet all the principal trains arriving in the Southern Pacific Station. Five of these "Specials" daily leave the railway station for Long Beach and San Pedro. They are the nicest cars in service on the line to Long Beach, being upholstered more like steam railway cars than interurban cars, but they rarely carry more than half a dozen passengers. Many a man who knows he is going to miss a regularly scheduled Long Beach car by two minutes or so can catch one of these specials—we know, for we do it frequently. We discovered this service one day when we were in a great hurry to get to Long Beach and just missed the 10 o'clock car. We dashed down to San Pedro street and there caught the special which had left the Southern Pacific Station at 10 and reached there about 10:04.

Joshua Little Says

It's a lucky thing for modern dentists that we no longer operate under the old Mosaic law which demanded an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

Latin-American peoples, like some others, often seem misled by the sound of words. Whenever they run short of provisions they set up a provisional government.

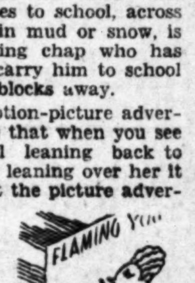
Many a marriage of "sophisticated modern young people" goes on the rocks because neither member of the partnership is an expert in child psychology.

I know an artist's model in Hollywood who doesn't dare smoke because she is posing for a series of cigarette ads and her skin must have the child-like freshness of one who has never touched the weed.

H. L. Mencken says that America would be better off with a war on its hands just now, and with a war somewhere or other all the time, and that war really is a lot of fun for the young men who engage in it. Your surmise is correct—Menckie is quite too old for the draft and wasn't in the World War, either.

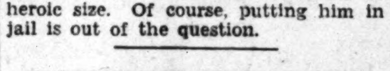
The grandson of the man who walked four miles to school, across fields often deep in mud or snow, is that delicate-looking chap who has to have a car to carry him to school from a home six blocks away.

Studying the motion-picture advertisements, I notice that when you see a picture of a girl leaning back to kiss a man who is leaning over her it is a sure sign that the picture advertised is either "a thrilling he-man drama" or "a revealing study of modern youth" or "a great historic pageant of the past" or a "gripping story of the underworld" or "a peep into high society" or a powerful picture of life in Russia, the Argentine, India or the South Sea Islands.



WHY NOT FLATTERY?

Chicago is planning to clean up its crime situation before the "Century of Progress" exposition. Why not make an appeal to the civic patriotism of Mr. "Scarface Al" Capone to call off his racketeers? Promise him a statue of heroic size. Of course, putting him in jail is out of the question.



CRITICISING THE PAST GENERATION

BY JAMES J. MONTAGUE

Our forefathers didn't have automobiles
To carry them hither and yon,
They could not glide smoothly on rubber-shod wheels
Till the warm summer evening was gone.
Unable, by murmuring rivers, to roam
In the light of the westering sun
They had nothing to do but to stick around home
And get something difficult done.
Without our temptations hard labor to shirk
They ought to have done far more work.

Our forefathers couldn't sit down of a night
And turn on the radio set,
And listen to melodies, classic or light,
The cares of the day to forget.
No marvelous waves in the ether were loose
To serve people when they were bid,
And, therefore, our forefathers had no excuse
For wasting their time as they did.
With limited chances for time-wasting fun
They should have got vastly more done.

All sorts of distractions surround us today;
Whenever we're weary and blue
And wish from the struggles we might get away
There is something diverting to do.
With "talkies" and radios always at hand
And a motor that waits at the door,
We folk of the present can well understand
Why we really can't do any more.
These things from our ancestors always were hid;
They should have done more than they did.

EUROPE'S WARNING TO AMERICA

[This is, in part, a talk by A. C. Rees of Salt Lake City, chairman of the American Plan Open Shop Conference, over KSL November 16, 1930.]

At the time of the outbreak of the World War Americans looked upon the clash between the nations of Europe in a spirit of detachment. At that time it was thought that our own country could never, and would never, be involved in the cataclysm. We even boasted openly that the fires were raging 3000 miles away.

It was with this sense of security that we refused and failed to make ample preparations to meet the emergency which came eventually without warning. We paid a terrible toll in life and treasure for this unwarranted procrastination.

So much for our foresight and statesmanship.

A sojourn in Europe today suggests a parallel to our attitude on the world conflict. Europe is today engaged in one of the most monumental experiments in social relationship ever attempted by man. Endeavors are being put forth, no doubt honestly and sincerely, to level society and to spread the butter evenly upon the bread of all people. It is a literal execution of the thought "take from him who hath and give to him who hath not."

Perhaps had not the depression and unemployment situation become universal, America would not have bestirred herself to investigate the industrial and social conditions in Europe. Just as during the World War, we should have been prone to think: "These are European affairs and are of no interest to us. We shall not be affected. We are immune."

What are some of these experiments that impress and astound the American traveler as he goes from country to country, witnessing these frantic endeavors to solve a great human problem and what are the causes that have motivated these undertakings?

In the first place, the World War has thrown everything in Europe out of gear. Time-honored, traditional methods and practices have been hurled into the discard. But Europe, being slow of movement and sluggish, accepts new things reluctantly. Americans can little realize how gingerly and unwillingly Europe responds to new stimuli.

With her industrial and economic life so fundamentally disturbed, the people have become immediately affected. Unemployment, with all its attending distress and evils, stalks through the land. This becomes a problem of government, of society and of industry.

England probably has put forth the sorriest and saddest experiment in her frantic endeavors to meet a grievous situation. We have all heard of the dole system which glorifies idleness. Hundreds of thousands of her people today are feeding at the public crib. The very life blood of industry is being sapped to sustain this terrible load, running up into the millions of dollars, and at a time when British industry is at its wits' ends in an endeavor to capture, and compete for, world trade.

Picture, if you can, a man—head of a household—who for years has never engaged in any gainful employment; who by taking advantage of the provisions of the dole act is able to escape all responsibility; who discovers that by idleness he is able to get more from the government than he could obtain through honest, continuous employment. That actually represents the British situation.

Multiply this by hundreds of thousands of cases and you have the British situation. Talk to any man in England, high or low, and mention the dole system and he gives a sigh of anguish. From the top of the government down, it is recognized that an incubus has been put upon the backs of the nation and yet probably no government official has the daring or the courage to suggest its abandonment. It is literally an "old man of the sea" fastened upon them.

Isaac Marcosson, one of the world's best-known writers on governmental and economic subjects, has made a complete investigation of the English situation. He reports that up to July 1, 1930, it has cost England approximately $3,000,000,000 to meet its problem of unemployment; that the unemployment fund now is overdrawn approximately $215,000,000; that the number receiving doles is 1,993,500; that the expenditure from the unemployment fund exceeds the income by $250,000,000 per week; that the $250,000,000 borrowing power of the unemployment insurance fund is exhausted and that the Minister of Labor has asked Parliament for another $50,000,000 loan. In a word, the dole system is bankrupting the nation and has not even begun to solve the problem.

If we may turn our eyes away from England for a moment and view Australia's tragic experience, America's caution will increase respecting an imitation of social insurance plans that may be dangled before our eyes. The Bank of England has been forced to come to the rescue of the island dominion, which has defaulted by about $160,000,000 of her obligations.

This is the result of state socialism in all its glory. It has introduced old-age pensions, unemployment insurance and poor doles and has embarked upon all kinds of public improvements to keep the people employed. The Bank of England has come to the rescue and agreed to furnish the money to pay these debts, but with the understanding that a sudden termination is to be had of these forms of state socialism. The bank itself will decide what expenditures are to be made. Thus an end to the gaudy and grandiose ideals of those who look upon the state and its treasury as legitimate prey for every conceivable activity that can wear the cloak of "social welfare."

France, on the other hand, is now attempting something novel in an endeavor to alleviate want and suffering. It is of a contributory order. Her new plan provides a substantial contribution from the government. To this is added support from the employer and employee, each of whom must donate equal amounts to the common fund. This is to provide against sickness, old age and unemployment. France recognizes that the problem of support is not one that rests solely upon the employer. It is a problem of society. But it is also a problem of the expectant beneficiary.

Italy is endeavoring strenuously to provide work for her citizens, recognizing the fact that every man should feel that he is giving value received for his wage. Prodigious efforts are being put forth to do public work so that the money taken out of the taxpayer's pockets gives him employment and returns to him. It is a case of work rather than charity.

It is a noticeable fact in Europe that the country, recognized generally as being the most retarded and where industry is the least mechanized, seems to be able to provide the most work for its people. Some of the most primitive methods are being employed in some parts of Europe in industry as well as in agriculture. The result is that many people find employment in manual labor where in other progressive countries machines are kept going and the people are jobless. That is one of the paradoxes of our present civilization and raises the question how our inventive genius is to be made a blessing and a boon to society rather than a means to destroy the opportunities for employment.

America can never go backward. We can never return to primitive methods or ways. That thought must be dismissed. Even in this day of strenuous anxiety we cannot entertain the suggestion that our machinery should be stilled or slowed down and men should go back to the pick and shovel. While that at first blush might be looked upon as the answer, it would prove merely another sad illusion.

And the history of all these socialistic, paternalistic schemes is that they are progressive in character. By this is meant the bars are gradually let down little by little so that the way to the public treasury is made easier as time proceeds. The conditions for eligibility are swept away until finally practically every applicant for this dole, under various names, is put on the public pay roll. And once there, he sticks.

And what has he done to merit this support? He contributes nothing. He has done nothing except having lived just so long. He has given no evidence of his worthiness. What else can such a plan do than corrupt society and weaken the stamina of our citizenship?

Should men in need be cared for? Most assuredly. But they, themselves, in their time of earning and productivity should be obliged to anticipate the day when they will be forced to give up employment and seek retirement.

America's answer to this whole question of social insurance should be: "Let us have an American, not a European, plan." You, yourself, must in the day of your strength and your vitality and your earning, show a disposition and a willingness to employ those qualities of citizenship that entitle you to consideration when the day of need arrives. We will not build up a citizenship of parasites."

There must be set up in this country a system of a contributory, participating kind that will not merely make it optional, but obligatory, upon all people possessing earning power to assist in creating and maintaining a fund to provide for them when evil days shall fall upon them. America's present experience points conclusively to the necessity for such a forward-looking program—one that will represent the very best thought of her self-reliance or spirit of independence—one that will build upon the sure foundation of individual thrift.

And in conclusion, this warning must be trumpeted to the four corners of our land and echoed and re-echoed in all our legislative halls "that no plan put forth to meet our social problems should be approved or adopted until it has first been exposed to the full sunlight of dispassionate investigation and declared sound, constructive and practicable.

Surely America, with its capacity to think and with its pride in its glorious institutions and in the perpetuation of a self-respecting citizenship, will protect herself, as against a pestilence, against the introduction of the deceptive, disintegrating, demoralizing experiments that are threatening our neighbors across the sea—experiments that are depleting their treasuries, destroying their industries and debauching their citizenship.

That constitutes Europe's thundering and challenging warning to America. Let us heed it now and let us dedicate our genius and our souls to the task.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

COOLING OFF

When with righteous ire we're seething, when our anger's so intense that it interferes with breathing, we are short on good horse sense. Then we feel the urge to action, we would take a club in hand and go after satisfaction that our injuries demand. Then we hand down fierce ukases, then we publish stern decrees, and we spend time making faces at our loathsome enemies. It is then we should be quiet, saying nothing, looking wise, hinting nothing of a riot in the glances from our eyes. For a time we have forsaken all the wisdom we have had, and we won't bring home the bacon taking action when we're mad. Better wait until our passion simmers down to normal heat, then go forth in sober fashion to adjust affairs with Pete. Better wait until tomorrow ere we start to raise the lid, or some day we'll think with sorrow of the foolish things we did. In our sackcloth and our ashes we'll regret our wrathful spiel, and no Morse code dots and dashes can express the shame we feel. If a fellow works you evil, if your dachshund he has shot, do not start a big upheaval while you're feeling sore and hot. Wait until the fire and fever are dispaced by common sense, then take up the trusty cleaver you may need in self-defense; then go forth to tell the reason why a man who shoots a pup should be punished for high treason, forced to drink the hemlock cup. And perhaps the ruthless slayer will convince you he was right, and you'll go home feeling gayer than you ever thought you might.

Australia's new emergency tariff measure is designed to reduce the value of imports by banning certain items except with the written consent of the Minister of Trade and by a 50 per cent tariff increase on others.

Wood Alcohol Quiz Announced

Investigation into the methods employed in dispensing wood alcohol in Los Angeles will be undertaken by the District Attorney's office as a result of seven deaths reported from this poison during the current month, according to William McKay, chief of the complaint department.

Dr. A. F. Wagner, autopsy surgeon, spent some time in conference with Daniel Beecher, chief of the District Attorney's trial department, discussing the symptoms discovered in his post mortem examinations of the poison victims.

FATHERS-SONS TO DINE

A father and son banquet will be the major attraction on the program of the First Methodist Church at Eighth and Hope streets tonight, according to Charles S. Lamb, chairman. A program of music and speaking will be given and the sons will entertain the fathers with special stunts.

MINISTERS TO REPORT ON SHULER

Association Takes Step to Have Committee State Its Stand on Radio Quiz

An attempt to discover the attitude of the Los Angeles Ministerial Association toward the broadcasting activities of Rev. R. P. Shuler, made yesterday at First Methodist Church, ended in a decision to refer the matter to the association's committee on resolutions, which will make a report at the next meeting, a month hence.

The decision to refer the matter to the committee, which will report on "the association's attitude toward the Radio Commission's activities regarding Mr. Shuler," was made following a protest on the part of Dr. W. E. Tilroe, who said that any action on the part of the association "would have a tendency to divide the brethren."

"This is not an issue of free speech but concerns the notion of one man as to what free speech means," said Dr. Tilroe. "I admire Mr. Shuler, although I do not agree with his methods. He feels he has a right to speak over the radio, but he often speaks when he has nothing to say."

A nominating committee to select ministers who probably will be elected as officers at the next meeting was nominated, the committee consisting of Revs. J. C. E. Fry, N. K. McGowand and Clyde Crist. Dr. Harold H. Griffis, now chairman of the program committee, is in line for the presidency of the association.

Announcement was made that the Los Angeles presbytery and the United Presbyterian presbytery will conduct a convention today, beginning at 9 a.m., at the Federated Presbyterian Church at Whittier.

Dr. C. F. Cheverton, president of the California Christian College, addressed the ministers on "College Students and the Church," declaring that one reason more students do not attend church today is because they feel that ministers and church teachers do not keep abreast of the times.

"In other words, the students say that their intelligence is insulted by preachers who know less than they do, and yet who presume to 'talk down to them,'" said Dr. Cheverton. "The college student wants the minister and the Sunday-school teacher to respect him and to co-operate with him in helping him to solve the practical problems of life. Young people of today may have slightly different standards from their elders in many phases of life, including morals, but they are just as moral and as religious as the youth of any past generation."

Duncan Sisters Suit Continues

Rosetta Duncan and Vivian Duncan, actresses, yesterday obtained from Superior Judge Bowron a continuation of the hearing on the $250,000 suit directed against them by G. F. Reid, theatrical agent. Neither of the Duncan sisters was in court when the case was put over until February 5, 1931, at the request of their counsel.

Reid asserts breach of contract. He sets forth that he and S. S. McClelland entered into a five-year contract with the Duncan sisters for exclusive booking of the pair in motion pictures. Reid adds that he and McClelland were to receive a commission of 10 per cent on gross earnings. He asserts on belief that the Duncans' picture earnings total $83,000.

The Duncans deny all assertions set forth.

Imitation Chestnut Stuffing

Two cups of mashed and seasoned sweet potatoes—season with 2 tablespoons of butter, 2 teaspoons of salt and a bit of pepper, add 1-3 cup of cream and beat the mixture well. Then 2 cups of soft bread crumbs, ¼ cup of clear salt pork or several strips of fried crisp bacon, 1 onion cut fine, ½ cup of celery cut fine, 1 teaspoon of minced parsley, 2 eggs, some chopped green peppers added to this give it a delightful flavor and color.

Bridge-Tea and Fashion Show

One of the most beautifully appointed and successful bridge-teas of the season was given in the Elks' Temple the 13th inst. for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the Fourth Area of the American Legion auxiliary, of which Mrs. Agnes Walker is president.

Mrs. William T. Hurst, past president of the State organization and nationally known for her efforts for World War veterans and their families, sponsored the event and was ably assisted by Mrs. Edward F. Schenck, Mrs. Charles Decker, Mrs. Buron Fitts, Mrs. Robert Patton, Mrs. R. Van Sky, Mrs. Milo Allward, Mrs. Don Claflin, Mrs. J. A. Allred, Mrs. S. Filcher and a number of others.

Peggy Hamilton directed the fashion show, appearing first in the beautiful gown she wore at President Hoover's inaugural ball. Many creations in sports, pajamas and furs were shown by Miss Hamilton and Honey-Bun Herely. The music was furnished by Glenn Edmunds and his orchestra from the Elks' Temple.

Prizes were given and a substantial sum realized for the fund, which will supply educational opportunities for children of the World War veterans.

HER WEDDING RECENT EVENT

Bride's Home to Be in San Diego

[Murillo for Western Press Service]

Mrs. Victor Pell

AT a charmingly appointed informal ceremony recently Miss Barbara Thrasher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Crowley of San Diego, became the bride of Victor Pell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pell of North Vendome avenue. The service was read by Rev. Sheldon Shepard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Purcell (the latter a sister of Mr. Pell) in the presence of the immediate families.

Mrs. Margaret Foster and Mrs. Earl Sansing were the bride's assistants, while Fred Fogelsang served as best man. The bride was charming in an ensemble of blue velvet trimmed with white fur, blouse and lace hat of eggshell tones. A shoulder corsage of camellias and lilies of the valley completed the costume. Mr. and Mrs. Pell after their return to Los Angeles from their wedding trip will remain here until January, when they will go to San Diego to make their future home.

Lavine Appeals Conviction in Extortion Case

Protesting his innocence, Morris Lavine, former newspaper man, appeared before Division One, District Court of Appeal, yesterday at a hearing on his appeal from conviction in Superior Court of attempted extortion of $75,000 from Charles Crawford.

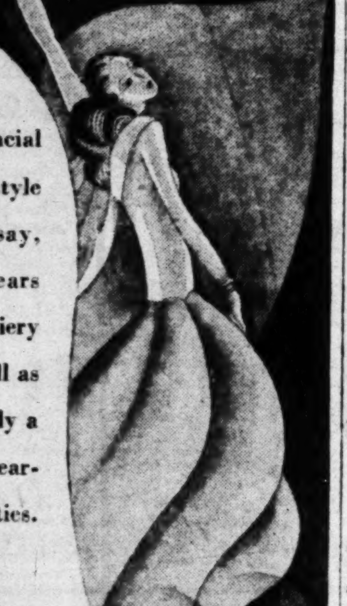
Attorney Paul Schenck, recently engaged by Lavine to head the defense staff, appeared for the defendant. Attorney William Beirne, representing Lavine's codefendant, Leontine Johnson, waived oral arguments.

The court ordered the case submitted upon the filing of briefs. The only brief filed thus far is the opening brief on behalf of Miss Johnson.

Contempt Fight Carried Higher

Jason B. Grossman, an attorney who was unsuccessful in an appeal to the District Court of Appeal from a judgment by Municipal Judge Bogue finding him guilty of contempt of court, yesterday carried his fight to the Supreme Court.

Grossman was ordered to pay a $100 fine, or serve out the fine in the County Jail for asserted contempt in the handling of a case before him.



It is a tribute to her financial judgment as well as her style judgment when they say, "You just know she wears them." For McCallum hosiery launders and wears as well as it looks ... which is really a tremendous claim for its wearing and laundering qualities.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HELP ANGRY CHILD TO CARRY OUT HIS PLAY PROJECTS

Some children are imperturbed by their frustrated or unsuccessful efforts to accomplish what they set out to do, but many bright, nervous children are irritated to the point of actual temper storms if the block house won't stand up, or if the wagon catches behind a chair and refuses to move.

Mrs. J. T. G. has the latter type of child. She says, "He has terrible temper tantrums, and gets so angry when he is playing and something goes wrong that he screams and bangs his toys on the floor. He will not play alone outdoors and won't leave my side indoors. He is 3 years of age, a willing child, helps around the house, is sensitive to others' discomfort, feeds himself well, and is fine unless something goes wrong. Then he has a temper spell. His father believes that spankings will cure everything.

"He will not sleep in the afternoon unless I lie down with him, and would cry all afternoon if I did not. If he does fall asleep, he sleeps too long and then has to go to bed later at night."

DISCARD SPANKING POLICY

Your boy is developing quickly and needs intelligent handling. You admit that the spankings did no good. Your husband wouldn't continue a method of dealing with adults, or a business policy that was proving worthless. Why hang stubbornly on to an unsuccessful policy in the home?

Sit down with the boy quietly when he can't manage his play material successfully. Don't do it for him, but show him what is wrong and next time he'll know how to help himself without you.

He is outgrowing the afternoon nap period and while he needs this rest, don't stress the idea that he absolutely must sleep. If there is no pressure and you lie down or sit down with him a few moments, he may be content to lie quietly in his bed, or to play with a toy instead of howling. No benefit whatever can be gained from a nap that is preceded by a temper storm. Neither is it desirable to have him go to bed later at night.

DO HIS TOYS SUIT?

Be certain also that his play material is suited to his age, for it may be too complex for him to handle it successfully. We have a list of toys suitable for various ages, which you may obtain by sending a self-addressd, stamped envelope with your request to the "Your Baby and Mine" department of The Times. This leaflet should be helpful for Christmas shoppers who want to avoid buying unsuitable toys.

Your own boy is at the period when conflict is certain. He feels that he is growing up, and demands more liberty, while you want him to be the model, mind-without-argument child he once was. We cannot pile bricks on a child's head to keep him from growing; we must be ready to face new periods in mental as well as physsical development, and the negativistic period is indicative of mental growth. The child needs different handling, more freedom, and more choices of behavior to avoid this temper outburst that results from your holding the disciplinary reins too tightly. Our leaflets on obedience and discipline cover this period as well as temper tantrums. A self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring these leaflets to you promptly.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

A Bedtime Story

JERRY GIVES A WARNING

Though warnings may be sadly needed,
You'll find them very seldom heeded.
Old Mother Nature.

The more Jerry Muskrat thought about the strange boy he had seen around the Smiling Pool and along the Laughing Brook, the more disturbed he became. After the boy had gone Jerry went to see what the boy had been doing. It didn't take Jerry long to discover that the stranger had been chiefly interested in such places as he and Mrs. Jerry and their children were in the habit of using as places of rest or on which to eat. This didn't make him feel any more comfortable.

Jerry went home and at the first opportunity when the children were gathered about he warned them. "Perhaps you have noticed," said he, "a strange two-legged creature around here of late."

Several of the young Muskrats admitted that they had, but said that he was harmless.

"How do you know?" demanded Jerry.

"Because," said one young Muskrat, "the other day I climbed out on a log right in front of him before I saw him sitting on the bank, and nothing happened. He didn't even try to catch me."

"He wouldn't," replied Jerry, "as long as he didn't have a terrible gun. But he may try to catch you later in a different way."

"In what different way?" asked the young Muskrat.

"In a trap," replied Jerry.

"What is a trap?" demanded all the young Muskrats together.

"It is a terrible pair of jaws that spring up and seize you by a leg and won't let you go no matter what you do," replied Jerry. "Then the two-legged creature who put the trap there comes to kill you while the trap holds you fast."

"You seem to know a lot about it," said one of the young Muskrats.

"I do," replied Jerry. He pulled his tail, that queer tail flattened on the sides, around where they could all see it. "Do you all see that little white line on my tail?" he asked.

All nodded. "That is where one of those terrible traps caught me when I was young and heedless," said he. "I managed to pull free, but I was lucky. Yes, sir, I was lucky. I have seen a Muskrat caught by a foot gnaw that foot off because he couldn't get free any other way. I have seen another twist a foot off."

The young Muskrats shuddered. "I have seen a Muskrat caught so that he could neither gnaw his foot off nor twist it off. I have seen him so held for two days and nights before the trapper came and killed him, and every minute of that time he was suffering."

Again the young Muskrats shuddered.

"These terrible traps, the most awful thing in all the Great World, spring at you from the very places that you have always found safe and where you are not looking for danger," continued Jerry. "Sometimes they are just under water. Sometimes they are hidden by dead grass or leaves. Sometimes something good to eat, something very tempting, is placed so that to reach it you will be certain to step where these terrible jaws can jump up and catch you. Beware, my children, of traps. Beware. Beware."

The young Muskrats looked at each other and some of them grinned, but took care that Jerry should not see them doing it. "He's getting old and scary," whispered one to another.

"He's living in the past. I haven't seen any of these dreadful traps he tells about," whispered a second.

"He's in his second childhood," chuckled a third.

But none of these whispers reached Jerry and he hoped his warning would not be in vain. Nevertheless, he continued to be worried.

Health and Diet ADVICE

USING WATER FOR TREATMENTS IN THE HOME

Water treatments are easy to apply, often have surprisingly beneficial results, and even when improperly given cannot do much harm. Yet, we have in the external and internal baths some of the most powerful therapeutic agencies at the command of anyone.

The first thing to do is to learn how to use water as a treatment and prescribe for yourself the best kind of water applications each day. The body should not only be kept clean inside and out, but it is also possible to use water at the proper temperature as a valuable remedy. It is a comparatively simple task to learn the fundamental principles of applying water treatments. For this reason they can be used to advantage in the home.

Everyone knows of the cleansing power of water. This is made use of externally with baths, showers and sponge baths, and internally with enemas. Everyone should know of the use of hot water for relaxing the tissues and bringing a greater amount of blood to a part and relieving pain. It is also well to know that cold water may be used for the purpose of contracting the blood vessels, toning up a part, reducing fevers, producing a circulatory reaction and relieving local irritation.

The best all-round treatment is undoubtedly the enema or internal bath. It may be used in every acute and chronic ailment and is indicated when pain is present in any part of the body. This is the quickest of all methods of getting rid of intestinal poisonings and it also removes the pressure of impacted feces from the sensitive nerves of the lower abdomen, releasing vital nerve energy which may be used elsewhere. Hot water may be used very effectively in increasing the circulation of blood to the pelvic organs. In all painful affections of the genito-urinary system or lower abdominal organs, a very effective remedy will be found to be in hot sitz baths, sitting in water as hot as can be borne for about ten minutes. In pelvic weakness this hot sitz bath is best followed by a cold sitz bath lasting two or three minutes for the toning effect.

For the relief of headache, one of the finest treatmentis is to use a twenty-minute hot bath to draw the blood away from the head into the lower extremities. For the relief of backache, a hot shower directed for about twenty minutes on the sore area will be found very effective. Hot water may also be applied in the form of hot enemas, hot douches, hot packs, poultices, etc. Hot water is effective in causing boils and carbuncles to come to a head. It is also effective in relaxing rheumatic pains. When a small part, such as a finger or toe, is struck by a blow it is often wise to apply cold in the form of an ice pack for a few minutes. This cold treatment contracts the capillaries and stops the flow of blood so that the part does not become blue and swollen. But after this effect has been produced for about twenty minutes, it is always wise to follow by the administration of warm water which is gradually brought up to as high a temperature as the body can stand without burning. This is to increase the circulation and carry away as much as possible of the dead, congested blood which would otherwise stagnate. If an injury occurs such as a break in the skin, it is a wise plan to apply heat. For instance, when a nail is run into the foot, place the foot at once in a tub of hot water and continue this treatment for at least a half-hour or longer.

TURKEY STUFFING

if you use Slo-Baked Wonder Bread

Slo-baking with super-quality ingredients makes fresh Wonder Bread ideal for better-tasting stuffing. Order it from your grocer with your other holiday foods.

By ALICE ADAMS PROCTOR

SLO-BAKED Wonder Bread has completely upset the old-fashioned idea that good turkey stuffing could be made only from stale bread!

Today many housewives have discovered that the finest stuffing they've ever served for Thanksgiving dinner is made from fresh Slo-baked Wonder Bread!

The extra-fine ingredients used in Wonder Bread and the special slo-baking process eliminate all excess moisture and give you a bread of even, delicate texture.

So when you moisten Wonder Bread crumbs as your first step in making stuffing, they fluff up lightly almost as if baking powder had been added. Quite unlike ordinary bread crumbs which become so flat and heavy.

With such a good start as this, even the amateur cook can make turkey stuffing that the most experienced housewife would be proud to call her own! All that remains is to add the proper seasoning.

I'm giving you here what I consider my best stuffing recipes, with the seasonings correctly balanced, and I know you'll have good luck with any one of them.

CLEAN-UP DRIVE GROUP IN COURT

Eleven Suspects Arraigned as "Public Enemies"

Prosecution's Request for High Bail Refused

All Plead Not Guilty and Ask for Trial by Jury

Characterized as "public enemies" by Claire Eberhard, chief trial deputy city prosecutor, eleven men arrested last week by police during the inception of what he termed a "clean-up drive," were arraigned before Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday on vagrancy charges.

Eberhard requested the court to set bail at $10,000 each for the defendants stating that "all of these men have long police records. They were arrested as the first group in a drive to rid Los Angeles of the kind of characters which Chicago terms 'public enmies.'"

HIGH BAIL PLEA FAILS

Judge Curtis refused to set the high bail requested, but ordered their release on bail of $2000 each. Later he reduced bail for two of the defendants, that of Alfred P. Kempf to $500 and that of Paul Cook, alias Earl Webb, to $1000 on the ground that their records, read in court by Eberhard, showed only a few previous arrests. A motion to reduce bail by S. S. Hahn, who represented all but two of the defendants, was denied by Judge Curtis.

All of the defendants pleaded not guilty and demanded jury trial.

TRIAL DATES SET

Four of the group, Harold J. Stansberry, alias Herman Schneider; Jack McNeil, alias Harry Westmoreland; George Patterson, alias Ben Nichols, and Ray Sealock, declared they could not make bail. Their trial was set for Friday. The remaining seven, Paul Cook, Charles Williams, alias Archie Bowen, alias Bert Lawrence; George Harron, alias George Keifer, George Scott, alias Gleason Walker; George S. Wilson, alias William Broadley; Tony Long, alias Tony Latronica, and Alfred Kempf had their cases set for trial on December 23. Hahn demanded separate trials for each.

Detective Lieutenant James, who took the men into court, asked for a bench warrant for Ernest Stocker, alias Ernest Stockton, arrested last week on suspicion of robbery, against whom vagrancy charges also were filed. Stocker was released early yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, James told the court. Judge Curtis issued the warrant and set bail on it at $2000.

OPERA FANS SEEKING USE OF THEATER

Board Considers Many Suggestions for Programs in Griffith Park

Suggestions for the use of the Griffith Park Greek Theater, which has been without an event since its dedication September 25, last, have begun to pour in on the Park Commission. Most of the programs proposed are for next year during the celebration of the festival commemorating the city's 150th anniversary, and one for programs during the 1932 Olympic Games.

Bradford Mills, general manager of the Gallo English Opera Company of New York, who is visiting at 230 South Adams street, Glendale, sent a communication asking for a conference on a plan for putting on a summer program of light opera by the company next year. He says that Fortune Gallo, his associate, would be willing to come west to confer with the board on the plan, which was recently discussed with L. E. Behymer, when the latter was being urged for manager of the outdoor theater.

Mills says that the program would give employment for the summer to 100 local musicians and singers, the company sending only its outstanding principals for the performances.

Carl Bush, secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, wrote the board concerning its plans for Hollywood and North Hollywood parks and particularly what uses are to be made of the Greek Theater.

FIVE KILLED IN TRAFFIC

Los Angeles Accidents in Ten Months 38 Per Cent Above Period Last Year and Growing

Five additional deaths yesterday swelled the total of Los Angeles traffic fatalities and casualities which, figures just released by the police department show, have broken all records to date in this area.

Two hundred and ninety-five persons were killed as a result of automobile accidents between January 1 and October 31 this year, these figures show. And 12,925 others were less severely injured, the total of injured and dead being an increase of 38 per cent over the same period last year.

The deaths and accidents in the current month, which cannot be totaled until the month is at an end, maintain if they do not raise the unprecedented level of increase, the data at hand indicate.

SUNDAY'S HIGH TOLL

Last Sunday alone 186 automobile accidents in the Los Angeles area were reported with five fatalities.

Of those killed yesterday one was Ruth Gannon, 30 years of age, of Long Beach. She and Larry Vidonne of 233 Avalon Boulevard were passengers in an automobile driven by Walter Kastell, 28, of 1010 Island avenue, which collided at Florence and Vermont avenues with a gasoline truck driven by Ray Bissell of 10021 Inglewood avenue. Miss Gannon was instantly killed. Kastell suffered a possible fracture of the skull which may cause his death, and Vidonne was less seriously hurt.

Mrs. Marietta Boyer, 54, of 9719 Regent street, West Los Angeles, a pedestrian, was killed at Venice Boulevard and Cardiff street. She was reported to have run into the side of an automobile driven by Ray Hewitt of 1122 South Citrus avenue while she was hurrying to catch a street car.

THREE OTHERS DIE

An unidentified woman stepped from the curb into Ninth street near Bixel street last night and was struck and killed instantly by an automobile driven by J. F. Owens of 3478 San Marino street, an auditor of the Community Chest. He was not held. The dead woman was about 50, had blue eyes, brown hair, weighed 130 pounds, was 5 feet 7 inches tall, and wore a blue figured dress and purple hat.

Thomas Lanagan, 49, a butcher, of 341 1-2 North Main street, pedestrian, attempted to cross at Alameda and Aliso streets. He was struck by a hit-and-run driver and died in Georgia-street Hospital. Louis Detherage, 50, of 3227 Van Buren Place, walking with Lanagan, suffered serious head injuries and is in Georgia-street Hospital.

J. R. Peters, 37, contractor, 330 West Fifty-seventh street, died in Georgia-street Hospital soon after his automobile collided at Twenty-eighth street and Griffith avenue with another driven by N. Wright of 1318 East Twenty-first street.

RICH EX-MAYOR OF PASADENA INJURED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 24.—William Thum, 68 years of age, millionaire and Mayor of this city in 1912, is in Pasadena Hospital with serious head injuries resulting from an automobile collision.

His wife's sister, Mrs. Frederick J. Custer, is in the same hospital with possible internal injuries and a broken right shoulder.

Dorothy Lawrence, 1521 East Mountain street, a neighbor, driving the car in which former Mayor Thum, his wife and sister-in-law were riding, also is in the hospital with a possible fracture of the right shoulder and other injuries.

The car in which they were riding collided at West Orange Grove and South Hill avenues with a car driven by Mrs. Fred C. Hensen, 1045 North Mar Vista avenue. She and three of her children, riding with her in the car, were treated for cuts and bruises at the Pasadena Emergency Hospital.

Tons of Food for Newsboy Feast Arrive

Housewives who are worried over the prospect of preparing Thanksgiving dinner for families of six, eight, ten or twelve may console themselves with the thought they do not have to handle the feast for Los Angeles newsboys. Provisions for this, the ninth annual banquet, to be given Thursday at the Alexandria, reached the city yesterday. They consist of a carload of turkeys, fifteen crates of celery, a truckload of ice-cream, 800 pumpkin pies, and a ton of miscellaneous "trimmings."

More than 3000 newsboys will assemble for the dinner at noon, and then sit back to enjoy a vaudeville program presented by artists from local theaters. And over it all will preside Fay Smalley, general manager of the Alexandria, who once sold papers.

The affair is sponsored each year by a group of leading sportsmen including Carlo Curtis, James Woods, Jack Doyle, James J. Jeffries, Jack Dempsey and others.

PAVING CONTRACTS AWARDED

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded contracts for the paving and improving of about a mile of West Boulevard between Sixtieth street and Florence avenue for $80,284, and for the installation of an ornamental lighting system in Western avenue between Jefferson Boulevard and Santa Barbara avenue for $38,200.

Request to Be Presented at Legislative Session

State's Last Appropriation Has Been Exhausted

An appropriation of $6,000,000 by the State for flood-control purposes in Los Angeles county over a ten-year period will be asked by the Board of Supervisors at the next session of the Legislature.

This was made known yesterday when Supervisor Quinn asked that the board request the County Counsel to draw a formal request for the appropriation.

Supervisor Quinn pointed out that the $3,000,000 fund appropriated by the State for flood-control purposes ten years ago was exhausted this year. It was given to the county at the rate of $300,000 a year, and great good was accomplished with the money. The new appropriation, if granted, will allow $600,000 a year.

Much of the appropriation for the next few years will be used for the construction of adequate spreading grounds to prevent the water of winter rains from running off to the ocean.

The State appropriation will be asked, Quinn declares, because there is not sufficient income from flood-control district taxes to construct needed projects and carry on flood-control work.

ARCTIC TRIP DISCUSSED BY WILKINS

Feasibility of Voyage Under Ice in Submarine Defended in Lecture

The feasibility of a submarine trip beneath Arctic ice across the top of the world was affirmed last night in an address in the Wilshire-Ebell Theater by Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer, who plans to nose his undersea craft toward the frigid barriers next year.

The explorer's lecture was offered under the auspices of the Jewish Institute Forum.

Sir Hubert explained that the United States Navy has donated for the venture the former service submarine O-12, and that the special equipment is to be aboard by January 1, with the craft ready to sail for Spitzbergen, the starting point, by July 1.

The craft, he said, is to be equipped with drills two feet in diameter to bore through the ice above after submersion and the drill is designed tubular in such a manner that men may pass from the submarine through the tube to the surface.

Sir Hubert said that several scientists will accompany the expedition with a view to ascertaining locations for the establishment of meteorological bases in the waste areas.

Funeral Today for Rosendale

Funeral services for Henry Rosendale, Pacific Coast representative for a New York hosiery mill, who died on the 20th inst., will be conducted today at 1 p.m. at Wee Kirk o' the Heather at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

The services will be under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. The deceased was a nephew of Samuel W. Rosendale, former Attorney-General of New York State, and a member of a well-known family in New York and Milwaukee.

GANGSTERS TO GET NO PEACE HERE

City and County Plan Joint Drive to Keep Them Under Thumb of Law

Eastern gangsters who seek to obtain a foothold in Los Angeles will be arrested and held for investigation and prosecuted whenever possible over and over again as long as they remain in the city if a tentative program outlined by police is adopted by the special city and county antigangster detail, Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced yesterday.

The announcement was made at the close of a conference between F. L. (Lefty) James and E. J. McMullin, detective-lieutenants from the police department assigned to the gangster investigation detail.

According to Lieut. James, he is seeking the co-operation of the District Attorney's office in the prosecution of gangsters whenever they are taken in custody. Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced his office will extend every resource to aid the police in their fight against gangsters in Los Angeles.

At the same time reports stating that Al Capone, Chicago gangdom figure, is hiding in Los Angeles, were denied by Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Lieut. James. Both asserted they have obtained definite information in the form of a telegram from Capone himself, indicating he is in Chicago.

CONFESSED EX-GANGSTER TO BE TAKEN EAST

Officers from Manhattan, Kan., are expected to arrive in Los Angeles within the next few days to return George F. Casey, 30 years of age, self-asserted former bodyguard for Al Capone of Chicago, to the eastern city to face an accusation of murder.

Casey was arrested in a Whittier-Boulevard restaurant last Sunday by Deputy Sheriffs Hooker and Davis, following a four-year search. According to Sheriff's office records, Casey was involved in a killing in Manhattan in 1923.

When arrested Casey stated he at one time was a bodyguard for Capone and that, had he had a gun on him, he would not have been apprehended alive, the officers reported.

AUTO DRIVER FIXES OWN LETHAL TRAP

W. P. Siems Ends Life by Piping Exhaust Fumes Into Closed Car

Seated in his big sedan overlooking the ocean, W. P. Siems, 35 years of age, secretary-treasurer of the Robert S. Shrader Automobile Finance Company of 1003½ South Figueroa street, seemed yesterday to be enjoying the view from Beverly Boulevard and Las Lomas Drive, where he had parked his car.

But investigation disclosed he had been dead long before his apparent absorption in the view aroused curiosity resulting in the calling of the police.

Siems had attached a vacuum-cleaner tube to the exhaust of his car, according to police report, brought the hose back under the car and through the floor, started his motor and closed the windows.

Santa Monica police called the fire-department inhalator squad but they failed to revive the automobile-finance official.

Siems lived at 1265 Royal Court. Relatives and business associates could offer no explanation of his suicide.

PRISONER DASHES AW FROM PINCH-HIT B

When legal means of escaping the penalty for petty theft failed John Stevens, 24 years of age, he reverted to first principles and trusted his legs.

On his way from Municipal Judge Sheldon's court, where he had been sentenced to ninety days in jail after a Superior Court appeal had been denied and his application for probation denied, Stevens, who resides at 356 East Twenty-first street, broke away from Court Clerk Harry Scott, who, in the absence of a bailiff, was conveying him and three other prisoners to the County Jail. The break occurred in front of the Hall of Justice. Stevens, according to Scott, who turned his other prisoners over to a police officer and, with a

Westwooders Will Show Offensive in Clash at Coliseum Saturday

BY FRANK ROCHE

Big Bill Spaulding's Bruins are going on a rampage next Saturday afternoon when they face the Idaho Vandals at the Coliseum. This news comes from the Bruin campus at Westwood, where it was stated that the U.C.L.A. players will throw caution to the winds and show the home town folks that they really have an offensive after all. The game means nothing in general to Coast Conference followers, but it does mean a lot to the Bruins and the Vandals. The reason for the same being that the team that loses ends up in the cellar.

CALIFORNIA WOMEN TAKE LEAD IN TEAM MATCHES

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Defeating the Los Angeles Country Club, 9½ to 2½, the California Country Club women's team definitely went into the lead for the Southern California team-match championship yesterday in a third-round match played over the Culver City course.

MRS. C. J. WOERNER

Los Angeles, the defending champion, slipped from second to fourth place, while the strong Rancho Golf Club team went into second place as a result of defeating Oakmont, 10½ to 1½. Fox Hills defeated Brentwood, 7 to 5, and moved into third place.

Total standings are now as follows: California, 29; Rancho, 26½; Fox Hills, 22½; Los Angeles, 21; Brentwood, 20; Flintridge, 19; Wilshire and Hillcrest, 17½; San Gabriel, 15; Oakmont, 10½; Lakeside, 13, and Hollywood, 5½.

Mrs. C. J. Woerner was largely responsible for Lakeside's victory over Wilshire by a score of 6½ to 5½. She was out in 43 and back in 37 for an 80, and would have scored a 35 on the incoming nine but for a 6 on the fifteenth hole. Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire, who played against Mrs. Woerner, had an 83.

Miss Bea Gottlieb and Mrs. C. Kyrle Bellew had a best ball of 78, Miss Gottlieb having a 40 going out and Mrs. Bellew a 38 coming in. Rancho is forging ahead by leaps and bounds and threatens California's lead.

Fourth-round matches will be played at the Flintridge Country Club on December 8.

Yesterday's complete results were as follows:

Lakeside, 6½; Wilshire, 5½
Rancho, 10½; Oakmont, 1½
California, 9½; Los Angeles, 2½.
Fox Hills, 7; Brentwood, 5.
Flintridge, 11; Hollywood, 1.
San Gabriel, 7½; Hillcrest, 4½

Individual results follow:

WILSHIRE, 5½; LAKESIDE, 6½.

Miss Helen Lawson and Mrs. R. C. Noble (W.) ½, Mrs. C. J. Woerner playing alone (L.) 2½. Mrs. Woerner shot an 80, with 37 on the second nine, despite 6 on short fifteenth hole.

Mrs. Paul Hill and Mrs. H. Van Dyke (W.) ½, Mrs. E. S. Browne and Mrs. W. S. Stanley (L.) 2½.

Mrs. H. P. Gates and Mrs. Edwards Loftus (W.) 1½, Mrs. H. B. Wesbrook and Mrs. Roy Kinslow (L.) 1½.

DARTMOUTH DUE TODAY FOR STANFORD CONTEST

MONTELLO (Nev.) Nov. 24.—The third day of Dartmouth's cross-country parade found the players over the Rockies and well on their way toward San Francisco, where they will arrive tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. All of the team turned out on the station platform at Ogden, Utah, for half an hour this morning and threw passes for exercise in the frosty air. Last night was very cold and it is felt that the change to warm weather so abruptly will do the team no good.

Much concern is felt over Stanford's overwhelming victory over California last Saturday. That 41-0 victory makes the Cardinals look stronger than ever to the Big Green. Most of the men are beginning to get weary after the long train ride and will be glad to get into football togs again and exercise in earnest.

HUSKY OUTFIT ARRIVES TODAY

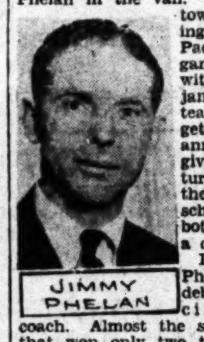
Thirty-five Players Set for Trojan Contest

Jones Drives Athletes in Final Workouts

Washington Outfit Using Irish System

BY RALPH HUSTON

Washington's football team, thirty-five strong, with Coach Jimmy Phelan in the van, gallops into town this morning aboard the Padre for its game Thursday with the Trojans. The two teams get together in the annual Thanksgiving Day feature that brings the conference schedule, for both squads, to a close.



JIMMY PHELAN

It will be Phelan's local debut as a Pacific Coast coach. Almost the same material that won only two tilts out of a ten-game schedule last year, has been brought up to a fine pitch this season by Phelan, and Howard Jones freely predicts that the Huskies will give his athletes more trouble than did either Stanford or California.

Phelan has a couple of fine tackles in Capt. Al Holmes and Schwegler, and a great back in Merle Hufford. The rest of the squad isn't up to that par, but is very, very capable, according to "Sad Sam" Barry, and "Cheerful Cliff" Herd, Trojan scouts, who have watched the visitors in action.

HELD COUGARS

In their most recent exhibition the Huskies held Washington State to a 3-0 victory, and pushed back every other Cougar scoring threat during the vicious afternoon. That contest alone should be enough to establish the fact that the Huskies are a tough and effective outfit.

Jones has been doing considerable raging around on Bovard Field in preparing for the contest. Back in harness, after his brief sick spell, Jones told his athletes that they were giving entirely too much thought to what they were going to do to Notre Dame, and not enough to what Washington might do to them.

"We don't play Notre Dame until December 6, and we have a mighty tough game here Thursday. It's about time you boys realized it, and you'd better start to work in earnest preparing for Phelan."

The visiting mentor obviously hopes to catch the Trojans unaware. If the Trojans don't get their mind on the game, they may find themselves on the short end of the score Thursday. It has happened before.

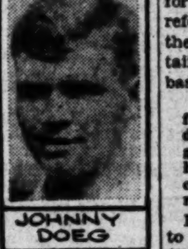
May Sutton Bundy, one-time holder of the women's national tennis championship and twice winner of the British title, has turned professional and at present is teaching the game at Santa Barbara School for Girls, she admitted yesterday when interviewed concerning rumors that she had renounced her amateur status.



JOHNNY DOEG

Mrs. Bundy, wife of a former doubles champion and aunt of Johnny Doeg, present national titleholder, deserted the ranks of the simon-pures about a month ago, she stated, because she felt an urge to impart her skill to the future generation of players. She denied that she had been actuated by the financial inducements of professionalism.

"I love tennis and I hated to give up my amateur standing," she declared when seen at her home, 1018 Ocean Front, Santa Monica, "but I feel that I have had my share of tournament competition and that in future I can do the most good by passing on my knowledge of the game to beginners. In no sense did I turn professional for the monetary returns involved.

"My sister, Florence, has been tennis instructor at Santa Barbara School for Girls for a number of years. Recently her health began to fail and about a month ago, after long deliberation, I decided to join her in her work—that her task might be somewhat lightened."

"The general manager is instructed to pay to Price, as the voluntary act of the Associated Students, and in recognition of the service Mr. Price has rendered the association, the full amount due Mr. Price in event the contract was fulfilled.

UP TO COUNCIL

"The matter of securing coaches for both basketball and football is referred to the athletic council with the suggestion that it seek to obtain the services of Mr. Price as basketball coach."

Price was appointed head football coach in 1926, upon the death of Andy Smith. He was given a three-year contract as head basketball and football coach, combined, at a salary reported to be $9000 a year.

His contract was renewed prior to the start of the 1929 season, for another three-year term. The salary called for in the latter contract was reported to be $12,000.

Price graduated from the University of California in 1914, and rose rapidly in football coaching ranks. In 1916, he was appointed head coach at San Diego High School, and his teams won both the football and baseball championships of the State.

FLYER DURING WAR

During the World War, he served as an aviator, and in 1919, was named freshman football coach at California. In 1920, he was appointed assistant to Andy Smith.

Price was named head basketball coach in 1925, succeeding Earl Wright. California's basketball teams under Price have enjoyed signal success, winning several Coast Conference championships.

Price refused to indicate whether he would remain as basketball coach. Student opinion, however, was that he would.

His assistants in handling the football squad, are employed on a year-to-year contract, and have not yet been offered renewals for next year. The contracts are nor-

GET ready for the guessing contest over the identity of California's next football coach.

Nibs Price is out and names will fly thick and fast—Rockne, Zuppke, Hanley, Wade, Madigan, Lieb and others.

You have to hand it to Price for taking his medicine like a man.

He never beefed and he never squawked. His team was beaten in four out of five conference games this year, but Price assumed all the blame for the showing.

He didn't pin it on his boys, and he didn't lay it to poor material.

He did the best he could with what he had at hand, and accepted the run of the luck with the courage of a soldier.

All through his five years as head coach at California the same situation has been true.

He has been the perfect sportsman, the ultima thule in men who know how to win and how to lose.

FOR ELEVEN YEARS

ALTHOUGH young in years Nibs Price has been a landmark at Berkeley for a good many years.

He brought the nucleus of the old "Wonder Teams" to Berkeley back in 1919 and accepted a job as assistant to the late Andy Smith.

Price coached these boys at San Diego High—boys like Brick Muller, Pesky Sprott, Cort Majors, Deeds, Englebretson and others.

When Andy Smith died following the 1925 season Nibs Price took up the reins laid down by the old master.

The "Wonder Teams" had decayed, and the 1925 eleven was beaten by Washington and Stanford, the first conference defeats suffered by the Bears in six years.

Price stepped into a bad situation, but worked hard and gradually

"Stretching" Ability of Backs Gave Notre Dame Victory Over Purple, Says Zupp

SCHWARTZ HERO WITH RUNNING

Extra Burst of Speed Is Deciding Factor

Indiana's Victory Rates as Leading Upset

Yale Failed to Function Against Passes

BY BOB ZUPPKE
Football Coach, University of Illinois

BOB ZUPPKE

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) Nov. 24. (NANA)—The ability of the Notre Dame backs to stretch their gains was the deciding factor in the close game which the Irish won from Northwestern.

When we say that a back can stretch his gains we mean that he is not an ordinary back who will probably go down the first time he encounters a tackler. Instead he keeps his feet, squirms, and twists, straight-arms tacklers and above all is fast. If your secondary defense nods one moment, it is good-by to the ball game.

Such a back was Schwartz in the last quarter at Evanston when he cut in between tackle and end, eluded the Northwestern secondary and traveled 27 yards for the score that decided the battle. His teammates took off the Northwestern safety man. Players will extend themselves to block when they know they have a back like this behind them.

BETTER MATERIAL

Northwestern's backs were good, notably Russell, but they were slower and less agile and depended upon strength rather than speed. This is because they are built that way, not that Coach Hanley prefers "strength" and Coach Rockne "speed." All coaches desire speed first of all, but that depends upon their material.

It was the first time Northwestern had met a team wtih fast reacting backs. Northwestern's aerial attack, even with Rentner, the best thrower, on the bench, was expected to threaten the Irish but Rockne's secondary was impervious and Northwestern did not complete a pass. Even with Rentner in the game I do not think Northwestern could have gone very far with passes.

I expected Notre Dame to win because I thought the Irish had the better personnel and better backs, but I did give Northwestern a good chance and here I was one of the few. In fact, there were those who expected the Irish to make it a runaway, only second in proportion to the routs of Penn and Pitt. Notre Dame did have the greater average speed and their backs turned the tide but Northwestern had a splendid chance to win.

The statistics showed the remarkable evenness of the struggle. But all in all, Notre Dame deserved its triumph.

Chicago held Michigan to a closer score than expected but the Wolverines won handily enough and are tied with Northwestern for the Big Ten championship, an honor to which they are justly entitled. Of course, nobody in authority at Northwestern was responsible for the suggestion that Michigan should gallantly resign the championship to Northwestern. Both teams defeated Ohio State, Illinois and Minnesota. Michigan also beat Purdue and Chicago. Northwestern won from Wisconsin and Indiana. Michigan has a dogged, rugged line and it is by no means certain that Northwestern would win from them.

REAL UPSET

For Indiana to beat Purdue was a real upset. In my opinion you can only call a result an upset when nobody gives the underdog team the slightest chance. Certainly nobody was brash enough to hint at the bare possibility of Indiana winning. We should all take off our hats to those scrapping Hoosiers and their coach, Pat Page.

On the 1st inst., when Purdue ran over Illinois, the Boiler Makers probably were one of the best teams in the country, but their season was over then. They had lost to Michigan by one point and had one conference game to play, Indiana, which had been knocked all over the lot. This put Coach Kizer in a bad hole. It is hard for a coach to make his players take a lowly opponent seriously when he can't do it himself. I've been in the same box myself.

Lusby's passing and strong defense by the Wisconsin line won from Minnesota, which was as expected. The bad break for Coach Thistlethwaite this season was an overwhelming victory over a Penn team which turned out to be quite ordinary. This inflated Wisconsin hopes and the Badger material was over-rated. Oen of the toughest burdens of a coach at Wisconsin is absurd criticism by outsiders.

Illinois fumbles early in the game gave Ohio State a lead which we could not quite overcome, although the Illinoisans outplayed the Buckeyes after the start. Sam Willaman is entitled to a lot of praise for bringing Ohio State along after losing two important games. This meant hard coaching. Fesler is a fine player, one of the best.

On an average I believe Big Ten football was on a lower scale this year than has been the case for several years. For instance, Minnesota and Illinois were far below their usual standard. The percentage ranking shows the following line-up, which is about correct:

First, Northwestern and Michigan; second, Purdue; third, Wisconsin and Ohio State; fourth, Indiana and Minnesota; fifth, Illinois; sixth, Chicago.

Indiana and Minnesota each played one game less than Illinois. Iowa played only one conference game.

YALE UNABLE TO BREAK UP PASSES

By W. W. (Bill) Roper
Retiring Football Coach, Princeton University

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 24. (NANA)—The uncertainties of modern football were never better illustrated than yesterday.

Who could have anticipated that Harvard would defeat Yale, 13-0, New Hampshire beat Brown, 7-0, or Villanova defeat Georgetown, 13-0?

On comparative scores the losers in each case looked the stronger but comparative scores count for little in present-day football. Take the Harvard-Yale game. Strange as it may sound, the lateral pass won the game for Harvard and yet the Crimson tried only one lateral to the short side for a gain of three or four yards.

My statement that the lateral pass won the game for Harvard needs some explanation. For the last three years Harvard has been the leading exponent of the lateral pass. Yale knows this, so the Yale defense was built against the lateral.

The Yale wing backs played wide and fairly close to the line, where they were in splendid position to stop the expected lateral attack, but not in such a good position to protect against a deep forward pass. Harvard very cleverly faked a lateral. This fake kept the Yale backs in position, and then Wood passed deep down field.

Harvard had three men ready to receive Wood's accurate passes and of course it was impossible for the Yale safety man to take care of so many. The Crimson's deep passing game was an exact counterpart of the Michigan style of play. Michigan has won more games than any team in the country on a low forward pass down field. In fact, a play of this kind won for Michigan against Harvard a few weeks ago.

BEST PASSING

Wood's passing and Harvard's receiving of forward passes was the best I have seen this fall.

Brown lost to New Hampshire, 7-0. McLaughrey, the Brown coach, started his second team with an eye on the Colgate game next Thursday, New Hampshire marched 80 yards for a touchdown and with the stimulus of a score held off Brown's attack. Nothing heartens the under dog like an unexpected touchdown early in the game.

Fordham closed a splendid season with a victory over Bucknell. New York U. had little difficulty defeating Rutgers. The New Yorkers' forward-passing attack was very baffling.

Carnegie Tech won from Temple by a much larger score than anticipated. Carnegie has a powerful team but the men haven't been able to get together this fall. They clicked Saturday for the first time.

Fire Laddies Seek Contest With Broncos

E. O. Barnett, Fire Department football official, announced yesterday that the hook-and-ladder boys were in the market for a charity game next month at the Coliseum and that Santa Clara University is preferred as an opponent. Barnett and Bill Blewett, coach of the Fire Department team, framed a writ yesterday which will be sent to Clipper Smith this morning. "We want to prove to Los Angeles just how good a football team the Fire Department has this year," Barnett said in making the announcement.

OGLETHORPE, MERCER PROVIDE EXCITEMENT

BY DAN E. McGUGIN
Football Coach, Vanderbilt University

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Nov. 24. (NANA)—The most colorful game in the South Saturday was between Oglethorpe and Mercer, both S. I. A. A. teams.

We have been told that Jody Matt, Mercer halfback, has more drive than any halfback seen in the South this year and that Bob Smith, Mercer's 19-year-old, 210-pound center is one of the South's great linemen.

Two to nothing, the margin of Mercer's victory, gave the spectators the thrill of the only score of this kind in an important game this season.

In the game between Vanderbilt and Auburn, Vanderbilt showed improvement and Auburn is slowly but surely advancing. She was entitled to a little closer score than 27-0 and with a little more experience will soon be up among the best teams in the South.

There were a few conference games, South Carolina gaining a very satisfactory victory over North Carolina State. Most of the leading teams were idle in preparation for Thanksgiving, when the following games will be played:

Kentucky-Tennessee; Louisiana-Tulane; Mississippi-Mississippi A. & M.; North Carolina-Virginia; V. P. I.-V. M. I.; Duke-Washington and Lee; Auburn-South Carolina; Florida-Georgia Tech.

But the greatest contest will be in Birmingham between Alabama and Georgia, two of the strongest teams in the country. There are probably not more than six or eight teams anywhere in America as good as these two.

DEMPSEY TO REFEREE PASADENA BATTLES

Morrie Cohan has an all-star fight card in which Jack Dempsey is to act as referee Friday night at Pasadena. The main event promises to be a real fight. Judy Zuniga will hook up with Alfredo Imperial. In the semi-wind-up Young Ralph will take on Pedro Adobo at 124 pounds. The four preliminaries include Henry Gaitten vs. Jim Burrows at 160 pounds; Roy Pollock vs. Manuel Divila at 160 pounds, Bob Douglas vs. Joe Skube at 145 pounds and Connie Haynes vs. Dutch Hardt at 145 pounds.

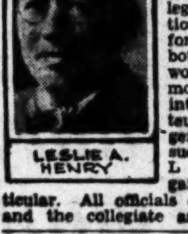
OLYMPICS ASSURED AID

A.A.U. and National Collegiate Body Will Work to Make Games Success Here

L. A. Henry, district president of the A.A.U. and chairman of athletics at the Los Angeles A. C., returned yesterday from Washington, D. C., where he represented Southern California at the forty-second annual convention of the National Amateur Athletic Union.



LESLIE A. HENRY

Henry reported a splendid feeling of co-operation between amateur governing bodies in regard to the 1932 Olympiad, to be held in Los Angeles. Past differences between the A.A.U. and the National Collegiate Association have been forgotten and both bodies will work in harmony for the interest of amateur athletics in general and the success of the Los Angeles games in particular. All officials of the A.A.U. and the collegiate association expect the Olympiad in Los Angeles to be the greatest of history, stated Henry.

The local delegate did not arrange for any outstanding national championship events to Southern California for 1931 as all local interest will be directed toward the success of the Tenth Olympiad.

Henry announced last night that the all-star Southern California water polo team may be sent to Europe on a barnstorming trip next summer. This team, which looks like the strongest polo team ever organized in the country, is holding regular workouts at the L.A.A.C. The trip to Europe would create international interest in the Tenth Olympiad and would give the Los Angeles team stronger competition than is to be found in the United States, according to Henry.

LOWRY'S RABBIT PUNCHES

improved matters until he reached the peak with his 1928 team, which tied both Southern California and Stanford and played the New Year's Day game against Georgia Tech.

Things were going well last year until the Stanford game. Southern California had been beaten 15 to 7, but Stanford won easily, 21 to 6.

SINCE LAST YEAR

THAT "Big Game" defeat, when California counted confidently on victory, started the spark of dissatisfaction which has been flaring all year on the Berkeley campus.

Price beat the second guessers to it by resigning before the dissension broke out again, and to give university authorities free rein to do as they please in the matter.

There wasn't really much else Price could do. He was philosopher enough to know that if you can't produce "Big Game" victories at least once in five years you're skating on thin ice.

And that four conference defeats in five starts this year is something you can't laugh off even to your friends.

"I guess this is the last time," said Price to Pop Warner as they shook hands following last Saturday's game.

It was.

Nibs Price, sportsman, had passed as head football coach at California.

FREEDOM OF PRESS GIVEN RECOGNITION

BERKELEY, Nov. 24. (AP)—Freedom of the collegiate press was recognized by the executive committee of the University of California today when it reinstated Arthur Arlett as editor of the Daily Californian.

The committee had removed Arlett last Wednesday night for his editorials demanding an investigation of the California football situation and intimating professionalism in the University of Southern California's football squad, which swamped the Bears, 74 to 0.

His reinstatement followed an agreement between editors of the Californian and executive committee leaders that a legend be carried at the top of the editorial column stating the editorials expressed the opinions of the editor, not the student government.

The action reinstates Arlett for the two remaining weeks of his term and makes unnecessary a special election demanded by 2000-odd students who objected to the committee's action.

William Calkins, who temporarily filled the editor's chair, had followed in the footsteps of Arlett and today again demanded an investigation of California's football situation.

"The publication of the legend shall not operate to absolve the editor from liability to dismissal by the executive committee for the publication of any matter contrary to the interests of the university or of the Associated Students," a resolution adopted by the committee in executive session said.

Explaining the reinstatement, the executive committee said:

"This action was deemed advisable by the executive committee in behalf of the best interests of the university. It represents a concession on the part of the committee and the Californian. The committee felt a rapid settlement of a student problem which threatened to become a serious university problem, was imperative.

"In making this step, the committee in no way expresses agreement with the editorial policy in question. The vote of censure against Arlett is not removed. The action was made with the belief it would strengthen student government rather than weaken it by continued dissension.

"It is hoped the question is definitely closed."

WARNER CALLS PRICE UNFORTUNATE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 24. (AP)—Coach "Pop" Warner of Stanford's football team, when told tonight of the resignation of Coach Nibs Price of California, said Price was "unfortunate" at taking over the coaching position when football there was on the downgrade.

Warner said he always thought "Price was a very good coach and a very good sport." He asserted the late Andy Smith, builder of California's "Wonder Teams," could have done no better than Price under the circumstances.

Warner expressed regret at the resignation.

MRS. BUNDY NOW PROFESSIONAL

Bundy, therefore, has been accompanying her sister twice weekly to Santa Barbara and there teaching tennis to the students of the exclusive school for girls. In addition, she has been giving lessons to a limited number of pupils at her own courts in Santa Monica. These, located at 504 Marguerita avenue, are regarded as among the finest in the country. They were built under the supervision of her husband, Thomas C. Bundy, who held the national doubles championship jointly with Maurice McLoughlin for several years a quarter-century ago, and who since his retirement has become a prominent Los Angeles real estate developer.

The number of her pupils, Mrs. Bundy explained, must be limited because she has family responsibilities to think of, as well as her engagements to teach. The Bundys have four children, Thomas, Jr., Nathan, Billie, and Dorothy.

As May Sutton, one of three famous tennis sisters, Mrs. Bundy won the national singles championship in 1905. The following year she won the British title in the Wimbledon tournament and achieved the same honor again in 1907. For years, both before and after her title years, she was among the leaders in national competition. During her reign her sisters, too, were dangerous contenders in the ranks of women players, Florence having been runner-up for the national championship in 1905.

JOHNNY DOEG PRAISED

The third Sutton sister played as Violet Sutton and is now known as Mrs. Hope Doeg, mother of Johnny Doeg, youthful present men's champion and protege of William T. Tilden. Mrs. Doeg teaches tennis at the Marlborough School for Girls, Los Angeles. She is assisted by a daughter, Doris.

When the interview with Mrs. Bundy turned yesterday to her nephew, she stated she has never witnessed a more masterly service than that exhibited by young Doeg. The speed of his play, too, she said, is astounding. But she declined to assume any share of credit for the present champion's skill, which she insisted is of a hereditary origin.

"Johnny was born a tennis player," she said.

Although Mrs. Bundy never ran up a long list of national championships, this was not due to lack of ability, but rather to lack of competition. In her prime she found so little competition in this country that she went east only once, preferring to play in California and making two trips to England.

Mrs. Bundy won the national championship in singles and doubles in 1904 and the same year was victorious over England's perennial champion, Mrs. Lambert-Chambers at Wimbledon, being acclaimed as undisputed champion of the world at the age of 16. Her feat of returning to Wimbledon in 1929, on the twenty-fifth anniversary of her first win, and going through to the semifinals is without parallel in tennis history.

ALL OUTSTANDING STARS

The four Sutton sisters, Violet Sutton Doeg, Florence Sutton, Ethel Sutton Bruce and May Sutton Bundy, were all outstanding tennis stars, and between them won practically every tournament in which they entered in the decade from 1900 to 1910. All are now professionals as are Eric and Doris Doeg, two children of Violet Sutton.

Among the more famous children of the Sutton sisters are John Hope Doeg, national champion for 1930; Violet Doeg, who won several junior tournaments a year ago; May Doeg, outstanding young star of the Pacific Coast, who won the Coast championship for girls under 16 last year, while she was only 13 years of age; Billy Doeg, Pacific Southwest junior champion for 1930; Nathan Bundy, winner of several interscholastic tournaments last year, and Dorothy Bundy, 14-year-old star, who is her cousin May's chief rival as the outstanding player under 15 years of age, on the Coast.

DIEGEL TAKES OREGON TITLE

the regular seventy-two holes Sunday.

Sarazen was never out in front in spite of his par golf. His short game and his putting seemed not up to his usual form.

Diegel went into the lead with a birdie on the first hole. Sarazen three-putted and lost his chance for a half. On the second hole Sarazen sank a twenty-foot putt and evened the match.

The next four holes were negotiated in par by both men. At the fifth Diegel's second shot went into the rough, but a remarkable recovery enabled him to halve it with Sarazen in par 5. They halved the sixth.

Diegel again took the lead on the seventh when Sarazen needed three putts to sink the ball. Sarazen, however, lay his ball dead to the pin on the 145-yard eighth and halved the hole. Sarazen missed his approach shot going to the ninth and it cost him five. Diegel got his par 4 and was leading by one stroke at the turn.

Diegel's deadly approaches and steady putts gave him birdies, on the tenth and twelfth holes, and when they teed off for the fourteenth, Sarazen was trailing by three strokes. They halved the eleventh and thirteenth.

The fourteenth was the only one where Diegel slipped over par. He missed a five-foot putt to lose to Sarazen's par 4. Diegel regained his lead on the fifteenth by dropping a seven-foot putt for a birdie three.

The final three holes were halved. Sarazen was unable to reduce Diegel's lead.

Diegel's 69 for the eighteen holes was equaled only twice in the entire tournament. Craig Wood, New Jersey, shot 69 the first day of the tournament and Frank Walsh, Chicago, repeated the feat the second day.

"Dutch" Wilcox, veteran end, won't play Thursday. He is being given a lengthy rest so that he will be in good shape for the Notre Dame game. The rest of the squad is in good trim, and all of the regulars will start.

Except for a few minor variations, Phelan uses the Rockne system almost intact, and the game will give the Trojans a great chance to get acquainted with the stuff that they will encounter December 6.

SCHOLASTIC TOURNEY FRIDAY AT FULLERTON

With one of the largest entries ever received for the tournament, play will begin Friday in the annual Southern California midwinter scholastic tennis championships on the battery of twelve courts at Fullerton High School with competition being held in both boys' and girls' singles. T. H. Lodge, tennis coach at Fullerton High, will be in charge of the event. He states that finals will be played Saturday afternoon.

JEFFERSON, LINCOLN ELECT GRID CAPTAINS

Following their usual custom of choosing an honorary captain after the football season is over, Lincoln High and Jefferson High held elections yesterday. Santo Garbo, Lincoln's star plunging fullback, was picked by his team-mates as 1930 captain, and Laury Oliver, Jefferson's flashy halfback was chosen Democrat leader. Both athletes are in their senior year and hope to continue their football at local institutions.

FRIEDMAN WINS OVER DANIELS IN RING GO

BOSTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Al Friedman, Boston heavyweight, outslugged Dick Daniels of Minneapolis for a close decision here tonight in the Argonne A.A.'s ten-round feature bout. Daniels put his conqueror down for nine in the first round, but the Boston boy banged out victory by maintaining a heavy body barrage in the remaining rounds. Friedman weighed 188½; Daniels, 188.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24. (AP)—Buck McTierman, Pittsburgh, handed Sergt. Sammy Baker, New York, a bad beating in ten rounds here tonight. McTierman took all but one round—the ninth—and floored for nine counts in the third and tenth rounds.

GEORGE GETS VERY ROUGH

Dangerous Don, Bone Bender of Note, Uses Up a Lot of Energy in Final Workout for Bout

Don George was rougher than usual in his final workout yesterday in preparation for his finish mat battle with Dan Koloff at the Olympic tomorrow night.

The young star also displayed enough of the speed and sensational mat work that he used against Champion Gus Sonnenberg here last month to indicate that he intends to make his match with the Balkan mat lion very rough and very fast, from the start.

George beat Koloff in a one-fall match here about seven months ago by opening up against the powerful veteran with a whirlwind attack that took the Balkan completely off his feet. Koloff was unable to apply one effective grip during the entire match. George is confident he will score his second win over the giant tomorrow night.

That Koloff is in much better condition than he was on his last trip to the Coast, was shown in a workout yesterday at the Main-street gym. He comes to the Coast for revenge after two months of hard training in a Wisconsin training camp, followed by an intensive mat campaign in the East and Middle West.

The Balkan freely predicts he will beat George with but three holds — the headlocks, flying mares and body slams. He declares that after he had gone over George with these holds for about a half-hour, the young mat star will be ready to be carried out of the ring on a stretcher.

There seems to be little doubt but that the match will be one of the roughest seen here this year. Koloff is a mauling, punishing grappler, who has been sidestepped by many of the first-raters in the East. During the past few moths he has taken several topnotchers in the gym who refused to meet him in regularly scheduled matches. Two of them have been Marin Plestina and Jack Sherry. He crushed them both.

One of Koloff's ambitions on this trip to the Coast is to force Ed (Strangler) Lewis to meet him in a finish bout. He declares the former champion has always sidestepped matches with him. He does not expect much opposition from George. He declares the young grappler caught him out of condition and completely off guard in their first battle here.

Lewis will tangle with Henri De Glane, world's Greco-Roman mat king, in the special event of this card. The Frenchman hopes to beat Lewis by using only Greco-Roman holds on the former champion.

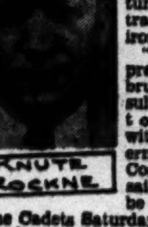
Steve Strelich will clash with Les Grimes, claimant to the light-heavyweight mat title of Australia, in the opener.

ROCKNE NOT EXCITED

Proximity of Army Contest Fails to Alarm Boss of Newest "South Bend Simoon"

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Convinced at last he has another exceptional football team, Knute Rockne today refused to get much excited over Notre Dame's seventeenth annual football argument with the undefeated Army eleven at Soldier Field Saturday.

He gave his regulars a day off for rest, took the day off himself for a visit with Chicago friends and for about the first time in many seasons he failed to sing the blues as a training overture for the traditional gridiron duel.



KNUTE ROCKNE

"The boys are pretty badly bruised as a result of that tough game with Northwestern Saturday," Coach Rockne said, "but we'll be ready to take on the Cadets Saturday. We should win that game, although don't think I haven't the profoundest regard for the Army. They always give us a sixty-minute fight.

"It may be necessary to employ a lot of second-string men for the Army game, because we've got another tough one for the following Saturday against Southern California. Most of my regulars played almost the entire game against Northwestern and it is too much to expect that, even from a great football team, you know."

Chicago already is excited about the battle. There was a scurrying about for tickets and they were so scarce a record football crowd of 125,000 was almost assured. Wagers were not heavy, however, as all the money was reported by betting brokers to be on Notre Dame, with few takers, even at odds of 5 to 1.

Despite the battering received in the Northwestern game, all the Notre Dame regulars were expected to be ready for action Saturday. Marty Brill, pivotal point in the Rambler blocking system, had a sore side and a lame hip; Fullback Larry Mullins came back with multiple hurts and bruises; Bert Metzger, Rockne's 154-pound watch-charm guard who starred in the Northwestern game, also had a bruised side.

The fullback problem was expected to be Rockne's main study this week in preparation for the Army as well as the Southern California games. Mullins, who replaced "Jumping Joe" Savoldi at that position, may be supplanted by Dan Hanley in an effort to give the line attack more power and to speed up the running and blocking plays.

BENNY BASS WINS MASSEY RING GO

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24. (AP)—Benny Bass, junior lightweight champion, won the decision over Lew Massey, fellow-Philadelphian, in a bruising ten-round main-event bout at the arena tonight. The title was not at stake, Bass weighing in at 129½ and Massey 130½.

Bud Taylor to Quit Ring Soon

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Bud Taylor, who is at Stillman's gym finishing training for his fight with Fidel La Barba on Friday night at the Garden, today declared he intends to retire from the ring in six more months.

"Don't think I'm quitting because I feel that I'm washed up," said Taylor. "I've had ten years of the business. It has been tough at times but I made good money and I intend to retire, but I'd like to whip La Barba, Chocolate and Battalino before I quit."

La Barba will finish off his training at the Pioneer gym on Wednesday.

Army and Notre Dame

MAJOR RALPH SASSE and his coaching staff refuse to accept the general verdict that the Army team is to be a mat for Notre Dame to walk upon. They realize well enough that they beat Harvard by only a touchdown, were tied by Yale and were none too hot against Illinois.

But a year ago they tied Harvard, lost to Illinois and Yale and then had Notre Dame hanging on most of the afternoon until Elder intercepted a pass thrown for an Army touchdown. In that game Army outplayed Notre Dame two-thirds of the afternoon.

So Maj. Sasse figures that if Army could more than hold its own against a line that had Cannon, Law, Nash and Twomey—against a backfield that had Carideo, Savoldi, Brill, Schwartz and Elder—there is no particular reason in getting too pessimistic for this next meeting. Notre Dame hasn't faced a better line than the Army will show from end to end and in Kilday, Stecker, Bowman and others the Army's backfield strength should be high class.

The Army can and will play itself out for this game where Notre Dame must think of Southern California, many of whose partisans are predicting a score of 30 or 40 points against Rockne's team.

There are no super men in football or anywhere else and Notre Dame has just finished a battering contest against a strong team in Northwestern. The Army is in the right spot between Northwestern and Southern California to make its best showing. It has a quarterback in Bowman who can match Carideo and it has one of the best lines football has known this season. Price is one of the star tackles of his time, a 220-pound hustler who knows his business. It might be remembered that only a fine line, exceptional spirit and a fast deceptive attack can beat Notre Dame, for this South Bend team never beats itself.

The Pro Game

Those who happened to see the New York Giants upset the Green Bay Packers at the Polo Grounds saw more good football, on both sides, than they saw in any one game this year. The game was not only a thriller, but it was played with far greater skill than any of the college teams can show, which is only natural. The type of plays selected and the execution of these plays was almost as far above the average college standard as big-league baseball is above college baseball.

The game was played with a dash and a spirit that had 40,000 or more fans roaring most of the afternoon. The blocking, the running and the tackling was all hard and clean and the passing was far above anything one sees in a college game. This also is only natural with Benny Friedman one of the passers. Friedman is a greatly improved player, over his Michigan days. He is a much better ball carrier, a better all-around performer.

Badgro of the Giants, a Southern California product, was far beyond any end I have seen this season. He was a human whirlwind, on top of every job that came his way. Cagle in this game was just a halfback, although a good one.

Fordham and Colgate

If Fordham and Colgate had remained away from western entanglements both would have known unbeaten and untied standings up to date. Colgate fumbled away two or three touchdowns inside of Michigan State's 5-yard line and Fordham found St. Mary's loaded with too many reserves. Both were unbeaten in the East and so their standing in the eastern sector is around the top. They run second to no others. Dartmouth will have to beat Stanford and Army trim Notre Dame to revise this ranking.

The New Gold Ball

Recent tests made by leading professionals show a difference of yards for an average drive. This difference will be wiped out with the wind and it will be greater against the wind.

There is this consolation for the average golfer. He will be able to get the new ball into the air more easily and he will have fewer flubbed shots, and this should more than make up for the 4 or 5 yards he loses when both new and old balls are hit correctly and properly. If the new ball works out according to theory and limited tests it should help the game of the average golfer and add a stroke or two to the stars.

There is this also to be said for the new ball. It may provide larger and better alibis, which are beginning to be badly needed.

GAELS INVITE TROJANS NORTH

ties yesterday as to the next step. All officials are desirous of avoiding any conflict with the Tournament of Roses game on January 1. Relations between Southern California and Tournament of Roses officials are to the mutual satisfaction of both parties at this time. In addition, the Trojans do not wish to do anything to offend Washington State for the Cougars and Southern California have always enjoyed friendly relations.

Few people realize the amount of pressure which was brought to bear upon the Trojans in regard to this charity game. Practically every philanthropic organization in the city desired Southern California's football team as a medium for making them money. Demands, or requests, were made by some of the biggest men in the city and the Trojans, in a laudable effort to help out, finally gave their consent to a game for the benefit of the unemployed.

Tulane has been mentioned as a possible opponent. There is no doubt but what Tulane would be a fine drawing card. This team has lost only one game in two years, that to Northwestern, and in this encounter Tulane made more downs than the winners.

But supposing Georgia defeats Alabama Thursday. Then Tulane will be a more attractive team for the Turnament of Roses than either Georgia or Alabama. Thus the Trojans do not feel justified in going ahead with any plans which lead to the South until after Thanksgiving Day.

Utah, undefeated in the Rocky Mountain Conference for three years, was also mentioned by Trojan officials, but it is said that St. Mary's has that team virtually sewed up for the San Francisco game.

One of the Texas teams is a possibility as is Gus Henderson's undefeated Tulsa (Okla.) organization.

But none of these teams carry the appeal of either Tulane or Georgia or Alabama. And the Trojans, if they go into Dixieland for an opponent, will lay themselves open to criticism, whether it is justified or not. Therefore their efforts to get the best possible opponent may embarrass some of their best friends.

As regards bringing a southern team here, it is unlikely, even if the Trojans desire to do so, that a Dixie eleven can secure consent for the trip. It takes a unanimous vote of the twenty-six members of the Conference and that's a lot of votes. Tulane has been bombarding Alabama for a charity game in the South, but this was to be played December 6. The Conference has a rule that no team is to play after December 6.

If anybody knows of a good football team which wants to play here December 20, now is the time to speak up.

SWEEPSTAKES CARDED IN HONOR OF THOMAS

In honor of Ray Thomas, president of the Bel-Air Country Club, who recently returned from Europe, his club members will stage a special sweepstakes event Saturday. The golfing matches will be followed by a dinner which will be tendered to the Bel-Air president. Joe Novak announced the event last night. Mr. Thomas, while touring Europe, stopped long enough in Paris to shoot a hole in one.

BRUINS PROMISE OFFENSIVE GAME

its fourth straight game when they were beaten by Montana last week. The Bruins took their fourth thumping of the conference season on Friday evening last when the Oregon Staters romped to a 19-to-0 victory.

In the Oregon State game the Bruins showed a fine defense. They looked like a million against the Beaver running plays, especially the tackles and guards. The only way the Beavers could gain was around the ends and then the secondary defense stopped them time after time almost cold. But on offense the Bruins just did not seem to have "it."

Norman Duncan proved himself quite a ball player in the game against the Beavers and if he shows anything like it in the Idaho game the U.C.L.A. team is liable to end up in front. If Spaulding can alternate a running and passing attack from the start his team should click against Idaho all the scouts declare.

Leo Calland, head coach of the Idaho team, is a former Trojan hero. He has had one of his trusted operatives in Otto Anderson here for some time scouting the Bruins. The Vandals should have a very good line on what Spaulding has uncovered to date.

Football followers in these parts will remember very well that the Bruins upset Montana last year by 14 to 0. It was one of the big surprises of the season. The Bruins have an even better team than last year's and the writer can't see why they should not be able to pull some such stunt again. The answer to that is probably Idaho football players.

Idaho is scheduled to arrive here Friday morning from Moscow. Calland will bring thirty-two players for the game. Among the leading backfield lights on the Vandal squad is June Hanford, a former Manual Arts sprint star and grid player.

Steve Cunningham, general manager at the Bruin institution, believes the game will attract a real turnout. A good football game with two evenly matched teams is worth all kinds of high-power affairs which turn into landslides, Mr. Stephen W. Cunningham points out. And there is something in that as the optician said when he looked for the cinder in the engineer's eye.

POETS, REDLANDS MEET THURSDAY

border city eleven, smarting under two trouncings from loop teams, is out for blood. The odds are close and either team looks like a possible winner.

Whittier fans will be pulling for San Diego to down the traveling Beavers while the home team sets about to beat the Bulldogs. A licking administered to Caltech will put it out of the running and hand the banner to the Quakers on a percentage basis. The long end of the score against Redlands will make the Poets' fourth conference win. An early season trouncing at the hands of Occidental prevents the Whittier team from boasting a spotless record.

Two pairs of ends give Newman's line great versatility. Bonner and Lewis, both light and fast, are used for best results offensively where they are very efficient at snagging passes. The other brace, Grunsky and Duncan, is the heavier and extremely useful when the Quakers are forced to defensive playing.

Select Sites for Play-off Grid Battles

Sites for the two Southern California prep football games listed for Saturday afternoon were announced yesterday by Seth Van Patten, director of athletes, for the C.I.F. The Redondo-Covina game will be played on the Seahawk gridiron and will get under way at 2 o'clock. The Orange-Whittier battle will be staged on the Whittier College field and will start at 2:15.

Officials for both contests were also announced. Lee Dempsey, Jim Reinhard, Harry Anderson and Walter Wescott will work the Redondo-Covina game; while Syril Tipton, Bill Haney, Gerald Ayers and Bill Lopez will take care of the Whittier-Orange fracas.

Yacht Trophy Donated by George Brock

Donation of a beautiful perpetual trophy to be competed for by eight-meter boats in the annual national midwinter regatta, was announced yesterday by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the yachting event.

The trophy has been donated by George Brock, well-known local yachting enthusiast, and will be known as the George Brock trophy. The deed is similar to that of the Don Lee and Ben Mayer trophies, in that it is a perpetual challenge cup, and must be raced for in local waters.

The regatta, which is to be staged off Los Angeles Harbor February 21-25, is the fifth of its kind. Yachts from all over the world are expected to participate, as many craft from foreign waters have sailed here in past years.

The eight-meter boats usually compete for the King of Spain trophy in the midwinter event, but last year the cup was captured by an eastern entrant, and the trophy must be defended in the waters of the club winning the cup.

Ten different classes of boats are to compete during the five days of the regatta, and thirty-two races will be sailed. Arrangements are in charge of L. C. Dunbar, president of the Civic Regatta Association of Southern California.

Palm Springs Aquatic Meet Next Sunday

A host of the Southland swimming stars, among whom are numbered several national and world's champions, will take part in the swimming carnival next Sunday afternoon at the El Mirador Hotel, Palm Springs. Fred Cady, coach of the famous Los Angeles Athletic Club team, the outfit that won the national championship at Long Beach last summer, will take his leading stars to the desert meet.

Clyde Swenson of Hollywood also premises to have his team in the carnival. Swenson recently announced that Maiola Kalili, the Hawaiian swimming flash, had joined his club. Kalili is expected to make his Southland bow, the first since he won the national championships last summer at Long Beach, in the meet Sunday.

Georgia Coleman, Mickey Riley, Harold (Dutch) Smith and Johnny Riley, Cady's famous diving team, will help entertain during the afternoon.

The meet is one of the most unique affairs in swimming history. It is staged in the heart of the desert where water is the first thing you look for and the last thing to be found.

Plan Southland Harrier Gallop

CLAREMONT, Nov. 24. — Plans are being made for the annual Southern California Conference cross-country meet which is to be held here December 6. Freshman and varsity teams from a majority of the colleges in the conference will enter the tourney, Graduate Manager Glen Turner said.

The Pomona Sagehens, champions of the circuit, are doped to put up a stiff fight to retain their crown. The Hens defeated U.C.L.A. last week in their final practice meet, and they are in good condition. Bill Cunliffe, John Morrison, Bill White, Ollie Brogdon, John Fukushima and Sheldon Smith are outstanding men.

Four teams have already registered for the tourney, Pomona, Occidental, Caltech and San Diego. Others are expected to enter. The event will begin at 9:30 a.m. to allow the runners a chance to attend the U.S.C.-Notre Dame game in the afternoon. The freshmen will run three miles and the varsity entrants, four miles.

HAIL McCOY AS GREAT POTENTIAL RING KING

Stafford McCoy, colored youngster who meets Joe Guerrero in one of the six-round feature bouts at the Main-street Athletic Club, is being picked by many critics to prove an even greater fighter than Baby Joe Gans or Jack Thompson. The boy has had but fifteen bouts and has scored eight knockouts. His toughest opponent was Leo Domingo, over whom he took a clean-cut decision.

Joe Pimenthal meets Louis Ramos in the other half of the double-main event.

SAGEHENS TURN IN GRID SUITS

Pomona Through for Season; Frosh Play Sophomores

CLAREMONT, Nov. 24.—Football suits were turned in today by most of the Pomona College varsity, which smashed out a 7-0 victory over Occidental Saturday to successfully end what threatened to be a dismal 1930 season. Defeat of the Tigers atones for the losses suffered by the Sagehens to other Southern California Conference rivals.

The annual freshman-sophomore game here tomorrow afternoon will end playing activities for the season. A football banquet, when the student body bids farewell to the seniors on the team, is scheduled for December 2.

Six of the eleven men who played throughout Saturday's contest say farewell to collegiate football. They are Capt. Al Putnam, quarterback; Don Murdy, fullback; Bob Baynham, halfback, three-year letter men, and Stew Hagestad, end; Curt Inman, tackle, and Nip Walker, guard, two-year veterans. In addition George Stancer, reserve halfback and letter man, and "Shorty" Ingram, another substitute back, are seniors.

Several strong men will return for duty next season, including George Warmer and Steve Wykoff, ends; Vic Hansen, Brad Datson and Bob Hickcox, tackles; Jack Witherspoon and Bob Heartt, guards; Tom Berry and Pete Somfeld, centers; Les Perry and Herb Langdon, quarterbacks; Hal Hager, Jack Rimmel, Bob Tscharner and Dean Pollard, halfbacks; "Thirsty" Jordon, fullback. Wykoff, Hansen, Witherspoon, Berry and Hager played the Oxy game. Not a substitute was used in this tussle.

The Pomona freshmen, winners of the mythical first-year title, are doped to give their sophomore rivals a close battle in tomorrow's game, although odds still favor the second-year men. Co-captain Rodi, Gleek, Plumb and Carr all scored for the Sagechicks in their 27-0 victory over the Occidental Babes in Saturday's preliminary tilt.

Parker Wins Tennis Set-to

Four matches were played yesterday afternoon in the first annual Beverly Hills Tennis Club open junior tennis tournament, which is being held this week on the club courts, with the finals scheduled for Thanksgiving morning.

Frank Parker, national boys' doubles champion and a semi-finalist in the singles, who is seeded third in his event, trounced Randolph Forbes in two straight sets, 6-0, 6-0, in the the only boys' singles 15-years-and-under match held.

In the girls' division, Peggy Henry, seeded fourth, played well to eliminate Natalie Derby in straight sets, 7-5, 6-2. Two encounters in the girls' singles 18-years-and-under were played. Ruby Bishop, third in the seeded list, completing her match with Bette Robins, and winning, 6-0, 6-3. In another match, Miss Bishop also defeated Roberta Wynne, 6-3, 6-0. This afternoon's schedule follows: 3:45—Billy Doeg vs. John Law, Howard McDavitt vs. John Booge, Leonard Patterson vs. Dan Clark.

BRUIN STUDENTS PREP FOR CLASS GRID TILT

With the approaching close of intercollegiate football competition, amateur pigskinners among the upper classmen at U.C.L.A. are shaking the mothballs out of grid uniforms in preparation for the annual junior-senior game. Although a definite date has not yet been set for the game, it probably will be held the week of December 8 to 12.

"Infinite Shoeblack" Unique in Plot Evolvement

Stage Piece by MacOwen Study of Idealism

Murray Rinnell Does Fine Character Portrayal

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

A penetrating thought—at least—"The Infinite Shoeblack" divulges!

This is the second play offered for the Civic Repertory Theater season. It is by the English actor and writer, Norman MacOwan, and offers in leading roles Olive Meehan and Murray Kinnell. It is being given at the Hollywood Music Box.

Sans the brilliance of a George Bernard Shaw (and one could hardly anticipate that) "The Infinite Bootblack" is efficaciously a contrast in the work of the organization which is presenting it. A vivid event, too, in so far as the interpretation of Mr. Kinnell in what may be inferentially called the title role. One might even say a shining event were not the word "shoeblack" so imminent.

However, the MacOwan play has really naught to do with footwear. The title and the theme of the play are inspired, instead, by a quotation from Thomas Carlyle's classic "Sartor Resartus," which reads as follows:

"Man's unhappiness, as I construe, comes from his greatness! It is because there is an Infinite in him, which, with all his cunning, he cannot quite bury under the Finite. Will the whole Finance Ministers and upholsterers and confectioners of modern Europe undertake a joint stock company to make one shoeblack happy? They cannot accomplish it, above an hour or two; for the shoeblack also has a soul quite other than his stomach."

Out of this idea has been woven a curious overcast study of two lives that ends on the minor note of tragedy. A man's sacrifice in the beginning of the play, his dogged devotion to an ideal, his enforcing of that ideal upon a woman, leads to the final pathetic culmination. Where you expect the conventional outcome of a regeneration there is only a stark specter of destruction.

The man is a Puritan; the woman is fatefully a courtesan. He shelters her first during an illness, and learning that the only way she may recover health is through a prolonged rest in the south of Europe, he accepts money to fail in an examination that means his future. The sacrifice only serves to make the ideal of the woman persist. He believes her to be inherently spiritual, and so firm is he in the allegiance to this view of her, that during war time when he meets her again he literally forces her to accept his own personal conviction. She marries, bears him a child, but a curiously exotic type she cannot seemingly be transplanted into his homely environment. She might rebel, but she has learned of his sacrifice for her, and so she stays on, though it means her death.

Gloomy and hopeless, in a sense, is the philosophy of the play, and, therefore, scarcely a joy for the entertainment seeker. However, the interest in the working out of the idea is amazingly consistent. It would be even more so did the writer not occasionally mar it by a too-great stress on certain scenes. There is rare beauty in the play, but here and there a lack of facility.

For all that, "The Infinite Shoeblack" is a unique and poignant impression, and the character of the Scotsman, who is its central figure, is forcefully and convincingly drawn. In the respect to this presentation of a type the play is unquestionably splendid.

Natives Plan Party for Star

The group of dancers and singers in "The Bird of Flame" company at the Belasco Theater are planning an elaborate Saturday night party for Dorothy Burgess, the star, and Bramwell Fletcher and Robert Frazer, the two featured players.

Miss Burgess has become a favorite with the natives. The star is reported to have studied with the players from the tropics for several weeks before the opening of "The Bird of Flame."

There will be no Thanksgiving Day matinee at the Belasco. Instead there will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday afternoon performance.

Hopton Finds Place in Films

Russell Hopton, formerly of the stage, is now finding a place in the talkies.

Hopton played leading roles in several Belasco-Curran Productions here and was last seen on the stage in "The Last Mile." He made his screen debut in the featured role of Capt. Vargas, in "Call of the Flesh," for M.-G.-M.

Immediately following his first screen role, Hopton played parts in four pictures, all of which are now being edited for future release. He will soon be seen in "College Lovers" for First National, "Min and Bill" and "Remote Control" for M.-G.-M., and in "The Criminal Code," for Columbia.

Pantages Books "Virtuous Sin"

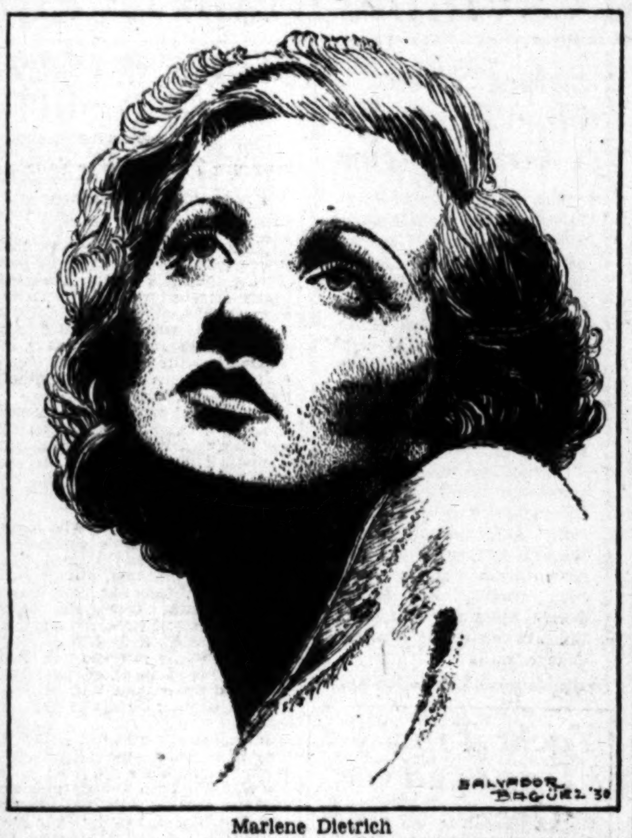
"The Virtuous Sin" has been selected as the new screen feature to start at Pantages Hollywood Theater Thursday. Kay Francis, Walter Huston and Kenneth MacKenna are seen in the leading roles in the picture, which was adapted from Lajos Zilhy's play, "The General."

"Society Circus" is the title of the new stage presentation which will share the program honors. The orchestra will be guided through a new musical offering by Slim Martin.

LOWE VACATIONS

Edmund Lowe is enjoying a short vacation at his ranch near San Francisco following the completion of his latest picture, "Shepperd-New Foundland," for Fox.

Desert Sands Conjure New Star



Marlene Dietrich

Creates a new character against the background of Algiers in "Morocco," which begins its local showing tonight as the feature of a gala premiere at the Chinese Theater.

AYRES STARS IN NEW FILM

"Doorway to Hell," starring Lew Ayres, comes to both Warner Brothers Hollywood and Downtown theaters Friday.

This is the third picture to have a dual first run showing in Los Angeles and the first real starring vehicle for young Ayres, the boy who scored in "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "Common Clay."

"Doorway to Hell" is the story of big business, and of a young, baby-faced killer who rules his gunmen with a hand of iron and makes a million dollars doing it. Lew Ayres as Louis Recarno, the boy who organizes crime and puts it on a paying basis, is said to give even a more outstanding performance than he did in "All Quiet."

Others in the cast include Dorothy Mathews, Robert Elliott and James Cagney.

The picture is taken from Roland Brown's story, "Handful of Clouds." Brown acted as technical director. Archie Mayo directed.

GIFTED STAR WILL APPEAR IN "GHOSTS"

Mrs. Patrick Campbell Slated for Vine Street Monday Night

Monday night has been chosen for the presentation of Mrs. Patrick Campbell, celebrated English actress, in Ibsen's "Ghosts" at the Vine Street Theater, according to an announcement. The engagement will be for one week only.

MRS PATRICK CAMPBELL

The Ibsen drama is being brought here from San Francisco, where Mrs. Campbell was accorded an enthusiastic reception by bay district theatergoers. The engagement of Mrs. Campbell, recognized as one of the most gifted stars of the speaking stage, in what is held the master work of the Norwegian dramatist, is expected to prove an outstanding event on the local theatrical calendar.

The British actress has an international reputation as an authority on histrionics and diction. Mrs. Campbell will portray the role of Mrs. Alving in the play, supported by a competent cast. Other plays in which Mrs. Campbell has been well received include "Magda," "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "The Joy of Living" and "Pygmalion."

Mojica Plays Chief Role in Spanish Film

José Mojica, a figure in the realm of grand opera and a son of Mexico, will make his bow at the International California Theater for the week beginning Friday in a Spanish picture entitled "El Precio de un Beso." This is said to be a romantic tale of adventure amidst colorful scenic backgrounds, affording the young star fine opportunities to display his talents as a singer and actor.

With him in the production are many other Spanish-speaking players, headed by Mona Maris and Antonio Moreno.

Another feature on the program is Roberto Turnbull's scenic feature made in the territory surrounding Mexico City and entitled "Los Ninos Printôres Mexicanos." It will show for the first time young Mexican artists studying in their outdoor studio, which brings them close to nature, and enables them to give the best of their talents to the canvases.

Guy Maier and Lee Pattison Play Tonight

Bidding farewell to the public which has come to know them as the Heavenly Twins of the Piano, Guy Maier and Lee Pattison will appear in concert at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight. The two pianists will go separate ways following the present tour.

For sixteen years they have developed the art of two-piano playing, not only the technique which makes it impossible to tell their playing apart, but also a large repertoire of two-piano music.

Among the numbers that the noted duo will offer tonight are a Bach air with variations by Goldberg; the coronation scene from the opera "Boris Godounoff;" Saint Saens' "Animal Carnival" and "Turkey in the Straw" Medley.

LOWE PLAYS DUAL ROLE IN PICTURE

Joan Bennett Cofeatured in "Scotland Yard," Next Loew's State Feature

"Scotland Yard," new Fox picture with Edmund Lowe and Joan Bennett featured, is announced as the new Loew's State Theater attraction starting Thursday.

In the production, which deals with the efforts of a criminal to regain his lost place in society, Lowe plays his first dual role in talking pictures, portraying the parts of both a polished gentleman banker and a gangster.

Barbara Leonard, Donald Crisp, Lumsden Hare, David Torrence and George Renevant make up the supporting cast of the picture, which William K. Howard directed.

William Haines's comedy, "Remote Control," is the current attraction.

Former Star to Enact Role in 'The Bad Man'

Lottie Williams, whose theatrical career covers everything from the Pilgrimage Play to vaudeville, has been engaged by Henry Duffy for a role in support of Leo Carrillo in "The Bad Man," which starts Sunday matinee, at the Hollywood Playhouse. Miss Williams is to play the role of a ranch-house cook in this comedy of Mexico.

LEO CARRILLO

For over ten years the actress starred on Broadway and since coming to Hollywood has appeared in several local productions, including parts with Edward Everett Horton in "Her Cardboard Lover," "Single Man" and "Dover Road;" in the Pilgrimage Play, and has also made her mark in talking pictures.

Gay Seabrook plays the ingenue lead in "The Bad Man," while others in support of Carrillo are Charlotte Treadway, Gale Gordon, Phillip Morris, George Leffingwell, Frank Perry, Pedro Galvez and Wong Ling.

Two Comedians Cofeatured in Universal Film

Cofeaturing Slim Summerville and Harry Langdon, "See America Thirst," the comedy take-off on gangsters and their "rackets," will open Thursday at the R.-K.-O. Theater. Closing tomorrow is "The Silver Horde."

The comics of "See America Thirst" portray two tramps, Slim and Wally. They find themselves inadvertently embroiled in the hostilities between two gangs.

ACTRESS BUSY

As soon as her part in "Millie" is completed, Helen Twelvetrees will return to Pathe to star in a picture which has been especially written for her by Joseph Santley.

FILM TELLS CAREER OF JENNY LIND

Grace Moore Will Portray Swedish Nightingale on Criterion Screen

When Jenny Lind came to America, P. T. Barnum, renowned showman, paid her $1000 a performance. It was this sum that made the name of the singer an American household word and established her as one of the highest-paid artists of her day.

Thursday, when "Jenny Lind" has its premiere at the Criterion Theater, Grace Moore, beautiful opera star, re-enacts the famous scene of the Swedish Nightingale's debut at Castle Garden, Barnum's New York amusement auditorium. Miss Moore is seen in the name role, and Wallace Beery portrays Barnum.

Jenny Lind's advent into New York was the sensation of its day. Her golden voice had electrified Europe and for more than a year through the medium of her own talents and Barnum's showmanship, she was this country's greatest favorite.

All the highlights of her notable career and the sad, sweet tale of her blighted romance are said to be faithfully depicted in "Jenny Lind." The production introduces Grace Moore, internationally known for her golden voice, to the cinema fans of the nation. Reginald Denny is seen opposite Miss Moore in the role of Brandt, the composer-lover.

"JAYWALKER" ACTED BY EFFICIENT CAST

Drama by Olga Printzlau Finds Favor With Audience at Herman Play Shop

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Bereft of the sophisticate embroideries which are wont to accompany the prevailing modernists, "The Jaywalker," by Olga Printzlau, now showing at Ralph Herman's Play Shop, deals with middle-class problems in a human and direct manner, despite the fact that obvious props in the way of theatrical hokum are liberally utilized.

A vehicle of the gay ninety vintage, "The Jaywalker" teems with sacrificial spirit and a certain homely melodramatic quality. The author does not play lazily with her stage technique. In fact, she wields it rather lavishly at times, and if it is a trifle passe, it serves its purpose and the audience is vastly pleased.

However, one needs be tolerant with artistic form, and the background of Miss Printzlau's play is satisfying and sturdily American in spirit. Indeed, she has analyzed these simple creatures with sure instinct. There is the daughter who in some vague manner seeks escape from sordid surroundings. Her craving to identify herself with a richer, and to her more vital, scheme of life is natural enough, and her passionate resentment of the environment into which she has been born are inherent qualities in this type of girl. There is the stanch little mother with her frail body and indomitable spirit, which never fails those weaker ones about her—the faithful lover who can justify all things in the girl he loves, and the brother earnest and ambitious to marry, whose domestic dream is curtailed by the selfish sister. There is also the boy's sweetheart who lives next door, but somehow never appears materially, but whose presence is sensed through the organ strains which now and again are heard. For the sake of conviction and if only to satisfy the curiosity of the audience, the girl should have appeared.

Charles Maurice deserves special mention for cleverly manipulated direction. As the gallant little mother Lydia Knott gave a spirited and sympathetically limned portrayal. As the recalcitrant daughter Charlotte Young became at once petulant and temperamental, and at times wistfully charming. Charles Bruins acquitted himself with a convincing characterization. As the gentle-hearted sergeant Carl Myer was a charming young Irishman. Dorothy Walbert and Minna Ferry were delightful as the two gossips. Katherine Kavanaugh, Haydon Pythian and Frank Kohler completed the well-balanced cast.

Marie Dressler Bests Beery in Film Encounter

Marie Dressler plays her first "fighting role" of the screen in "Min and Bill," the current feature attraction at the Carthay Circle Theater.

She and Wallace Beery put on a knock-down and drag-out battle when she catches the redoubtable Beery making love to Marjorie Rambeau. Beery comes out a decided loser in the encounter, it is said.

Reservations indicate that many local showgoers plan to visit "Min and Bill" Thanksgiving Day, according to the theater management. Since its opening, the picture has played to packed houses at each performance and will probably break preceding box-office records of the Circle, it is reported.

"Tom Sawyer" to Commence Run Thursday

Mark Twain's immortal story, "Tom Sawyer," commences Thursday at the Paramount Theater.

Jackie Coogan, Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin are the three featured actors. Coogan plays the role of Tom, Mitzi has the part of Becky Thatcher, and Junior Durkin portrays Huckleberry Finn.

John Cromwell directed "Tom Sawyer." According to the Paramount management the film will warm the hearts of young and old.

With the opening of the feature, another stage show direct from New York will be offered. It is called "Oh Baby Follies."

The current picture, "Sea Legs," stars Jack Oakie.

"The Heir to the Hoorah" is being postponed for the present, or else will be given to another star, quite possibly to Victor MacLaglen.

Arthur Lubin Writes

From Arthur Lubin in New York comes word that this actor, who used to delight Los Angeles audiences, has given himself over to the theatrical production end entirely.

Paul Muni, he writes, has had a great success in "This One Man," and the popularity of the play is increasing all the time.

"Needless for me to tell you," writes Lubin, "that this production has meant much to me, and am now looking forward to doing many other plays under my sole management."

Wallis Gets Stories

Hal Wallis, First National executive, who recently returned from Europe, reports that while over on the other side he purchased two stories and two plays, the names of which are not yet ready for announcement.

He said that while he was in Berlin, the first Warner German talker, "Those Who Dance," was previewed, and that it was very much liked by all who saw it.

R.-K.-O. Signs Playwright

William LeBaron let it be known yesterday that R.-K.-O. has signed Benn W. Levy, well-known British playwright, to a long-term contract to write for the above-named organization.

He arrived in Hollywood Sunday and has already gone to work on an original.

HUSTON SLATED FOR UNIVERSAL ROLE

WALTER HUSTON

It is known that Universal is seeking Walter Huston to play the title role in the film version of W. R. Burnett's "Saint Johnson."

To the end that Universal may secure Huston's services, following other pictures he is starring in, the making of "Saint Johnson" is being postponed.

Edward Laemmle will direct the picture when it is made. In the meantime, we learned yesterday from Carl Laemmle, Jr., that Edward Laemmle will direct "The Up-and-Up," from the New York stage play, in which Mary Nolan will star as her first vehicle since returning from her vacation.

Pathe Starts One Soon

A story by Walter De Leon, not yet titled, is shortly to go into production at the Pathe studios, we learned yesterday.

EDDIE QUILLAN

Eddie Quillan, Edward Everett Horton and Helen Wright are to be co-featured in the production, which is, of course, to be a comedy.

Russell Mack will handle the direction of the new production for Pathe. Horton and Quillan are both popular comedians of the screen.

Balloon Story on Shelf

That the picture companies are not going in these days for the tremendous and costly productions which used to adorn the screen is becoming more and more evident.

Several spectacular stories have been shelved, among them the untitled story surrounding a dirigible balloon which was to have been one of the big Warner productions of the current year.

Crespo's Long-Distance Talk

Up to this moment, Jose Crespo is, I belive, the champ long-distance interviewee.

JOSE CRESPO

On the occasion last Tuesday night of the opening of his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Olympic," in its Spanish version, in Buenos Aires, Crespo was called on long distance by the newspaper, La Razon and interviewed for the space of twenty minutes concerning himself and, of course, regarding Hollywood and the talking pictures.

SHY PLANE-CHASING PUP TO BE AIRPORT'S MASCOT

For nine months Safety First sideslipped out of range of pilots and airport officials at Los Angeles Municipal Airport.

Yesterday one of the pilots succeeded in petting Safety First and today the flyers are going to draw numbers for the chance to give her the first airplane ride of her canine career.

Ever since Safety First made her appearance at the field she refused to be tamed. Her main object in life, evidently, was to chase airplanes and this she has done to her heart's content.

She would play tag with the pilots as long as they were in their planes, diving at her as she streaked across the runways or zooming over her as she chased other ships coming in to land.

Food and whispered kindnesses had no effect until Woodruff De Silva, assistant airport director, caught Safety First in an off moment and she immediately made up with all concerned.

Where she lived, where she ate, or where she came from, no one at the port knows.

But from now on she will eat at the restaurant and sleep in a hangar—maybe in the soft seat of a cabin plane—for she has been officially adopted as the port's mascot.

The Picture That Gangland DARED Hollywood to Make!

TO THE PUBLIC: There are occasions when we feel that words are entirely inadequate to express our opinion of a motion picture.

In announcing the opening of "The Doorway to Hell," simultaneously at Warner Bros. Downtown and Warner Bros. Hollywood Theatres next Friday, November 28th, we cannot find words of sufficient import to convey the tremendous power and drama of this great story of organized crime.

"The Doorway to Hell" is now playing to absolute capacity in its Fourth Week at the Strand Theatre in New York. It is playing to standing room only in other cities of America. This picture is the sensation of the year. It reveals the inner working of Gangland as they were never revealed before, with dramatic punch following dramatic punch, and it is truly "The Picture That Gangland Dared Hollywood to Make." Lew Ayres, star of "All Quiet on the Western Front," has a role that will make screen history. He portrays a baby-faced killer, czar of the beer barons, whose fire-spitting guns bring terror to the hearts of rival racketeers.

"The Doorway to Hell" will take you for a ride of thrills. It is titanic in its portrayal of lives and loves of those in clover today and on the spot tomorrow.

We give you our sincere guarantee that you have never witnessed such a picture—such a vital, sweeping, and timely indictment of organized crime.

It opens at both Warner Bros. Downtown and Warner Bros. Hollywood Theatres on this Friday, and it will be the greatest sensation in Los Angeles motion picture history since the inception of Vitaphone.

MUNICIPAL JOB FUNDS DISCUSSED

Mayor Porter and Aides Form Committee to Carry on Plan for Relief

Another meeting of the Municipal Unemployment Relief Committee was conducted yesterday morning in Mayor Porter's office and general discussion was held. Mayor Porter presided, with Rev. Martin Luther Thomas, chief investigator for the City Prosecutor, assisting. An executive committee composed of Mayor Porter, Mr. Thomas, Fire Chief Scott, Chief Engineer Van Norman of the Bureau of Waterworks and Supply and City Health Officer Parrish was formed.

The majority of the city department heads attended. The money for the fund is to be raised by taxing each city employee 1 per cent of his salary for four months. It is estimated this levy will bring in between $250,000 and $300,000. The money is to be expended by the Social Service Department and the City Controller, and will go to public works, not charity.

Department heads were instructed to sound out their employees as to their willingness to contribute. Some departments already have responded favorably.

Deputy Police Chief Finlinson said the police department can put 160 partly incapacitated men at school crossings. Chief Scott said he can place several hundred at building firebreaks, the City Council having appropriated $25,000 for that work yesterday morning.
